SPRING FEVER

March 1, 1973

Dear Friends:-

The other day I took a quick trip to Winnipeg and sold a valuable lot of B.N.A. then I bought a lot of mint Canada. Upon boarding the plane for Toronto, I was put through security precautions, which required me to go through a door frame, presumably filled with electronic gear to detect whatever they don't want you to take aboard. Before walking through this device, my brief case was taken by an attendant who carried it around to the other side of the desk for examination. The Inspector, a big, burly sort of a fellow, was a bit startled when I said "Be careful how you open that - the stuff may all fall out." Standing back, he said, "You open it" which I did and thousands of Canadian stamps flowed over the sides onto the counter. I had not had time to pack them properly. Well being an amateur collector, he was all eyes and questions, and although I had no bomb or weapons, it took ten minutes to get clearance while he examined my stamps with envious delight.

A long time counter customer decided to sell his collection to me. I should say accumulation, because there were albums, sheets, blocks, covers and many envelopes of new issues and purchases made over the years which had not been sorted. The United Nations were complete in every which way, and in quantity, the British Colonial and topical collections were beautiful. Included were St. Kitts 1923 Tercentenary to the £ mint, Swiss almost complete with the scarce League of Nations and Department sets. The Canada was excellent but not mounted, just loose in an envelope - what a grab bag! Pence issues and other better stamps were mounted on temporary pages. In all a very wonderful lot.

Mr. & Mrs. Greaves of Toronto collected Kennedy stamps. This is an interesting and popular topical theme for some years and they have been working at it with enthusiasm as a team. He bought the stamps and his wife mounted them. Practically complete with all stamps in superb mint condition and the album pages were beautifully arranged and most of the items were in Hawid mounts. They had other supporting material such as a large frame with his inaugural speech and pictures from magazines and so on. They had gone about as far as they could and had years of pleasure, and so they decided to sell it. I was indeed pleased to buy it along with various other albums of British Colonies and foreign. They have kept their Canada and are still having a lot of fun with it.

A young married man in Sudbury decided to sell his collection in order to help buy a home, and for this purpose one cannot find fault. He had put together a beautiful 11 volume British Colony, all mint, practically all complete sets, and in very fine condition. Also included was a handsome lot of France in 3 volumes. This was shipped down to us by Express, and of course, after a few days of valuating we sent off our cheque and the deal was completed. I am sure when this chap gets settled in his new home, that he will return to active collecting again.

We purchased a very large stock of used British Colonies from a dealer, including many complete sets. Total catalogue value was over $60,000.00, and the condition was very fine throughout. Included in one of the deals was over 3,000 used copies of the Canada 15c U.P.U. This is an item that has been short in our stock for some time, but this should set us up for a while.

With Spring and Summer just around the corner, I will be looking forward to some trips around the country to value stamps, so if you are thinking of selling, please get in touch with me.

Philatelically yours,

HARRY B. MARTIN, Jr.

If one considers that philately is an educational experience then stamp clubs can be likened to "encounter groups" and dealers can be classed as teachers of the various grades from kindergarten to university.

Examinations of proficiency are conducted at the great international exhibitions and in the auction rooms.

The auction room is a great leveller. It reduces the many facets of collecting down to the ultimate measure - monetary value. Unfortunately for some collectors the lessons of the dealer's shop are ignored and it is with dismay that they learn that their stamps purchased at such "bargain" prices are going to realize far, far less than they expected. They never learned the basic lesson that is demonstrated in all responsible dealers' stores, that it is far better to have one perfect stamp than ten copies that are not so perfect.

It is easy to own ten "not so perfect" stamps but to own only perfect stamps takes discrimination, patience and sometimes courage. In Harmers annual review a perfect copy of a 2c stamp cataloguing $2.50 realized $130.00, and closer to home, two bidders competing for a perfect copy of the 5c Large Queen (catalogue $125.00) drove the price up to an astronomical $2,300.00. The stamp was not picked up and will be resold by the auctioneer J.N. Sissons. It is doubtful if it will reach so high the second time, but it will certainly realize many times normal catalogue value.

Imagine the value of a collection made up of only the most superb copies of all stamps!!

The moral of this comment being, "It's condition that counts - not catalogue".

X X X

I would have thought that all collectors had learned their lesson about the dangers of transparent adhesive tape, but apparently some have not got the message. I was recently told of a collection in transparent mounts that had had the open end of each mount closed with a small piece of transparent adhesive tape. Needless to say, the adhesive had deteriorated and run into the mounts. A misguided effort at protection that greatly reduced the value of the stamps.

Transparent adhesive tape should not be used in any fashion near anything philatelic. Don't even use it on the outside of your albums. It can be transferred onto your stamps accidentally.

The index enclosed in this issue has again been prepared by member J. Charron of Longueuil, Quebec. Mr. Charron has done this as a labour of love for the society for many years now. Contributions such as this are of value to all philatelists.

NATIONAL LIBRARY

Mr. Harry Sutherland, President of the Royal Philatelic Society of Canada officially opened a National Library of Canada exhibition "Philately - The Label and the Mark" on December 11, 1972.

Books selected from the National Library's recently acquired Philatelic Collection were displayed for the first time and included earlier publications relating to adhesive stamps and more recent publications on postal history.

The variety of items displayed illustrated the major developments of philately during the last 30 years, and the numerous and diverse facets of collecting in this field.

In keeping with the holiday season visitors saw a number of Christmas stamp designs submitted by children. Other items of special interest were an essay proof of a design by Sir Sandford Fleming for Canada's first stamp; an original transcript of a Queen Anne document making the first mention of postal service for Canada, and loaned by the National Postal Museum. Other items were on loan from friends of the Royal Philatelic Society and the Public Archives of Canada.

Dear Mr. Harris:

About two years ago you bought from me a collection of British and British Colonies stamps for a sum well over $1,000 and at that time your method of handling and settling the transaction was a most pleasant experience for me.

