THE WHEELER DEALER

January 1, 1968

Dear Friends:—

The East End Stamp Centre on Jones Avenue in Toronto has been in business for about ten years. The business was located in a small store and operated only for counter business. The premise was neatly arranged and the stock of stamps neatly displayed and well organized. First were the black display stock cards, then reserve #1 in envelopes, and after that reserve #2 in mint sheet files. They specialized in new issues, but over the years had built up a very comprehensive and attractive stock. The building had been sold and so the owner, due to personal reasons decided to sell the stamp business. He phoned and asked if I would be interested. The very next morning, I was there bright and early and worked the day valuing the stock. My offer was refused, it sometimes happens, but wait, nearly a month later I got a phone call — would I still be willing to buy at the offered price. Yes, was my answer, providing the stock was as I had seen it. Well there had been some sales and purchases, but these balanced out so the deal was completed and a cheque for the full amount handed over. The stamps were packed into boxes and in a heavy rain, we filled the car to full capacity. Another complete dealers stock for Empire.

On a two day trip to Western Canada, I sold a $37,000.00 lot of B.N.A. which contained some really rare and unique items. At the same time I purchased a very nice six volume foreign collection from a dealer, and three volumes of Canada from a collector in his 80th year.

Then there was a quick trip down to London, Ontario. I only bought one cover, but it was worthwhile. Another trip was to Montreal which is a different city now that Expo is over. When I wanted hotel accommodations at 11 p.m. I could take my choice of the best, and as for Motels, the taxi driver said "they're available at a dime a dozen". I valued a trunk full of albums, visited the local dealers, sold a nice collection. A very busy 1½ day trip.

On Tuesday, November 28th, I drove to St. Catharines early in the morning and spent the day valuing an old time collection. These were the ledger type, large and heavy, but in excellent condition. The Canada had Pence issues, 1868, a good lot, Jubilees unused to the $5.00 etc. I completed the deal at 3.30 p.m. and at 4 o'clock was across town in another home valuing four Scott Specialty Albums of France and Colonies. After an hour, I made my offer which was refused. I left. At 6 p.m. I telephoned, the answer was still "no". For a third and last attempt, I phoned, went back to his house, and about 11 p.m. bought the collection. By the time I had coffee and drove back to Toronto it was 1.30 p.m.

In between the above calls I had an interesting experience. While driving down town for dinner, I noticed an antique store. My father collects old Porcelain Ink Wells, and I am always on the look out for these in my travels. I was in the store for only a couple of minutes, when another man came in and asked the proprietor if he sold stamps. He told the man that he did not deal in stamps. That was too much for me, so I introduced myself saying I would be glad to be of help. The owner of the store suggested to the man that he go home and get his stamps and that I should wait in his store to value them. This was done, and while waiting, I purchased a beautiful antique Dresden Ink Well. However, the sad part is when the chap came back with his album, it turned out to be a note book containing several hundred of the commonest stamps of 30 years ago. There were only two items of any value and I offered the princely sum of $5.00. At that point he said he had better take the stamps home and ask his wife if it was alright to sell them—end of story.

Philatelically yours,

HARRY B. MARTIN, Jr.

The Editor Speaks Out . . . .

A member recently wrote complaining that our editorials are too controversial and that we should only report "newsy" items. While we feel that each collector is entitled to collect anything that strikes his fancy and we ourselves collect many non-catalogue items we do feel that as the magazine of the national society it is our duty to bring, sometimes unpleasant, facts to the attention of our members. If the specialty bulletins would do the job they are supposed to do and cover the disadvantages as well as the advantages of a particular specialty this would not be necessary.

There was a time when a first day cover really meant something. Starting with the Penny Black a first day cover has been something to acquire and, once acquired, a prize possession. However, we are now in the throes of an affluent society, and everything has changed. Modern first day covers are a matter of abhorrence for true philatelists.

It is only natural that dealers should endeavour to acquire from collectors as much of this affluence as possible; at least from those of us who are so fortunate as to be even moderately affluent. The lengths to which some of these dealers have gone in embellishing the covers that they purvey are absolutely fantastic. The use of ornate designs, and even of gold dust, on the covers has grown to such an extent that frequently the stamp becomes of very minor importance. We think, in general, it is reasonable to say that the stamp itself has become merely a necessary evil on these covers.

There are some dealers whose sales are mainly in modern first day covers. and there are even others who run an operation on these covers. These dealers are responsible for a cover, say, of a specific design, of which they put through the mail thousands, or even tens of thousands. These covers all bear the first day date of mailing though in fact they may have been cancelled by the postal authorities not on the first day, but before the first day, or after the first day. If any of the cancellations are illegible these illegible covers are returned to the post office much later than the first day and the post office in return sends the dealer new covers with legible first day cancels.

The dealer sells as many of these covers as required by the demand over a period of time. When sales start to lag he issues a notice to the effect that these covers have now tripled or quadrupled in value over their first selling price. However the dealer is a good scout and he will let the collector have a cover at a considerable mark-down from the new market value but, of course, at an advance on the original selling price. But one must hurry in placing his order as his stock of covers will not last long at this new price. The dealer probably has considerable stock remaining but he doesn't let the public in on this fact. After all he is selling covers not factual information.

The enhanced valuation put on the covers by the dealer is in all likelihood his own estimation and if a collector tries to sell his cover, bought at the original price, he may get quite a shock, for most dealers will not buy it and those who are willing to buy offer only a very nominal price.

Many a collector has fallen for this very dubious practice and when he comes to dispose of his collection of modern first day covers he finds to his sorrow that they are practically worthless. While any collector who wishes to indulge in this pleasant (?) pastime is quite free to do so, it is to be hoped that he does so knowing what it is all about and also it is to be hoped that he does not pay high prices for these covers unless it is a matter of "easy come, easy go".

We can think of a couple of exceptions to the above. One is where the stamp used on the first day cover is, in itself, of intrinsic value and worth a considerable amount. The cover has considerable value accordingly, but not because it is a first day cover.

The second exception is where the stamp is of a topical nature and a run on this stamp by topical collectors creates a scarcity which sends the stamp up on the open market. This will likely cause an artificial valuation since such stamps tend to rise on the open market far above their real value and, later on, settle to a more reasonable level. However, this market value is created by an actual demand for the stamp and is not an artificially created dealer valuation.

