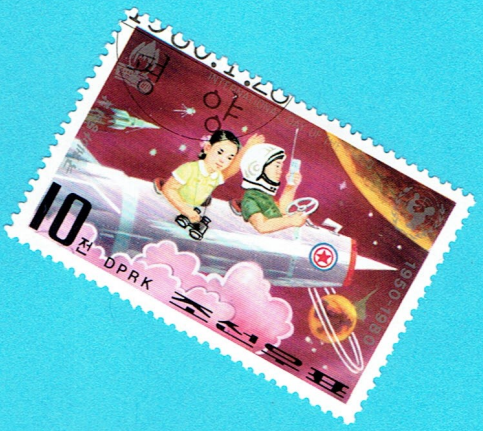
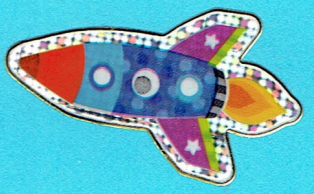
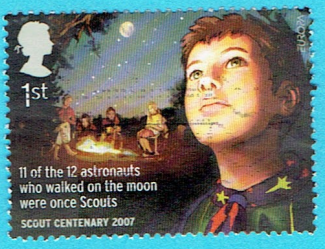
KIDS AND SPACE

What is it about space that sparks a young imagination? Maybe it is the limitless possibilities and an uncluttered mind.





The fascination is universal, as children around the world dream and play that they can walk on the moon or fly across the universe.



Let us continue to feed the dreams and imaginations of the children in the world and unlock their limitless potential.