There is a sense of security in dealing with a firm which has demonstrated its integrity and decided to offer my United States collection for sale I again thought of you and I confidently dispatched my collection to you knowing that it was going into good hands.

Your offer was submitted and the amount was well within my own estimate of the value; thus, again, my expectations were realized. The check, even larger than before, was promptly received and it is most gratifying to know that this second transaction was equally as pleasing as the first. There is no substitute for fair dealing.

Cordially and sincerely,

Richard L. Duncan

YOUTH EDUCATION PROGRAM

COME, BLOW YOUR HORN is now in its second printing! We have distributed 300 copies during October and November. Since then requests for additional mailings come from over 200 individuals who either saw someone having it or would like one mailed to a friend. The majority of those requesting the material are teachers, not necessarily collectors themselves.

We have a sufficient number of requests for COME, BLOW YOUR HORN from French speaking teachers and youth workers. As soon as a good translation is made we will distribute them to those interested.

Mr. George LaMesurier an Ottawa teacher and philatelist proposed to cooperate in preparing a manual for teachers. We expect that it will become available in the late Fall of 1973.

The junior section at TORONTO '73 will be under the jurisdiction of the Junior Philatelic Society of America whose Canadian Director is a member of the Royal, Mr. Graham J. Noble. This group will oversee the philatelic entries in the exhibition and have a table in the Governments and Societies Section. The members of the jury for youth exhibits will be Mr. Doug Patrick of Toronto, Dr. Albert Friedberg of Cleveland and a junior apprentice judge appointed by the JPSA.

Sales Department

New books have been coming in steadily since the new year and among them has been some nice Canadian material but the demand from members is such that I regret all requests for Canadian circuits cannot be fulfilled. So those of you who have some good stuff to spare please remember that we have many members wishing to buy it.

Stock of most countries are sufficient at time of writing but new books of the following are still wanted NOW.

Early Great Britain and U.S.A. Mint and Used

Early British West Indies. Mint and Used.

USED British Pacific Islands.

I must point out that no modern material of any country is required for the time being. When I need to replenish stocks I will let you know.

At time of writing we in this part of the world (Ontario) are enjoying weather fit for the golf enthusiast. . such as me, so if you do not hear from me you can guess that I am knocking the white ball around instead of shipping out philatelic goodies. Seriously though, sales circuits are still coming and going (postal service permitting) and the good books are emptying fast so I hope that those of you with surplus stamps or covers that I require, will find the time to mount them in our blank sales books and send them in. Books are available at a cost of one dollar for five, postpaid.

THE RAREST AND MOST EXPENSIVE UNIQUE POSTAGE STAMP OF EUROPE IS FOR SALE

Where - it can, of course, be acquired through a firm where during the last 50 years practically all top rarities were either sold by auction or private treaty.

Certainly you will remember the DM 287,000, — obtained for the BLUE MAURITIUS in the spring of this year, the DM 260,000, — the original sheet Saxony No. 1 fetched in the fall of 1971. Others will still think of the unused block of 6, DOUBLE GENEVA, and the block of 12, OLDENBURG No. 5, or MAURITIUS No. 1 and 2 on cover. Forty years ago these items were sold by Edgar Mohrmann to Maurice Burrus, a celebrity in philately.

But you may rest assured that for smaller stamps too we are getting extremely high results.

We recommend that you make use of the service supplied by and enterprise of worldwide renown. Do choose the right partner.

Canadian Expeditionary Forces Mail - Siberia, 1918-19 - A Study of it's Markings & Stationery

by Ed Richardson, FRPSC

PART I

Introduction

Just a bit more than twenty-five years ago we came into possession of our first Canadian Siberian Expeditionary Force cover. a few months later, April 1948, it became the subject of packet No. 1 of our new column, The HOLLOW TREE, which then ran in Popular Stamps, and which continued later in the Canadian Philatelist for a total span of twenty-one years. Our interest in this military sideline, like that in Canadian Philately generally, has never dimmed. It is still a very facinating facet in Canada's History.

Much has been written during those intervening twenty-five years on the subject, yet for the most part these studies have been relative to the Siberian Expeditionary Forces, the units making up the force, their movements, sailings, return, and relationships with units from other nations, together with the over all purpose of the Expeditionary Forces themselves. This information is most valuable, and indeed very necessary to the study of the covers and postal markings born of this short lived adventure.

We do not intend that this study be a duplication of earlier works. Rather we hope that it will be a useful supplement. Our intention is to give primary attention to the markings and to the stationery provided by auxillary services and to do it in a manner that will make for easy reference. We aspire to be able to give the student of Siberian Expedition covers an easy reference where all the known data relative to any marking and stationery is recorded, and where such data will not be buried

A great deal of the data is new, but much of it is merely the correlation of facts already known. We will ask more questions than we answer, so it is a long way from being "the final word."

Bibliography

We certainly do not follow the usual pattern when we place the bibliography near the beginning of our work. We feel that it is necessary in this instance, in order that students are made immediately aware of other studies relating to the subject. But even more important, in the list given below, the first word is the one that will be used throughout this work when referring to that particular reference, rather than always to have to use the full title. The first three form the basic reference works on the subject, but the others will be found to be useful.

X X X

1. FAULSTICH. "The Canadian Expeditionary Force in Siberia, 1918-19" by the late Edith M. Faulstich. The basic work on this subject. Originally appeared as an article in the January 1968 POSTAL HISTORY JOURNAL. Reprinted as a separate handbook, 32 pgs. 21 illus., maps & plates in which 9 diff. covers are included. Much historical data.
2. WEBB. "Canadian Forces Mail Siberia 1918-19" by the late Lt. Col. R.H. Webb. This helps to bring Faulstich up to date. Appeared in two parts as an article in the CANADIAN PHILATELIST, 1969 nos. 1 - 2. 12 pgs. 10 illus. showing 11 diff. covers.
3. RICHARDSON. "Canadian Siberian Expeditionary Force Mail, 1918-19" by this writer. 10 pages. Xerox. Illus. 6 covers, 1 stationery, 5 markings. Incl. as part of BNAPLEX '68 Monograph No. 3 "Canadian Military Mail." Most of the material originally appeared in the CANADIAN PHILATELIST (Hollow Tree) in packets No. 603, 666, 860, 890, 902, 926, 931, 947 and 961.