Human nature being what it is we do not think that this sort of manipulation will cease but we do hope that the collector will come to see it for what it is and that he will be guided accordingly. If he does see and is guided accordingly, he will not, then, expect to receive any great sum for his covers later on when he decides to dispose of them, nor should he expect to receive awards at Exhibitions of any standing for these "made" items.

NOTICE TO MEMBERSHIP

Due to the increasing number of stamp thefts the addresses of new members have been omitted from the New Member List and from the Change of Address section of the Secretary's Page. The Directors are also considering abandoning the publication of a Year Book for the same reason. As guide to our future policy the Editor would welcome members opinions on this subject.

Once again we are indebted to member J. J. Charron #6741 for the index to Volume XVIII.

Dr. Sidney V. Soanes #7405 writes to warn members that the "BENZENE" referred to in the September / October "Postmarked London" feature should be translated as "BENZINE" in North America. "BENZENE" with an "E" is toxic. We hope to run an article on this subject by Dr. Soanes in a future issue.

North Toronto and East Toronto Stamp Clubs held their combined Centennial Stamp Exhibition on October 23rd to 28th under the able chairmanship of Dr. Fred Stulberg. I was pleased to note that a tribute was paid to both Louis Lamouroux and Alf Scadding as both founding members and first presidents of the respective clubs. A good show Fred.

Canada O.H.M.S. Officials On Cover

By ROY WRIGLEY

On July 1, 1935 the Canada Post Office perforated OHMS on stamps used by the Government Departments, and Crown Companies, commencing with the 1912 K. Geo. V. Admirals, and carried through to September 1949, when the stamps were overprinted OHMS. One year later, the overprint was changed to 'G'.

On December 31, 1963, the use of these special stamps was discontinued, and mail from Government Departments was carried without the use of stamps. Registered, or Special Delivery letters were noted as such, and recorded at the local Post Office. Letters could be sent Air Mail, by attaching a sticker. If a letter was not fully prepaid, "Postage Due" stamps were affixed, and the receiving Department paid in cash to the P.O. Department, double the deficiency.

These Canada OHMS Official stamps prepaid mail to any point in the Universal Postal Union. As legitimate Government postal issues, the Perforated OHMS., as well as the Overprinted OHMS, and 'G' should be listed in any representative stamp catalog. They merit the respect given them by many collectors, as they were issued for use, not for speculators who offer limitless numbers of 'black spots'.

Over the period 1935 to 1963 through the use of these specially marked stamps, the Post Office Department was able to assess the amount of postage used by the various Departments, and as of January 1, 1964, entered into agreement with the various Departments, and Crown Companies, for prepayment of their mail on a bulk rate, and was thus able to dispense with the use of stamps, this based on prior year's postage. This effected a great saving in printing, paperstock for 20,565,000 stamps, also for accounting, and distribution, and newly installed postal meters. The saving for 1966 amounted to one quarter million dollars. Expo 67 is on the bulk basis, and it is planned now to include the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, Air Canada, and Canadian National Railways.

A further economy was effected through use of a standard envelope, in place of each Department having its own printings, carrying: "Postes CANADA Post, On Her Majesty's Service — Service de sa Majeste. and top right boxed CANADA POSTAGE PAID — PORT PAYE.

However, stampless covers have been in use for many years, where name of Department or printed signature of Department head appears, together with the regular Ottawa cancellation, with FREE or FREE CANADA FRANCO on bars or waves. The writer has these as far back as June 21, 1940. There is also the franking "House of Commons — Chambre des Connonns, Free CANADA Franco" and carrying the signature of the Minister. Another cancel for a short period was "OTTAWA 20 IV '54 ONTARIO - OHMS - SSM" with no stamp.

Aside from the fact that the number of OHMS that were used was small, compared with the regular stamps, it was difficult to secure used copies from Government offices, and more particularly so where "On Cover". In fifteen years specializing in this group I was fortunate recently to acquire a collection, with duplicates, from the Estate of a former Department head, who had retained the stamps on their cover. These embrace items as far back as the 1930 K. Geo V. Maple Leaf issue, in original 5 Hole Perforated OHMS., from the Receiver General's Office, the first Department to use these stamps.

Of particular interest is the War emergency campaign, to conserve paper and shipping supplying all Departments with labels: Use envelopes over again. "SAVE PAPER ! SAVE SHIPPING !! — Fold here — To open, slit along dotted line. Envelopes can then be used again. O.H.M.S." An instance of this is an envelope from the Oil Controller for Canada, 15 King St. W., Toronto, Ont. Department of Munitions and Supply, under a 4c. 1942 War issue, perforated 4-Holes, with slogan cancel, addressed to Prince Rupert, B.C. The envelope was slitted at top, and 'Save Paper' label addressed from the Indian Office in Prince Rupert to Major D. M. MacKay, Indian Commissioner for B.C., Box 76, Vancouver, B.C. Over the original 4c. 1942 stamp, postmarked Toronto, was affixed two 1942 2c. War issue. What makes this cover a remarkable piece is the Type V "BLACKOUT" cancel with date "18-JUL 21 '44" the name of the Port being omitted, as Prince Rupert was one of 4 seaports on the Pacific Coast, the Post Office "blacked out" to guard against enemy interception of the mail. While German submarines entered the St. Lawrence, and were off Halifax, Japanese shelled Carmanah Light, on Vancouver Island, near Victoria.

The War effort was served with such slogan cancels as : Enlist Now, Buy 1st War Loan. Buy Victory Bonds. Help the Red Cross. Eat right for Health. Pay No More than Ceiling Prices. Save Metals, Rags and Waste Paper. Coal—Save 1 ton in 5. V . . . for Victory. Remembrance Day, and Flag cancels.

In the 'BLACKOUT' cancels, there were six types, used during the First War, in the Ports of Halifax, St. John, Quebec, Vancouver, New Westminster, Prince Rupert, and Victoria.