4. MINISTRY. "Overseas Military Forces of Canada" 1918. Report of the Ministry. Pages 20-23 and 68 gives interesting data on Canadian forces in Murmansk and Archangel, in Northern Russia. No mention of Siberia.
5. CONGRESS. "The Canadian Expeditionary Force in Siberia, 1918-19" by Ed Richardson. 1960. In the 26th American Philatelic Congress book. 5 pgs. Any early work, with errors. Wrongly assigned some Siberian covers to Archangel.
6. NICHOLSON. Official History of the Canadian Army - "The Canadian Expeditionary Force 1914-19" by G. W. Nicholson.
7. SWETTENHAM. "Allied Intervention in Russia 1918-19, and the Part Played by Canada" by John Swettenham. 1967. Ryerson Press.

Historical Background

A.) Northern Russia. It may surprise many postal history students that there actually were Canadian forces in Northern Russia during this period. Quoting from Ministry "It was in May 1918 that the War Office approached Canadian Authorities with a view to securing the services of a number of officers and non-commissioned officers — Accordingly a Volunteer Party of five Officers and 11 non-commissioned officers proceeded to Archangel in June. — It was shortly after the organization of the above party that the War Office asked whether the Overseas Military Forces of Canada could furnish two Batteries of Canadian Field Artillery — and the 16th Brigade Canadian Field Artillery, consisting of the 67th and 68th Batteries, with a strength of 18 officers and 469 Other Ranks was organized at Whitley and embarked for Russia on September 17, 1918. — These two Batteries were in much of the recent hard fighting near Shenkursk—."

"On November 11, 1918, the Brigade fought a notable action — Up to April 1, 1919, the only casualties suffered — were — one Officer died of wounds, five Other Ranks killed, and several Other Ranks wounded and sick.”

“These forces are serving on a front roughly 120 miles south-west, south and south-east of the Base (Archangel) along the River Dwina.”

“The Canadian Overseas Ministry was asked in August 1918 whether it could furnish a number of Officers and Non-Commissioned Officers to act as instructors for a Special Mobile Force at Soroka (Murmansk-Murman Peninsula). — 18 officers and 74 non-commissioned officers arrived — in October 1918. — This party up to the end of March (1919) had suffered no casualties.”

Thus, there were in Northern Russia, during the same period that other Canadians were in Siberia, a goodly contingent:-

Archangel (Admin)

5 Officers 11 Other Ranks

Archangel (Dvina Column)

18 Officers 478 Other Ranks

Murmansk-Murman Pen.

18 Officers 74 Other Ranks

Totals 41 Officers 563 Other Ranks

This information is given here as it raises one very big question - Where are all the covers from these contingents? All of the students that I have discussed this with - know of none! Yet at least one cover is known from the American contingent at Archangel, it is illustrated on page 63 of the STAMP SPECIALIST, Gray Book. Supposedly the Americans had some 5,100 men and officers located there.

B.) Siberia.

Surprisingly enough while the Ministry report must have been written late enough in 1919 so that the Forces sent to Northern Russia were adequately covered, no mention of the Siberian Expeditionary force is made!

However according to Nicholson the composition of the Canadian Expeditionary Forces in Siberia included:-

The Canadian Government made the decision to participate in the Siberian action on the 12th of July, 1918. But no action was taken until mid-August. Within a few weeks the concentration of troops for embarkation began at Willows Camp, near Victoria, B.C.

The first troops left Vancouver on October 11th and arrived at Vladivostok on October 26th. This was the advanced party of approximately 700 troops, and they sailed aboard the "Empress of Japan."

No additional members of the CEF left Canada until mid November, and December. In the meantime the Armistice had been signed at Versailles on the 11th, there seemed to be considerable public opposition to further military adventures and the Cabinet hesitated. Only the "B" Squadron, R.N.W.M.P. and a few others left on November 17th. Since the Mounties numbered 190, it is unlikely that this entire contingent exceeded 220.

On November 27th the Cabinet reaffirmed its decision to despatch the main body of the C.E.F.

These left in three separate groups aboard the "SS Monteagle," the "Protesalus" and the "SS Teesta."

There were approximately 4,000 Canadians in Siberia at the peak. Webb says 3,800 - Faulstich says 4,188.

Troops started to withdraw from Siberia in April 1919, and the last group, including the No. 5 Detachment, Canadian Postal Corps, left on June 3rd.

While stationed in Siberia, only a small group evidently proceeded far into the interior. On December 9 a small group of administrative personnel left via the Trans-Siberian Railway for Omsk, reaching that city after twenty-one days travel! They returned, apparently taking even longer due to the revolution, not reaching Vladivostok until mid-May.

The 259th Infantry Battalion was sent to Shkotova, only 35 miles from Vladivostok in April 1919. Otherwise, the Canadian units of the Expeditionary Force were not permitted to go inland.

So, considering how scarce any Siberian cover is today, - what a great find it would be to come across even one cover from the Omsk area, or other interior point!

Hiawatha's Stamp Collecting

By C. P. RAVILIOUS

Then to matters philatelic
 Turned my learned Hiawatha;
 Turned to proofs and duplex markings,
 Perfins, cancels, postal fiscals,
 Used-abroad and first-day covers:
 All this lore of postal history
 Pondered then my Hiawatha.