I have a group of this Department's covers, used during the First War, at a period that extended efforts were made to increase farm production. As these covers carried the 1942 War issue stamps, perforated OHMS 4 holes high, the use of "OHMS" or "FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY" was not printed on these. These imprints came into use with the 1949 (Revised) overprinted OHMS issue. All earlier covers were printed in English, while later many were in English and French. # Postmarked London

By ROBSON LOWE RPSL 7400

The British Philatelic Exhibition held during the first four days in November was well supported, the exhibits and the press booths occupying the main hall, another hall containing some eighteen dealers booths and a third the G.P.O. with its panoramic exhibit and counter manned by the Philatelic Section. There was one break in the harmony where on the last day, a would-be buyer of obsolete commemoratives lost his temper when he found that full sheets were no longer available. Alas, I missed this curious incident, but the amiable and efficient Post Office staff who had catered for the foibles of collectors for four days, carefully supplying corner blocks and so on, were very embarrassed. The security guards evicted the disturber of the peace and no blood was shed. In case you feel that this was a surprising matter, I would remind you that some years ago, several people were killed in an Egyptian Post Office when a commemorative set was limited to one per customer (from memory I believe that this was the Port Fouad set).

Philatelic passions are not often discussed but those of us who sit in the rostrum have seen them in play. Fervent hopes dashed when some one with more money but obviously no philatelic knowledge has acquired the loved one. "But I made the backguard pay for it" is usually the crumb of comfort. These human passions are well understood but they can be avoided in several ways. "What I cannot afford to own I do not want" is a philosophy which takes the heartburn out of collecting. In these days when colour photography is so expensive, I find that this substitute, properly mounted and written-up with the foot note "The original of this photograph is owned by Willie Smith" pleases me, delights Willie Smith and I hope satisfies any viewer of my collection that possession is not so important as appreciation.

There are other philatelic passions and I often wonder why anyone should accept an invitation to be a judge at an exhibition. Even if there is a panel of twenty judges, each of whom must have some ability otherwise he would not have been invited, it is extremely unlikely that in a hundred exhibits that there will be more than eighty on which any member of the panel is qualified to give an opinion. Every human being is biased by his experience and in consequence will judge more accurately a subject that he knows well. When it comes to the subject that is strange to him he falls into one of the following traps.

1. Too high an award for a study that has been based on a textbook with which the judge is not familiar.
2. Too low an award for a study of little commercial value which is really a marvel of philatelic research.
3. Too high an award because of the obvious value of an exhibit.
4. Too high or too low an award because of the presentation.

And that brings up a vital point — writing-up. One well known judge at international exhibitions told me that he never reads the descriptions on an album page. Maybe time was his enemy but unless one is completely familiar with a subject, I cannot see how one can judge the merits of a collection without reading what the owner has to say about it. My collection must appal him because I write all I can find out about an item for two reasons. Firstly, if I do not put it down on paper I forget it. Secondly, some one else viewing the collection may be inspired to correct or supplement my commentary.

I like exhibitions, they give me pleasure. I like to exhibit because one hopes to give pleasure to those who view the frames and there is the often fulfilled hope that a viewer will seek one out and add to ones knowledge. But I will not exhibit for competition for I do not believe that I have the moral right to take other people's time to look at the results of my personal hobby and be compelled to express an opinion, regardless of the competence of the judges. If the judgment is laudatory it arouses envy or derision from others. Should it condemn then at least it will arouse the indignation of the owner. I collect for my personal pleasure and not to find out what the rest of the world thinks about it. If more than a few collect what I like then I could not afford to indulge in this particular passion of collecting.

Recently I lunched with a philatelist who is a popular and competent judge of European classics and the subject of expert opinions came up. "I would rather have the opinion of the one authority who knows than the combined opinion of a committee who do not know" was the pungent view of my host. Basically I agree but knowledge itself can prove a trap. This may only be my personal experience but I find that it is necessary for my opinion of a stamp that I know well to be checked for quality. Working at speed, it may be easy for experience to identify a stamp with certainty and one too quickly turns to the next patient. The good philatelist who may not know the stamp well, views the piece of paper more clinically and may well spot some defect which the ego of knowledge has overlooked. It is for this reason that both expert committees and commercial houses should have their stamps looked at by more than one person. A valuer may deal with two hundred lots a day.

A describer with a hundred lots and the mounters and photographers with as many. If they all have their eyes open, little will escape the trained scrutiny of four people.

Last night the pound was devalued. The effect of this action on the hobby is likely to be the same as before. More collectors from overseas will buy in England. More collectors in England will buy and in a few weeks the status will be as before. Having an international house, banking in six different countries, it is undoubtedly true that those European branches in countries which do not devalue will increase their turnover. Collecting will thrive under the stimulus of increased international competition.

And good hunting in the New Year.

#911 — C.A.P.O. 51 - ON KISKA

Trying to get my Canadian Military Cover collection mounted, and organized, for the first time in years, I came across a cover which I purchased back in 1951. I do not recall having discussed it before.

The cover is a 6c. U.S. Airmail stamped envelope, but bears the cancel, "C.A.P.O. 51 - OC 16, 43."

For a short period in World War II, Canadian troops were located on Kiska Island, one of the far western islands of the Aleutian chain of the Alaskan peninsula. However they were there only a short time. Covers from there showing the C.A.P.O. 51 marking are not common.

#912 — CANADIAN SOLDIER IN CHINESE P.O.W. CAMP

Another cover which I turned up at the same time as the above, was from a Canadian PFC, completely stampless, but postmarked CANTON, who was being held at P.O.W. Camp #3, and addressed to Nova Scotia.

The cover bears two handstamps:—

"Service des Prisonniers de guerre"

and:—

"Via The Chinese People's Committee for World Peace and against American Aggression.
Peking, China."

* * * *

#913—CANADIAN AIRWAYS LTD. COURTESY MAIL CACHET

From Ian Paterson of Edmonton comes information regarding another "Courtesy Flight" marking which I had not previously reported in this column. The strike was in purple and used on the reverse side of the cover. Most likely a rubber handstamp. It measures 36 x 73mm and reads "Extra Air-Mail Delivery / Edmonton - McMurray / Courtesy of / Canadian Airways Ltd." in four lines.

The cover was dated at Fort Smith, June 9, 1936 and was a government letter to Waterways. This raises the next question, — Was this courtesy service granted only to government mail, or was it sometimes extended to commercial and private letters?

#914—PERFORATION VARIETIES OF FIRST ISSUE MANITOBA LAWS

As a result of one of the studies being made by members of the Canadian Revenue Study Group, we can now report that there are perforation varieties aplenty on the first issue Manitoba Laws 1877. These are the "nine scallop" varieties overprinted "L.S." and "C.F."

So far the following have been reported:—

- Perf. 12 — all denominations
- 11¾ — at least four denominations
- 11½ — at least three denominations
- 12½ — at least three denominations
- 12¼ — on one denomination
- 12 x 12¼ — on one denomination
- 12¼ x 12 — on one denomination
- 11¾ x 12 — at least three "

That's at least three major and five minor varieties to look for!