Where the river murmured faintly,
 Where the meeting-tree rose skyward,
 Where the merchants brought their bundles
 To attract the eager buyer,
 Hiawatha bought an album,
 Bought a spring-back loose-leaf album
 To preserve his stamp collection;
 Bought a quantity of hinges
 (Double-gummed for easy peeling),
 Bought a gauge for perforations.
 These did Hiawatha purchase.

Then, much daring, Hiawatha
 Sent for medium-priced approvals,
 Choice approvals (suit beginner),
 Quality all-world approvals
 To augment his stamp collection.
 All impatience Hiawatha
 Waited then the postman's coming;
 Rose while yet the dawn was stealing

Moccasined across the water
 By the shores of Gitche Gumee;
 Rose to wait the postman's coming.

Full of joy was Hiawatha
 As he handled those approvals,
 Choice approvals (suit beginner):
 Ajaman paintings, Ras al Khaima,
 Christmas triptych from Anguilla
 Fifty Munich, fifty moonshots,
 Fifty nudes from Abu Dhabi;
 Plus—the high-spot of the package—
 Giant free-form stamps of Tonga,
 Free to introduce approvals,
 Guaranteed five-star approvals
 (Mainly singles and thematics),
 Choice approvals (suit beginner).

These did Hiawatha purchase,
 Mailing off a postal order,
 To the dealers in approvals,
 Quality all-world approvals,
 Guaranteed five-star approvals,
 Choice approvals (suit beginner).
 But the careful Minnehaha
 Raised her voice in vengeful anger.
 "Did our fathers ever purchase
 Bits of paper from a dealer,

THE CANADA CENTENARY STAMPS 1967 - 1973(?)

It is not certain yet but chances are excellent the last replacement for the long lived 1967 Centenary set will appear in 1973 and we shall then have a completely new set of regular postage.

This Centenary set started out with about a dozen varieties but over the past 6 years, what with additions, reissues, experimental papers, tagging, not to mention a few very interesting errors, the sum total must be close to, or over 200 different. Specialists are going to love this set. Already several booklets have appeared concerning it and one well known English catalog has priced over 100 of the stamps. One thing is certain; no one who has a small or large hoard of the stamps is going to part with them until he figures out exactly what it is he has.

I'll have a fairly complete PRICED check list available later this year. And, of course, good sized collections of the many varieties all correctly identified, at still reasonable prices.

On approval when ready. Send in requests.

A COMEDY OF ERRORS

The final commemorative stamp for 1972, in honor of the famous painter Cornelius Krieghoff, has come up with quite an array of errors (if one has the plate set). A complete set of plate blocks shows no less than 4 spelling errors of the name Krieghoff. And that isn't all; 4 of the stamps in the right hand blocks show a good variety: the "latch on the door."

28 million stamps were printed which sounds like a lot until one realizes it is just a bit more than 1 per each Canadian! Seems like everyone in the country heard about the errors as the stamp was sold out in just about every post office in the land within a week.

I have 100 of the plate sets complete with errors etc., to offer at $10.00 a set; one to a customer as long as they last. More important, would like to get in touch with anyone who may have 10 or more sets for sale. State quantity available and price wanted.

THE MAPLE LEAF IN AUTUMN ERROR

Now for one of the very rarest of all major errors. A pane of 50 of the 1971 Maple Leaf in Autumn stamps was discovered in Sherbrooke, Quebec with all lettering missing. I purchased this pane in 1971 and nearly all have long since been dispersed. Have yet on hand 2 superb copies and they are a bargain at $3000.00 each as this error is roughly 5 times rarer than the famous Seaway Invert.

A most worthwhile investment as Canadian errors, unlike those in Great Britain and the U.S. A., are few and far between.

X X X X X

Needless to say, am always interested in purchasing any major Canadian error discoveries. The phone number is 204-667-6881.

FOREIGN CLEARANCE LOTS

Strictly for the general collector. I have a number of selections of various British Colonial (a few BNA, but not many) and foreign oddments all priced out per set, or lot, or singly in the case of scarcer stamps. Total value of a selection is several hundred dollars net and buyers have option of taking anything wanted at a handsome discount, or the entire lot at a very great discount indeed.

Available on approval on request. References or society numbers appreciated from new clients.

Bits of paper almost worthless,
 Wasting all this time and money?'
 Thus the outraged Minnehaha.
 Hiawatha bowed his tresses,
 All his war plumes drooping sadly
 At these words of Minnehaha;
 Till a thought caressed his fancy,
 Roused him like a distant war-drum.
 "Could not I become a dealer?"
 (Thus the thought caressed his fancy.)
 "Could not I by drive and know-how
 Make my hobby self-supporting,
 Prosper as a part-time dealer?"

Soon the shores of Gitche Gumee
 Echoed with excited rumours,
 While the fame of Hiawatha
 Spread like wildfire through the wigwams
 And the people thronged to witness
 Painted on a monster placard
 Over Hiawatha's wigwam:
HIAWATHA: STAMP PROMOTIONS.

To this day does Hiawatha
 Flourish as a well-known dealer,
 Selling nudes from Abu Dhabi,

Ajman paintings, Ras al Khaima,
 Lovely free-form stamps of Tonga
 (Free to introduce approvals);
 But the biggest money-spinners—
 So my Hiawatha tells me—
 Are commemorative covers,
 Cancelled with a special hand-stamp,
 Covers hand-stamped "Gitche Gumee"
 To commemorate the pow-pows
 By the shore of Gitche Gumee,
 By the wigwam of Nokomis,
 By the shining big-sea water.

WHAT'S NEW IN OLD CANADA

STAMPS WITH HOLES

In 1863, Mr. E.L. Cull of Toronto was concerned about the cleaning of stamps and illegally re-using them so he wrote to the Post Office Department suggesting that a cancelling device be devised that would have pins on the face so that the stamp would not only be "killed" but mutilated as well. The reply from the Post Office Department stated that experiments of this type had already been done and it was found that short pins dulled too quickly and that long pins damaged the contents of the envelope. Apparently Mr. Cull did not discourage easily because in 1867 the post office at Toronto started to use cancelling devices of this type which appear to have been locally made and have become known as the Toronto Scarifying Grids.

These were of the diamond grid design introduced ten years earlier, with the addition of pyramidal pins. When struck they would punch "X" shaped holes in the stamp and would apply the ink pattern as well. They were used contemporaneously from February, 1867 to November of the same year.

Not only did these devices prove to have the disadvantages already mentioned but there was one more that the Post Office Department could not anticipate. The pins extending below the face of the hammer had a tendency to deflect the paper enough so as to cause a poor registration of the ink. thus it is difficult to accurately establish the number of Scarifying Grids and the pattern differences of each.

The Jarretts's Catalogue (1929) shows five types and Boggs' (1945) seem to have copied the information from Jarrett. However, close examination of over fifty stamps and covers has established that every device contained three pins - no more, no less - and that these were never closer than 3 mm. center to centre. If these factors are indeed true then three, rather than five, of these implements were used. These are illustrated above.

UNDER THE LOOKING GLASS

By KEN PUGH (R.P.S.C. #9503)

Perhaps it is now time to discuss those varieties which although very interesting to collect, do not warrant very much cash being paid for them.

When looking through several philatelic journals, newspapers, and auction lists, I was amazed at the asking price for many of these items, and I shudder at the thought of many novice collectors paying exorbitant prices, and not fully knowing what they are buying.

Although in many cases, the dealer is equally uniformed as the buyer, such transactions are very likely to lead to ill feelings between them when the true nature and value of these varieties come to light.

For a dealer to persist to advertize these items as "great rarities", or items of great value is of course detrimental to the hobby of stamp collecting, and a flagrant violation of professional ethics.

For a clearer understanding as to how many of these varieties are caused I suggest you read - Canada - Varieties of the Queen Elizabeth Era (Part I-Basic Types).
1) Blunt perfs - At first glance two stamps with blunt perfs appear to be imperforate.

Most collectors and dealers have recognized that as long as a trace of the perfs is visible that the variety would be classed as "blunt perfs", and not as imperforate and have little value.

2) Coil pairs - "Imperforate horizontally between" (see photo). To my knowledge these have been reported with the six cent black perf 10, seven cent green, and eight cent slate issues. All of the examples I have seen, and have read about have the faint impression of the scoring knife, and similarly to the "blunt perf" varieties, cannot be classed as true imperforates. As horizontal pairs are rarely if ever used on regular commercial mail, I hold these items to be of a purely philatelic origin, and of little value.

If you really wanted to, you could obtain a strip of 10 horizontally joined rolls from the Post Office, and by not breaking the rolls apart, have an entire sheet of one thousand stamps "imperf horizontally" between.

One dealer even affixed hinges to the gum side of the unsevered pairs because they are liable to separate! This is not always the case, however, as some examples have been found that are almost impossible to separate. Prices have varied from $1.00 a pair to $13.00 a pair.

3) Hickies - (see photo - 1969 - six cent Christmas - between AN of CANADA): Although these lithograph varieties may appear for a few dozen sheets or more, they are too numerous, and not nearly constant enough to warrant catalogue status. Prices should range from 10 cents to 50 cents over the catalogue price of the stamp.

4) Doctor blade flaws - These may be found on the Mowat issue (see photo), or the Hearne issue. They are not constant enough to warrant a price over 50 cents.

5) Scratches - Despite the fact that scratches are less common than dots, they surely do not warrant the price of $10 as asked for by one Toronto dealer, for a block of six of the World Figure Skating issue containing a scratch'. The ad stated, "This error was quickly corrected. An estimated three hundred sheets only exist of this error." As lithograph varieties such as dots and scratches are quick to wear out I find his explanation dubious.

6) Colour shifts - Major colour shifts in which one colour runs into the adjoining stamp should be catalogued at $10 to $15, but many minor shifts have been grossly overpriced. One rather common shift on the 1969 Christmas issue was described by one dealer as, "Rare Canadian Double Image - an extreme rarity, these stamps have double and triple images due to shifting of overprint colours. Single - $15, block of four $50."

Another dealer's ad read "unheard of Canada six cent Christmas error. A block of the Lyman No. 503 in double image, all four faces in this stamp are in double.

I would suggest you place firm orders immediately as this would be a quick seller. Single - $20, block of four $75".

What bunk! These items should be priced at 50 cents each.

If you have any varieties to report or further examples of inflated prices I would be most interested to hear from you. Because of the large volume of mail I receive, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope if a reply is requested. My mailing address is 134-20th Street, Brandon, Man. R7B 1L4.

COLORFUL WHITE ACE SETS THE PACE

Call it colorful, with pictorial vignette and border designs on every page that are tastefully presented in sparkling multicolor. Notice that it's fully illustrated, with a picture in every display space so you won't be confused about where stamps belong. Say it's educational, thanks to the informative background notes that are given for every issue. Don't forget durability, because the pages are made of long-lasting card stock, and the binder is sturdily constructed to White Ace's premium specifications. And then there's flexibility, which points to the easy-to-use looseleaf page style and regularly published supplements.

Really . . . whatever you want in an album, this handsome White Ace has it. Collecting Canadian stamps is fun no matter how you go about it, but it's sheer pleasure with this White Ace beauty of an album. Try it. Thousands of collectors already have . . . and they're glad.

Canada: The Large Queens Issue Of 1868

Dr. Robert A. Chaplin F.R.P.S. (L).

The British North America Act was passed on 29 March 1867. The provinces of Canada, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia were united into the Dominion of Canada on 1 July 1867. The first parliament assembled on 6 November 1867. The Post Office Act of 1867 was passed on 21 December 1867 and became effective 1 April 1867. New postal rates were established and new postage stamps were required.