#915 — EARLY "INTERRUPTED MAIL" COVER — 1882

Recently I came onto what to me is my earliest dated "interrupted mail" cover. Postmarked, and just barely still able to be deciphered, "TRURO, N.S. Dec. 31, 1881". Addressed to Flint, Mich. The stamp has disappeared, and a long rectangular label has been attached reading:—

"Damaged by Fire on Canada Southern R.R., January 1, 1882."

Can anyone give me further information regarding this particular R.R. fire? Where did it occur, and what was the cause?

* * * *

#916 — APRIL 26, 1937 TRAIN WRECK COVERS

In the same lot from which came the 1882 Wreck cover, there were two covers postmarked "London, Ont. APR. 26, 11 AM, 1937". Both were stamped with a two line handstamp reading:—

"DAMAGED BY WATER
DUE TO TRAIN WRECK"

—and both were addressed to Hamilton.

They did not make Hamilton for a few days. At Ingersoll they were in a train wreck which took four lives, including Fireman Norman Aiken of Sarnia, and Engineer Malcolm Isbister of Toronto. A washout had occurred on the main line of the Canadian National Railways, two miles east of Ingersoll. Swirling flood waters and mud nearly covered the railway cars when they jumped over a ten foot embankment.

On the reverse of both covers is a label, in part reading "Found Damaged, torn or open and Officially Repaired" which was tied with the circular "Hamilton, Canada, CITY DELIVERY, APR / 30 / 1937".

The information regarding the details of this wreck come from clippings from the Toronto DAILY STAR of April 27, 1937. I have lost my notes as to where these came from, but I believe that Col. Lloyd W. Sharpe of Hamilton was the helper this time.

#917—C.A.P.O. Nos. USED IN NEWFOUNDLAND

Those that collect Canadian Military Postal History material are interested in obtaining examples showing the various C.A.P.O.s where Canadian Forces were stationed in Newfoundland during World War II, — before it became a Province of Canada.

At least six C.A.P.O.s are known to have been used there. — as follows:—

- #1 — St. John's
- #2 — Gander
- #3 — Lewisporte (?)
- #4 — Gander
- #5 — Torbay
- #10— Goose Bay, Labrador

It is possible that these #s were used at other locations at different times. The above are those which I have had recorded from covers in my own collection.

#918—CANADIAN MILITARY HOSPITAL MARKINGS OF WORLD WAR I

While I do not have too many, I have noted with interest the several different Military Hospital markings of World War I which we have accumulated.

- H.M. HOSPITAL SHIP,
"ARAGUAYA"—enclosed in large rectangular box.
- No. 4 CANADIAN GENERAL HOSPITAL—Basingstoke, Hants. Enclosed in medium, rectangular box. Legend in five lines.
- No. 5 CANADIAN GENERAL HOSPITAL—Liverpool. Enclosed in medium, rectangular box. 5 lines.
- No. 9 CANADIAN GENERAL HOSPITAL—Rhyl. Double lined oval.
- No. 14 CANADIAN GENERAL HOSPITAL—Meads, Eastbourne, Sussex. Very small oval, single lined.
- No. 15 CANADIAN GENERAL (Duchess of Connaught Canadian Red Cross) HOSPITAL—Taplow, Bucks. Double-lined oval.
Note: an earlier type of this last,

also in a double-lined oval reads—
THE DUCHESS OF CONNAUGHT /
CANADIAN RED CROSS HOSPITAL, TAPLOW, BUCKS.

—AUXILIARY HOSPITAL—an unboxed, two line Straight-lined marking reading:—
POSTED BY A WOUNDED
SOLDIER AT SHENSTONE
HOUSE AUXILIARY HOSPITAL,
Hr. BROUGHTON, MANCHESTER

—CANADIAN EYE AND EAR HOSPITAL West Cliff Folkestone. Long Rectangular Box with Two Line Legend.

—CONVALESCENT HOSPITAL—Woodcote Park, Epsom. Double Lined Circle, with double bar across center framing "POSTAL SERVICE".

There they are, ten different Hospital Markings. How many can come up with additional ones?

#919—CANADIAN P.O.W. POSTMARKS

We have noted the following P.O.W. postmarks. These are the regular circular postmark, with "P.O.W." at top, and the No. below. We have in our collection:—

10, — 20, — 21, — 23, — 30, — 31, — 32, — 44, — 101, — 130, — and 133. We refer only to those in Canada. We have also seen letters addressed to POWs listing Camps "A" "E", "M" and "Q", but have not seen postmarks so designated.

#920 — CAPE BRETON LAW STAMP NEW $1.00 VALUE

Norman Hendershott of London, Ont. reports a new addition to the 1957 issue of Cape Breton Law Stamps. Apparent the 25c. value is being discontinued, as the new $1.00 value is being issued in the color of the 25c., a "pale red or carmine."

Like the 25c. and 50c. values, this $1.00 value is issued in a sheet of 25, Perf. 11½, and straight edged all around.

So far we have not seen the stamp.

Can someone in Cape Breton Island fill us in on the date this stamp was issued, and can they confirm that the 25c. value has been discontinued?

The 25c. and 50c. Cape Breton Island Law stamps of various designs have been in use for 65 years,—it is no surprise that fees have been raised, necessitating the new value.

#921—U.S. ARMY POSTAL SERVICE
"A.P.O.s" BASED IN CANADA

During World War II there were a great many U.S. Army Post Offices located in Canada. The following list is nowhere complete, but these I have in my own collection.

APO 440—Longe Pt. De Mingnan, Que.

APO 462—Edmonton, Alta.

APO 473—Camp Canol, NWT.

APO 475—Watson Lake, YT.

APO 476—Muskwa, B.C. (?)

APO 677—Goose Bay, Labrador, NFLD.

APO 691—Fort Chimo, Que.

APO 692—Frobisher Bay, Baffin Is.
NWT.

APO 701—Fort St. John, B.C.

APO 702 & 702 BR.—Whitehorse,
YT.

APO 702-1—Whitehorse, YT.

APO 722—Edmonton, Alta.

APO 722-F—Edmonton, Station
Hospital

APO 724—Dawson Creek, B.C.

APO 728—Port Edward, B.C.

APO 737—Churchill, Man.

APO 918—Muskwa, Alta. (?)