In anticipation of these changes the British American Bank Note Company had been contacted in 1866 and a contract for stamps was completed in October 1867. One half of the first order was to be delivered by 1 March 1868., The demand surpassed expectations and a second order was placed in May 1868.

The vignette was engraved by Alfred Jones from a contemporary coin which had been engraved by Charles Henry Jeens (1.) The vignette is the same for each denomination.

ESSAYS and PROOFS.

There is a three cents essay on india paper (Fig. 1). It is similar to the approved design. The significant difference is that the "three cents" curves upwards around the central vignette. They are recorded in blue and green (2.)

There is a progress proof of the completed vignette in black on card and two similar engraved vignettes with artists sketches of proposed designs for a two and a twelve and one half cents stamp. These are not the accepted design.

A progress proof of the five cents on india paper has been reported (3). This impression was made before "canada postage" and "FIVE CENTS" were engraved.

are on large cards and some have been cut from a trade sample sheet which was produced by the British American Bank Note Company late in 1869. There are plate proofs in color of issue as well as the occasional color trial.

THE PLATES.

Each plate had one hundred subjects laid down in ten rows of ten each. There was an imprint in the centre of each of the four margins and a counter (the denomination) in capital letters was in the upper left margin of some plates. There were three types of imprints consisting of colorless letters in a colored bar (in intaglio).

Boggs' type three imprint (Fig. 2) British American BANK NOTE Co. Montreal & Ottawa, is known on the one, the two, a three, the unused plate of the five and plate two of the six cents.

Boggs' type four imprint (Fig. 3) BRITISH AMERICAN BANK NOTE CO. MONTREAL & OTTAWA, is known on the one half, a three, plate one of the six, the twelve and one half and the fifteen cents plates.

Boggs' type five imprint (Fig. 4) British American Bank Note Co. Montreal, is on the five cents plate which was used to print the stamps (4.)

The counters are in the upper left margin above the first stamps (Fig. 5). they are in capital letters approximately 4½ m.m. high and are known on the one half, the two, one plate of the three, the five, plate one of the six and the twelve and one half cents.

THE PAPERS.

Many types of paper were used in the production of the large queen stamps. Mr. Gerald Firth classified six groups in an article published in 1924 (5.) In 1931 Mr. Charles Lathrop Pack described fifteen different papers (6.) The next year Lt. Col. M.A. Studd added six more to Pack's classification (7.) It is practical to classify the major types and not to labor with minor varieties.

Fig. 5

A. The earliest printings were on thin to medium crisp semi transparent wove paper. It has often a yellowish tint. The impressions have a blurred appearance. The one, two and three cents stamps are readily identified by shade alone. The six, twelve and one half and fifteen cents stamps are on a somewhat thicker paper and more difficult to identify.

B. The majority of stamps of each denomination and all the one cent yellow were printed on a medium to thick wove paper, usually white but sometimes with a yellowish tone. The horizontal mesh is often well defined.

C. Medium to thick wove paper, watermarked in two lines "E. & G. BOTHWELL CLUTHA MILLS", was used for all denominations except the one cent yellow and the five cents. Its use was very rare for the one half cent stamps. The paper has a vertical mesh.

D. Horizontal laid paper was used for the one cent brown, the two cents and the three cents. Only two examples of the two cents have been reported.

E. Medium wove paper watermarked "Alexr. Pirie & Sons" in single line script was used for a very few fifteen cents.

F. A very smooth thick white paper commonly referred to as "carton paper" was used for a short time to print only the fifteen cents stamps.

G. Medium to thick poorer quality paper was used for the later printings of the one half cent and the fifteen cents stamps.

PERFORATIONS.

All denominations are perforated 12 by 12. The one half, five and fifteen cents stamps are also perforated $11\frac{1}{2}$ by 12. The five cents stamps perforated 12 by 12 are uncommon.

GUM.

The gum varies considerably. Early it was thin and clear. The Montreal printings have a streaky darker gum. The second Ottawa printings have a smooth brown gum.

The large queen stamps were first printed in Ottawa. In October 1874 the printing was transferred to Montreal and the compound perforations appear. The fifteen cents stamps were again printed in Ottawa from 1888 and subsequent years.

The large queens are often referred to as Canada's most attractive stamps. They are certainly the best example of skilled workmanship. There are very few plate flaws and it is difficult to find evidence of re-entering or double entry.

The stamps were to go on sale 1 April 1868. Some were used earlier and copies dated late in March are not rare.

THE ONE HALF CENT STAMPS.

The one half cent stamps were issued on 1 April 1868. (Fig. 6). They were replaced by the one half cent small queen stamps in July 1882.

"The rate of postage upon periodical publications, other than newspapers, shall be one cent per four ounces, or half a cent per number, when such periodicals weigh less than one ounce and are posted single, and when such periodical publications are posted in Canada, these rates shall in all cases be prepaid by postage stamps affixed to the same". (8.)

Only one plate was used to print the one half cent black stamps. Bogs's type four imprint is in each of the four margins. The counter is 4 mm. high and is composed of shaded capital letters. The most significant variety is the unshaded chignon. It is most marked on stamp number forty-three and exists to a lesser degree on the two stamps above it and the four below. The stamps printed in Ottawa are an intense black. The later printings in Montreal tend to a grey-black. some Montreal printings are perforated $11\frac{1}{2}$ by 12.

Boggs estimates that 6,707,000 were issued to postmasters.

THE ONE CENT STAMPS.