APO 931—Kluane Lake, YT.

APO 996—Watson Lake Junction

APO 997—Prince Rupert, B.C.

APO 999—Fort Smith, NWT.

I can't understand the two "Muskwas" one in Alta., the other in B.C., but that's what my notes state. One or the other must be an error! Can someone help me out, and can anyone make any additions to this list?

These interesting items of philatelic history were kindly donated to the society by Mr. Ed Averill of Toronto. The editor would be interested in the acquisition of similar material relating to Canadian philatelic history.

Canadian Forces Mail and The Christmas Stamp

By LT. COL. R. H. WEBB

The question might well be asked; what possible connection can there be between Canadian Forces Mail and the Christmas stamps which have come into vogue in recent years? Well, the purpose of this brief article is to show that such a connection does exist even though it may be a rather subtle one.

A long time ago — before the age of sophisticated systems and thematic collections — Canadian troops serving in the battle zones of the First World War were introduced to Field Service Post Cards (FSPC) similar to those illustrated in figure 1. Old soldiers of both World Wars will recall that the writing of anything other than the address, dates and signature was forbidden. Yet, a second look at the illustration will show that Christmas and New Year's greetings have been added contrary to the printed instructions. Such disregard should have resulted in the destruction of the card but, since this was not done, I assumed there must have been some authority for their presence. After several unsuccessful enquiries Mr. Alan J. Brown, the editor of the Forces Postal History Society, came up with the following extract from an official account of the circumstances surrounding the issue of FSPC to the British Army in the First World War.

“—————nothing was to be added to the printed sentences except dates and signature. An exception was made, however, at Christmas time when it was permitted to add such sentences as ‘A Merry Christmas’ and ‘A Happy New Year’. Beyond this concession all cards observed in the post to bear unauthorized additions were to be passed to the censor for treatment.”

Fig. 2 — Airgraph for Christmas 1943 from a Canadian soldier in Italy.

In the First World War the Canadian Forces in Europe formed part of the British Army and generally used its supplies and procedures. Accordingly, the FSPC were available to all personnel through the Postal Services and the seasonal greetings on the illustrated card is quite legitimate.

In the Second World War, depending on their location, the Forces again received certain postal benefits at Christmas. This time they applied to the airgraph and the air letter (aerogramme) as indicated in figures 2 & 3.

The airgraph service, which began in mid-1941, provided a ready method for sending seasonal greetings from those areas where normal Christmas cards were unobtainable or where their use was hardly practical. As the airgraph forms were prepared by the printing and stationery units of the various Allied Forces it was a simple matter to add suitable designs at the time of printing. On the other hand, a sailor, soldier or airman with an artistic touch could draw his own design. The first Christmas airgraphs were produced for the British Forces in the Middle East for Christmas 1941; thereafter, the practice became almost universal.

Air letter forms with special designs are believed to have been originated by the RAF in Ceylon for Christmas 1942 and they were available, of course, to members of 413 Squadron of the RCAF as this unit was stationed near Colombo at the time. Then, for 1943 air letters overprinted POSTAGE FREE in red were issued on the basis of four to each member of the Forces in Ceylon, India and other locations around the Indian Ocean. Again, Canadians serving in those parts were entitled to the concession.

Fig. 3—Postage Free air letter from a Canadian officer in North West Europe, posted on 3 Dec. 1944 at FPO SC 760.

Air letters similar to the one illustrated in fig. 3 were produced for Christmas 1944 by No. 1 Printing and Stationery Unit of the Canadian Army with the concurrence of the P.O. Dept. and issued on the basis of five to each member of the Canadian Forces in North West Europe. The postage free concession was valid only if the air letters were posted in a Canadian FPO between 30 October and 5 December.

In conclusion, it is suggested that the FSPC of the First World War, the air-graph and the air letter of the Second, with their officially authorized Christmas greetings, designs and postage free concession all have a genuine place in any thematic collection of Canadian Christmas Stamps.

Postmarked Ottawa

By HANS REICHE (RPSC 6397)

A few highlights from BYPEX - 67. The old system of bidding for a contract on printing philatelic material for the Post Office is out. The two printing companies in Ottawa will share the total work of printing stamps and stationery. New equipment is being installed to modernize some of the printing processes and this will mean better centered stamps, multicoloured designs by use of offset methods and improved tagging. The so called "comb" perforation will be used instead of the line perforation and no uneven corner perforations will be the result. The so popular sports series and the unusual arrangement of the sheet layout will be tried again on some later issue and may be with different colours for each stamp on the same sheet. The new printing process may require the issue of smaller sheets and little room, if any, will be left for plate inscriptions. The end of the plate inscriptions or plate blocks appears near. The Postmaster's thumb or destructive killer cancellation may be replaced by some more informative type. European cancels often convey a story, are much larger in size and very clean. Our machine cancels and the first day cancels are clean (with few exceptions) but they seldom tie in with the actual stamps or events which they are to commemorate. We may see here a great improvement over the next year and the wildlife series may make use of such more informative cancellation types.

We wonder how many of you have noticed the two different BYPEX - 67 cancels? Both rather attractive. The first one was an arrangement of wavy lines with the word BYPEX 67, 27 to 29 Sept. 67 and the centennial symbol. It was used from 1 Sept. 67 to 25 Sept. 67,

The second one was a similar arrangement but the entire set-up was in the form of a flag with a flag staff. This cancel was used from 26 Sept. 67 to 29 Sept. 67. Both slogan and flag cancel should be of interest to all specializing in this field, especially because this is the first flag cancel issued since many, many years. *

Do you want to know who is responsible for the prices of BNA stamps in the Scott catalogue? During the Dealer's Message Seminar which was held at BYPEX - 67 we found out that it is Jim Sissons and Les Davenport. We also heard that auction lot estimates are usually set a little low. This gives the bidder an additional incentive because he thus believes that he might obtain a bargain. We were informed that no Canadian dealer makes any special effort to sell speculative new issues or unhinged stamps, unless specifically asked for by the customer. Ed Richardson enlightened his large audience by showing a large amount of material under the heading of "Collecting the uncollectible". We hope he will enlarge on this theme in the Philatelist.

The new postal stationary envelopes show two distinct types of the 5 cents blue. The impression on the size 8 envelope is different from the size 10 envelope. With the intended postal rate changes these new stationary items should be watched. There will also be a change introduced soon by covering the inside of the envelope with an inscription, and this is to reduce opaqueness.

The so called "double" print of the Seaway stamp excited a lot of collectors at that time (especially those who owned copies). Large sums were paid for these stamps although it was known that these were not actually double printings of the red portion. But that is besides the point. The writer has found a very similar variety on the Newfoundland flower stamp. Here the red portion is doubled. How many did you find?

Probably a first in any exhibition was displayed at the LONDEX 75 show. This was a story of Perforations and Misperforations of Canadian postage stamps by Dr. F. G. Stulberg. This subject lends itself to further expansion into other countries and possibly even a general display of perforation methods.

* NOTE: BYPEX Souvenir Covers may still be obtained from the Secretary Box 3144, Station C, Ottawa, Ont.

THE MAIL BAG

Dear Sir:

As you are no doubt aware, there have been numerous thefts of stamp and coin collections over the past few years. The stamp collection of the undersigned was stolen last Friday evening along with some items of jewellery. Investigating police officers are of the opinion that the burglars were after the stamps, the jewellery being secondary.

I am unknown for the most part in philatelic circles, however, I am a member of The Royal Philatelic Society of Canada, the names and addresses of which you publish in "The Canadian Philatelist". This, to me, seems unwise in the light of the number of thefts that have taken place. I can understand your reasons for doing so, but believe consideration should be given to omitting this information in the future for the sake of security.

Donald S. Bartlett,

Dear Sir:—

In reference to "The Mail Bag" in the November - December issue of The Canadian Philatelist and Mr. A. L. J. Sarson's (R.P.S.C. 8459) letter I concur with every word in his letter.

May I also refer to Mr. Arthur L. Dawe's (R.P.S.C. 7936) letter in the same issue? I am in agreement with his remarks too, and as for the latter Mr. Dawe quoted that he received from J. G. Cunningham, Director of Information and Public Relations in reply to a letter he wrote to the Post Master General. This is evasive (my own experience with them). I assume Mr. Dawe criticized the design, rather than the designer and if what we are getting is the best the "Artists" can produce, it is time other sources were asked.

This is a matter in which the R.P.S. must take a more active interest evidently.

Yours truly,
A. V. Davidge R.P.S.C. 4353

Dear Sir:

I would like to say hurrah to those 2 letters that appeared in the Nov. & Dec. No. of the C.P. I was very glad that someone spoke up regarding this year's 1967 stamps!

Both Mr. Sarson & Mr. Dawe have my feelings and I also showed the letters to my mother who used to collect stamps long time ago, and she, too, was very pleased to see that and agreed every word that they mentioned.

I thought that we were getting something quite different when the Flower Stamps came out. But I was very disappointed with the 67 lot, particularly the high values, the Woman's stamp is the worst stamp of the year, I must admit!!

Of all the stamps, I term the Expo, Vanier & Toronto Stamps were the decent ones, and I am sure the members will agree with me.

When I look and see the Stamps of the Commonwealth, and know how colorful they are, and the most attractive ones, it puts me to shame when I look at ours and makes me wonder what are we coming to these days, with no imagination whatsoever!!

I am sure the members will speak up with Mr. Sarson and Mr. Dawe, and also with me that the R.P.S.C. should do something about those stamps.

Miss M. E. Oliver #7105

Sir:

The 12d Black stamp which Mr. Hans Reiche wrote about in Postmark Ottawa (June 1966) is in fact, a specimen stamp. The word "specimen" had been removed, laid lines faked, and the postmark added. This "stamp" together with one hundred other stamps was stolen from my home in 1964. When I read Mr. Reiche's article I had a faint suspicion that it could be my stamp that was described, but I did not think that it was possible in the circumstances.

The first clue of the whereabouts of this collection came to light at the RCPS Convention at Hamilton. I learned that there was a member of the armed forces in the Ottawa area who was selling a selection of stamps identical to those stolen from me. The resulting RCMP investigation brought the startling fact that this collector had purchased the entire selection from another serviceman — a man whom the RCMP suspected and interrogated in Vancouver.

At the military trial, the suspect was found guilty of being in possession of stolen property. He was reprimanded and fined $50.00. The stamps were ordered returned to the collector who had purchased them. I was thanked for coming to Ottawa and appearing as witness. The insurance company, consequently, investigated this matter. The result was that on Friday, October 13, 1967 the Insurance Company returned the stamps to me. Stamps that are still missing are:

- 3d Beaver laid paper
- 3d Beaver wove paper
- Quebecs - mint set
- 10 engraved forgeries of the Jubilee dollar stamps (2 ea). The cancellation of one of the $3.00 value was a perfect impression of the rare Toronto "High Street" square circle type postmark (Ex Bailey)
- Mint 8c. registered letter stamp
- 3 Prince Albert Panelli forgeries
- 1859 17c. Cartier forgery
12½c. Qn Victoria forgery
- 2 - 3d Beaver forgeries
- USA - 17c. Lincoln with nose variety
- 12c. Washington with wide vertical crease.

Dear Sir,

I have recently read the press release put out by the Post Office Department which gave the details of the issues for 1968 and a very gay assortment we are promised. This bulletin also stated that the Canadian Bank Note Company was installing new equipment in order to print multi-coloured stamps in one operation, this is very commendable. But I

Martin Apfelbaum:

If you remember, last month my column was devoted to how to go about submitting bids for an auction.

This month I'll try to explain how a bid sheet is processed by the auctioneer.

When the bid sheet arrives it is immediately numbered, for the earliest received bid sheet takes preference in the event of tie bids. At this point, your number takes preference over your name because of the ease of writing and sorting numbers over the alphabetical and length problems created by name.

The bids are then entered in a pre-numbered "bid book". A section is provided in this book for each lot in the sale and is boxed off so that at a glance the entire picture of the lot is available. In the left box is the lot number, next to it is the owner's symbol, across from this is the lot description from the auction catalog.

In the bid section all the bids are entered. A typical entry would be 766/$27.00. This means that bidder number 766 has bid $27.00 on this particular lot. To carry this out further, we might have the following sequence of bidding: 766/$27.00 812/$22.00 938/$32.00. Looking back, we see that bidders No. 766 and No. 812 are eliminated by reason of low bids and, at this point, 938 is the winner. We advertise that we save our buyers as much as possible, and so if this lot were in a public auction we would start the floor bidding at $28.00, the first raise over the second highest mail bid.