The one cent red-brown stamps were issued 1 April 1868. The color was changed

A STUDY OF THE STAMP AND ITS USE"

By Maryette B. Lane
(Consultant: Elliott Perry)

. . . Most of the fascination surrounding this 2-cent black stamp of 1863-67 is its use rather than its production technicalities, so Mrs. Lane utilizes covers to pictorial assist in telling a complete, factual story. The handsome cloth-bound book contains more than 300 illustrations.

to orange-yellow in January 1868. They were replaced by the small queen stamps in March 1870. The one cent stamp was required to prepay the postage on local or drop letters per one half ounce, (Fig. 7) periodical publications other than newspapers per four ounces and for books and a large group of miscellaneous items including pamphlets, printed circulars, current prices, etc., per one ounce.

One plate was used to print the one cent large queen stamps. Boggs' type three imprint is in each margin. It is not reported if there was a counter. There are no significant plate varieties. The red-brown was confused with the three cents stamp and the color was changed. The first printings in the new color were deep orange followed by pale yellow and then orange-yellow.

Boggs estimates that 12,000 were issued to postmasters.

WHY?

For almost a half of a century we have been specializing in ERRORS & VARIETIES.

We are one of the few organizations who DO NOT CARRY REGULAR ISSUES, (but with a few exceptions). However, we do have one of the finest selections of almost all TOPICALS: Errors, Proofs, Essays, Die Proofs (some only 3 exist), Artist Drawings, etc. etc.

We are particularly strong in RUSSIA (XIX, XX) incl. Armeec etc. Zemstvo, Armenia (Covers!), Touva and Spain (XX, Civil War, Canary Is). FRANCE and Commun., POLAND (Groszy) AIRMAILS, etc. etc.

We have been able to assist many Philatelists around the world to build up or complete specialized collections, particularly TOPICALS (no matter how advanced they were), making it sometimes possible for them to win higher awards.

These are the reasons WHY! If you are anxious to advance in your field, maybe you owe it to yourself to contact us now!

Naturally, no obligation, and there's a good chance that you will be pleasantly surprised with our attractive prices and offers.

Postmarked Ottawa

By HANS REICHE (RPSC 6397)

A number of Canadian collectors continue to study the various papers which exist on commemorative issues since 1967. The finds vary from three different types to ten and as one philatelist suggests one does not even need a black light to separate them. Because of a lack of a standard in classifying these papers it is sometimes difficult to determine if one find means the same as the next one. May be one day we all have to get together at a meeting but in the meantime the search is interesting. This brings me to the point of mentioning that one can also find different paper usage in the earlier issues such as the Admirals. For example the 1c green exists on a white paper and also on a greyish paper. The last one is hard to find.

Another study area is the tagging and some outstanding research is done by a few collectors who report in various journals. The Ottawa tagging appears to present some difficulties to the manufacturer. We have noticed stamps which show only one band on one side and none on the other or sometimes just a very fine band on one side. Does one collect these narrow or wide bands or are these just curiosities?

The Kriehoff stamps are certainly very nice and a large number of collectors used these instead of the Christmas stamps on their letters. An interesting and constant plate variety occurs on this one. The fourth row, vertical, shows a horizontal line inside the door frame on the right side. A flaw which repeats itself due to the photo offset method used for laying down the plate. A pair with and without this flaw makes a nice addition to a variety collection. This stamp was so popular that in a very short period all plate blocks were sold out. Suddenly, out of the blue, appeared another lot of plateblocks. It has been suggested that some stamps were used for an experiment and then released for sale?!

This and many others using the PVA gum are difficult to soak off from the envelopes. Even, after long watering, they will stick to such surfaces as blotting paper when drying them. Most of these stamps are printed with fast colours and very hot water will not damage them, but it will take off the gum. Even a short exposure to boiling water helps.

An extensive study of the Canadian RPO cancels is now being carried out by a Canadian philatelist living in Japan. The existing book will be updated and we hear that a large number of new finds and other original information is being assembled for this purpose.

Another new book will deal with the King Edward issue and one philatelic society intends to issue a book on the recent definitives with all its ramifications. An introduction to the major constant plate varieties in Canada should also appear this year. A number of the Billig Handbooks are being reprinted and some include such information as the Canadian War Tax stamps and the original listing of constant plate varieties which appeared many years ago.

• WRITE FOR SPECIMEN COPY •

Dear Sir:

The postmark shown above is not unknown, at least to a few BC cancel collectors. The fact that it was used exclusively by the Military during World War One, however, actually makes it a previously unreported Canadian military cancellation!

For about a year a small group of collectors has been researching this cancel and a report, with illustrations, has been compiled. It comprises six Xeroxed pages.

The sub office was located in Willows Camp which was in the Oak Bay area of Vancouver Island. It was here that the 20th Machine Gun Company was reviewed by Major General Hughes, November 23, 1918 before the Company embarked for Siberia as part of the Siberian Expeditionary Force. Indications so far show this cancel to be very scarce.

Readers interested in Canadian postal history, especially those collecting military cancels, are invited to write RPSC member J. Colin Campbell, RR6, Ross Road, Kelowna, B.C. for details on obtaining a copy of this report.

Dear Sir:

The Philatelist of last July contained the results of a survey concerning Canada Militia Field Post Office cancellations used during the period 1909 - 1941. The plan then was to issue an amendment in March 1973 and this is finished and ready for issue.

Dates reported have been increased by 141 and of these three are most significant and will be of great interest to military cancels collectors.

Contributors to the survey will receive copies of the amendment. Other readers are invited to write to: J.C. Campbell, RR6, Ross Road, Kelowna, B.C. for a copy.

J.C. Campbell
RPSC No. 8804

Dear Sir:

In Mr. Pugh's article in the January CP on page 39, I was momentarily confused by the sizes given in "mil." The word "mil" is commonly used to denote 1/1000 of an inch, which is evidently not what is meant here. I presume he was referring to millimetres. If so the correct symbol that should have been used is "mm." In any case I commend him for using the metric system, and I am looking forward to the day when we will be using it for all our measurements. Fortunately it is already fairly common in philately. I suppose though at this point in time anyone can be excused for using incorrect symbols. Note by the way, these symbols are never followed by a period and they do not add an 's' in the plural.