The only reason the lot would cost the buyer more would be if floor competition pushed it up. In any case, this lot would not cost bidder No. 938 more than $32.00 because at that point the auctioneer would stop bidding for him.

Auction buying is the modern way to acquire stamps for your collection. In case you haven't tried it, why not send for our Apfelbaum Public Auction and Discount Mail Sale catalog? You will find them interesting and full of items that will be useful to you.

would like to suggest to the Canadian Bank Note Company that rather than new printing presses they install new perforating equipment which will at least do a 50% better job of perforating than the equipment presently in use. My reason for writing this letter is that a friend of mine has just received a large order for the Philatelic Section at Ottawa and as most of the stamps are five miles off centre they will have to go for postage. Although the Post Office Philatelic Section order forms state that every effort is made to send well centred stamps the garbage they are sending out to stamp collectors is nothing short of a National Disgrace. I don't think they make any special effort at all. Sending out this junk is alright for collectors in Canada as we can at least use it for postage but what about the orders from overseas collectors, they are stuck with it. In many instances I can get better centred stamps from the local Post Office that I can get from Ottawa. In spite of what the order forms say about all sales being final and no refunds given for offcentred stamps I would like to suggest to all readers of "The Philatelist" that they return any orders to Ottawa which don't meet with their approval, perhaps if Ottawa get enough collectors sending orders back to them we will start to get better centred stamps with our orders. After all they did back down on the 2c. coil of 1963 after they got so many complaints about it.

Dear Sir,

As a footnote to the interesting information regarding Centennial Maple Leaf cancellations submitted by Mr. Wayne Curtis in the November-December issue (p.265), I wish to report that there exist two different circular date stamps for Vancouver, similar to those of Montreal, one being "Vancouver B.C.", and the other "Vancouver B.C. Canada". From the covers I have gathered there does not appear to be any definite period when each was used — the dates over-

YOUR SALES DEPARTMENT

Immediately after the Ottawa convention your sales department started to move into high gear to meet the demands from chapters and members. In October over 1400 books were circulating, this being achieved by a rapid turnover due to fine co-operation from all chapter representatives. Enquiries for material are coming in with almost every mail and whilst all are welcome it has made it difficult to maintain circuits to all who request them. However in only two instances were shipments delayed because of lack of suitable material.

At the present time less than 5% of the members supply all the circuit material required so these remarks are directed to the other 95% to see what they can do to keep the department supplied with good stamps. Right now I can use at least 500 books. So far this season 45% of all sales has been CANADA; with France; Netherlands and British West Indies coming close. British Oceania is also in big demand. So lets start the new year with some books from every member. THE NEED IS URGENT.

A new enlarged sales book is in preparation and by the time this article is in print the new books should be available. They will hold about twice as many stamps as the existing book and the book will be sized 8" by 6". Full particulars of cost and the new regulations governing the sales department can be obtained by writing to me. Those members who already contribute to the sales dept., need not write as I will be writing to you all direct. PLEASE NOTE: The existing sales books still in members possession can still be sent in for entry into the circuits. They will be accepted up to JANUARY 1st 1969. This should give you sufficient time to mount your duplicates and send them to me.

Stamps not required at the present time are those of Aden; Liechtenstein; Luxembourg and British Asia.

A personal note — My own philatelic interest is that of the postal history of the Isle of Man. If you have any items please write me.

QUESTION: Who needs covers? With the introduction of a larger sales book covers are more easily mounted. If you need covers let me know NOW so that supplies can be obtained. F.D.C. will not be handled.

May I wish you all a very prosperous new year and good hunting for that elusive item.

Stanley Gibbons Postage Stamp Catalogues

Part I British Commonwealth 35 shillings
Part II Europe & Colonies 60 shillings
Part III America, Asia & Africa
50 Shillings

All of these famous volumes have been revised and issued in the new large format. The three column layout is particularly effective in those complex listings which always appeared very cramped in the old two column format. It would be foolish to say that there were price changes in view of the ever rising stamp market. Over 2500 pages of up-to-the-minute information for all collectors.

We have seen the first issue of Great Britain's new "Stamp Weekly" newspaper published by Link House Publications, Dingwall Avenue, Croydon, England. One Shilling per issue.

An effective combination of colour and black & white illustrations and interesting news articles makes this a very useful news magazine for all philatelists. A comprehensive new issue section is supported by a great variety of advertisements. As is usual with this type of presentation a large classified ad section caters to many tastes.

Stanley Gibbons ELIZABETHAN postage stamp catalogue — 1968

The latest edition of the standard reference work for modern British Commonwealth maintains the high standard set by this well known philatelic publisher.

The ELIZABETHAN is right up to date both in new issue listing and pricing which is conveniently shown both in dollars and sterling. An interesting feature is that prices are shown for both sets and individual stamps, where there is more than five stamps in a set.

Missing colour varieties in recent Great Britain issues have been given special coverage. Only those varieties authenticated however are included.

This new edition costs a little more but there is more value for money including 84 additional pages; 1,215 extra stamps listed; 458 new varieties and 622 new illustrations. It is a must for the Elizabethan collector.

The Colonial Posts in North America 1606-1783 by Kay Horowicz and Robson Lowe

Published by Robson Lowe Limited,
50 Pall Mall, London, S.W.1.

Price 35/- - $7.

This is a fascinating story which must appeal to collectors whose studies embrace the posts of the British Empire and the United States. After a brief historical note, a survey of the internal postal history follows, commencing with the first announcement concerning the postal service in Boston in 1639.

Chapter IV recounts the postal history and catalogues the fifty manuscript postal markings and 101 handstamps of the thirteen colonies and the Floridas, East and West.

Chapter V lists the Colonial postmasters and illustrates a portrait of William Goddard who did not attain that office although he created the Constitutional post. VI lists the postal mileages from New York, VII deals with the use of the Bishop Mark which appeared in five different sizes and eight different colours and was used in nine towns, VIII describes the difficult subject of currencies and IX, the revenue stamps. A page is devoted to the bibliography, the twenty-three half tone illustrations include four of the invaluable contemporary maps published by Herman Moll and there are thirty line illustrations of handstamps. The index lists nearly five hundred references.

This slim volume is packed with information and will form one of the sections of Volume V of The Encyclopaedia of Empire Postage Stamps.

Published by Georges Monteaux,
6 Square de L'Opera Louis-Jouvet
Paris 9, $1.00 Postpaid.

This 120 page catalogue, now in its 11th edition, has become indispensable to the collectors of mint 20th Century stamps of France. Being the price list of this Paris dealer, it is a realistic guide to current market prices.

The first half of the Catalogue deals with the definitive stamps of the Blanc, Sower, Pasteur and Peace types. The detailed listings and illustrations include the latest discoveries and information which is otherwise only available in the French Philatelic journals.

Other 20th Century stamps are listed according to the method used in the Thiaude Catalogue, with groupings according to design rather than date of issue. Despite this, there is no difficulty in understanding the listings. The addition of special listings of Booklets and Coil strips makes this catalogue invaluable to the collector of these stamps.

Price 6s net.

This little volume will prove of immense worth not only to the serious philatelist but also to the novice. Postage stamps are now everyday objects and it seems amazing that they only came into being 125 years ago, and this volume traces their history, design and printing from the beginning to present day methods. There is a geographically arranged gazetteer of countries, three indexes and a glossary. The illustrations are superb, 16 pages in colour and 502 black and white illustrations.

A letter bearing an example of the Kubin "bisect" as described in the article.

The Kubin Bisects Of Hungary

By M. R. RASIC

In the 1930's a man with a bundle of old covers, came to Vienna and stepped into the office of the late Edwin Mueller, who was at that time together with the famous stamp expert Rudolf Friedl. The man was from Kovin (formerly, during the Austrian times called Kubin) in Yugoslavia, located on the Danube in the Serbian Banat. He offered the covers for sale, but he did not know how much to ask. Mr. Mueller looked through the covers, just over twenty, and all had Hungarian stamps of the engraved 1871 issue, all postmarked "Kubin" and all addressed to local people. About half of the covers had the 3 Kr. stamp, and the other half had a 2 Kr. and a bisect of the same stamp, to make up the 3 Kr. local rate. This is the story of the discovery of the "Kubin Bisects". To end the story, we have to say, that the man was paid 100 Austrian Shillings for each of the covers with the bisects, at that time about $7.00.

This fascinating story was told to me by the late Edwin Mueller while we had lunch in New York at his favorite restaurant.

Ten years have passed since that time and I felt compelled to investigate this matter as it was from "My Territory" of philatelic interest.

In November 1961, I called on Mr. A. L. Michael, who was at that time still in the store of Wingfield's on the Strand. It was shortly after the International Stamp Exhibition of Budapest, where his Hungary collection was awarded a Gold Medal.

Mr. Michael kindly allowed me to look through his beautiful collection. There, I found 3 covers with Kubin bisects, plus several postmarked Kubin with the single 3 Kr. green stamp. The covers with the bisects were all dated September 28th, 1873, and all written by George Dimitrovic, a clerk in the office of the lawyer Stopfkuchen in request of payment. All claims were for drinks, enjoyed at the local pub which belonged to Mrs. F. Miiza. The covers with the 3 Kr. stamps, had different dates, and were also in request of payment, but for different services (doctor's fees, etc).

Shortly before this visit, I myself acquired a cover with a Kubin bisect at an auction sale in Germany. It was also dated September 28th, 1873, asking payment of 6 Fl. 84 Kr. for drinks in Mrs. Miuza's tavern. Later I have seen a few more covers with such bisects, all dated September 28th, 1873, with exception of one dated June 1874. Looking carefully through the covers, I came to the conclusion, that the bisected stamps have most probably been used before. Consequently, we have to consider the usage not an emergency franking, but a re-use of already used stamps to the detriment of the Post Office. — This naturally, does not in any way, diminish the philatelic value of these covers, and makes them perhaps even more elusive.

It is characteristic, that from September 1873 until June 1874, no such bisects have been found, which indicates that the Post Office discovered the fraud, and gave a warning to the lawyer's office. Mr. Stopfkuchen, the lawyer, apparently warned his clerk Dimitrovic, not to do such a thing in the future. It is obvious, that Dimitrovic, put the few Kreuzers into his pocket.

The reader will naturally ask, how come, that the man from Kubin got hold of such a bundle of these covers. Well, the bisect cover which is illustrated here, and all the covers I have seen, including the ones with the 3 Kr. stamps, have a blue pencil mark by the postman "Wird nicht angenommen" (Has not been accepted), or "Annahme Verweigert" (Receipt has been refused). So all the letters have been returned to the lawyer's office and probably stored in the attic, until they were discovered.

A prominent collector of Hungary, had his doubts because it seemed unlikely to him, that in a small town like Kubin so many people at the same time were owing money for drinks. As a former lawyer in Yugoslavia I think I can answer this question.—There, people of the trade, particularly small store owners, giving credit for small amounts of money, usually wait until they accumulated a certain amount of debts, because they did not want to bother the lawyers just with one or two small claims. So Mrs. Miuza waited until she got a fair number of debts for drinks, and finally in September 1873, gave the list to the lawyer to collect the money.

As far as I recall, at that period, a law was introduced in Croatia-Slavonia, which was a separate law-territory from the Serbian-Banat, making such debts unlawful with no possibility of claim, similar to debts resulting from card games. The law was called "Zakon o krcmarskoj vjeresiji" (The Law of Public House Credits"). Recently I was trying to find out, if such a law existed in the Serbian-Banat, just to see if the lawyer was justified to ask payments for drinks.— My research was unsuccessful, as neither one of the lawyers I have contacted or the Law Societies, could find any trace of this law, not even in Croatia-Slavonia, although I am sure that it existed in that part of the country.

Letter To Editor

Dear Sir:

The "Plateblock" controversy has been interesting to follow in the pages of the Philatelist and there is no question that both the pros and the cons have something to say. It has been some time since we have seen anything that has created so many letters to the editor. The Editor is to be congratulated for expressing his opinion freely as are all the members that have taken time to express their own. We as Canadians are usually afraid to state any opinion that may cause any controversy on almost any matter from our foreign policy to our hobby, afraid that we will step on somebody's toes. There is nothing wrong with a good honest debate, and we should have more of it. There is though only one thing that I would like to add to all that has been said on the subject already. Modern Plateblock collectors and other collectors of modern material collect these stamps for their own sake and as such it is perfectly alright; for everyone has the right to collect what they want. There are though some Plateblock collectors that feel they are doing something philatelic by collecting all plates in all positions, and that is not the case; can any one of them distinguish a modern stamp—let us say the 1c. War issue—as coming from Plate 6 rather than from Plate 30 without the selvedge?

Yours very truly,