In case you are wondering what right I have to make such apparently dogmatic statements, I might mention that I am a member of the Canadian Standards Association Metric Practice Guide Committee, which is entrusted with preparing the official Metric Practice Guides for the Standards Council of Canada.

Dear Sir:

I should be grateful if you would publish in a future issue of "The Canadian Philatelist" the following appeal to your members:

In order to complete certain volumes for its library the National Postal Museum requires the issue numbers noted opposite each of the following periodicals:

1. "The Canadian Philatelist"
Whole No. 6 (Vol. 1-No. 6) March, 1929
Whole No. 7 (Vol. 1-No. 7) April, 1929
2. "Stamp Collectors Exchange Club Magazine"
Whole No. 46 (Vol. 8-No. 4) Nov. - Dec. 1943.
3. "Maple Leaves" - Journal of the Canadian Philatelic Society of Great Britain
Whole No. 1-4 (Vol. 1-No. 4) 1947
Whole No. 45 (Vol. 6 - No. 7) 1956
Should any member have spare or unwanted copies of the afore-mentioned magazines, the Museum is interested in acquiring them.

Dear Sir:

Within two weeks after reading Mr. Stulberg's article about the Peterborough Oval Registered dater (in Vol. 23, page 283), I acquired a cover with an oval dater from Cornwall, Ontario.

As is customary, at the top of the oval is the word "Registered", below it reads "Cornwall, Ont." The date is "Oc28" and below it "85".

The nicest part about this cover is that the 2c RLS is tied to the cover by the oval dater, and in addition there is a clear strike of the dater in the clear part of the cover. Additionally, a lighter strike of the dater ties a 3c small Queen to the cover and to the 2c RLS.

Where the oval dater does not tie the stamp(s) to the cover, I would submit that there should be some independent evidence to establish the genuine character of the cover, and the dater.

You might want to pass this letter on to Mr. Stulberg. I find his column most interesting and informative.

"The Stamp Showplace of Ottawa"

OFFERS AN OUTSTANDING PHILATELIC OPPORTUNITY TO VISITORS

We travel to obtain collections and estates. We are able to display 1200 stock books full of reasonably priced singles and sets from all countries. For example, we have over 100,000 different used stamps available at half Scott catalogue.

We feature a unique list of about 200 intact collections and lots, priced at a fraction of usual retail when the entire unit is taken. These tend to be quickly priced and often contain extra value. Many dealers and collectors make special visits to Ottawa, after finding unusual bargains in our store.

If you are interested in stamps, don't miss:

Dear Sir,

May I introduce myself in that, I am representing the Island of Tristan da Cunha in the South Atlantic Ocean, midway, between South Africa and South America.

The reason of my writing you now is, to find out as to whether you are interested in Stamp issues from the Island. In a recent communication I am advised of the following:-

1972 definitive set £ 2.27½p; Silver Wedding set of November 20th, '72 is 2½p and 7½p, or 17p FDC; with three (3) very attractive issues to follow in 1973 at 29p the set, or 36 p. for FDC.

Back issues are available upon request!

Should you be interested, the usual procedure is to establish and maintain a standing credit account with the Postmaster on Tristan da Cunha for so many FDO's, CTO, Mint Sets etc., from succeeding releases, as they come along (usually two (2) and sometimes three (3) per year, commemorative).

Canadian currency is quite acceptable on Tristan and exchange values may be obtained at any Canadian Bank of Sterling.

No remuneration is exacted by self and all business is transacted between Tristan da Cunha and buyer!

REVIEWS

Pictures in the Post by Richard Carline

The book traces the history of the postcard from its beginnings in the popular art movements of broadsides and prints, through the advent of the Penny Post, the Mulready Envelope and its many caricatures, the plethora of pictorial envelopes to the early view cards of the 1870s and the myriad of views and greetings that appeared during the Postcard Craze.

It is particularly useful because it not only includes an accurate chronological series of units but also a stylistic analysis of design trends. Comprehensive footnotes and an extensive bibliography are most useful to the student.

The book is approximately 9" by 12" and contains 62 full color illustrations and over 120 monochrome illustrations of choice postcards. It is available in softback binding with dust jacket ($7.50 postpaid) and hardback, library edition with dust jacket ($12.95 postpaid) from Deltiologists of America, Suite D, 318 Roosevelt Ave., Folsom, PA 19033. The society is the sole U.S. distributor of this book, and due to the limited quantity available, librarians, dealers, and collectors are asked to send payment—check or money order—in advance. Books will be shipped the next day after order and check are received. The society will include information about its services to collectors and dealers of antique picture postcards.

A worthy addition to any collectors bookshelf.

SCOTT'S VOLUME III (J-Z)

With the publication of Volume III the 1973 Scott Standard Postage Stamp Catalogue completes the listings from Japan to Zambesia in 1,082 pages. Prices have been altered on 27,397 items with a strong market activity in Japanese stamps accounting for 2,059 changes in that country. Of the 124 stamp issuing entities there are, in fact, only 8 in which prices remain unchanged from 1972.

Classic issues of Europe show advances in Netherlands where some of the early air mails are also up. Sweden number one is raised to $2,500. and number three is listed at $3,500. Swiss Cantonal issues are led in significant price changes by the Basel Dove (No. 3L1) which has moved unused from $2,100. to $2,300. The first Swiss federal stamps also show impressive upward revisions.

Recent auction realizations have been responsible for the higher pricing of Mexico No. C74 p the Amelia Earhart overprint - now quoted at $1,500. unused and $1,750. used. The 1936 air mail (No. C76a) with watermark variety is valued at $2,259.

Less than 100 catalogue numbers have been changed. There is no Addenda since stamps issued as late as October 1972 appear in the body of the catalogue. It has the same features introduced in its companion volumes for this year - a glossary of philatelic terms in four languages and the advertisements of several stamp dealers.
