Canadian Stamps Below Face

May 1, 1975.

Dear Friends:-

The Canadian Post Office is now selling mint Canadian stamps, on a permanent basis, to four foreign dealers UNDER face value. These dealers are located in United States, England, Belgium and Italy. They in turn can sell these stamps at face value and make a profit and our Post Office Department believes it to be a good way to increase distribution and sales of Canadian stamps. I take a very strong position that this is wrong and our Post Office has no right under any circumstances, to sell Canadian stamps to anyone, especially foreign dealers UNDER FACE VALUE.

How do you feel about this?

About 10 years ago while I was on the Island of Jersey, I bought the Commander Bowie stock. It was a tremendous lot, but was terribly mixed up and very disordered. To facilitate my work I sold off some boxes without examining them to Bill Affleck, the Oshawa dealer for $5,000.00.

Recently when visiting Mr. Affleck, he reminded me of his Bowie purchase and what a wonderful mixture it was, and also that it turned out to be a very profitable deal for him. He thanked me and added there was one item stuck in among a lot of cheap stamps - a bundle of New Guinea L-1 "Bird of Paradise" used, Scott No. 45, cataloguing $45.00 each. He had kept these aside for the last 10 years and now insisted on sharing his good fortune by giving me half of these L-1 stamps, quite a gift, but then he's quite a guy - my friend - Bill Affleck.

Ralph Waldo Emerson (1803-1882) once wrote "Poetry teaches the enormous force of a few words, and, in proportion to the inspiration, checks loquacity". Thus, try this . . . . .

ON CONTINUITY

An inch won't make you very tall,
You've got to keep on growing;
One little ad won't do it all,
You've got to keep them going.

One step won't take you very far,
You've got to keep on walking;
One word won't tell folks who you are,
You've got to keep on talking.

A constant drop of water,
Wears away the hardest stone;
And the dog that keeps on gnawing,
Masticates the toughest bone.

The constant, cooing lover,
Carries off the blushing maid;
And the constant advertiser,
Is the one who gets the trade.

In other words - when you want to sell stamps - write or telephone me.

Philatelically Yours,

HARRY B. MARTIN, Jr.

THOUGHTS & THINGS . . . . . FROM THE EDITOR

THE TIME HAS COME . . . . .

"The time has come" the Walrus said "to speak of many things....."
—Lewis Carroll.

It has been said that reminiscing is a characteristic of the elderly. However, at certain times many people, irrespective of age, indulge in it and cling to it as a child hugs its security blanket. Now I would like to share with you my thoughts of my past two years as editor of this publication.

If one were to judge accomplishment by editorial impact, my efforts, I fear, emerge as failures. One of my crusades was to get a statement of policy from the National Postal Museum concerning the disposition of duplicate and excess material. The ensuing silence has been deafening.

In another editorial it was pointed out that many collectors are engaged in a never ending search for material for their collections and cost seems to be no object. Yet bitter complaints are still heard each year when Canada Post publishes its list of new issues at approximately $6.50 for the lot.

More than once it was stated that some collectors consider women philatelists inferior to men solely on the basis of traditional sex attitudes. This controversial and sensitive subject brought forth a deluge of two letters.

One editorial came out in defence of speculators and hoarders pointing out the valid contribution that these people make to our hobby. Of the two replies received one suggested that I was a misguided capitalist and the other, that I was a misguided communist.

It was emphatically mentioned that a system for the accreditation of judges could not come about until local exhibitions were handled in a way that was consistent with methods used at other levels. Almost as an act of defiance return mail brought a request for me to judge a local exhibition using the standards so strongly condemned in the editorial.

On the positive side, however, letters and comments about the CANADIAN PHILATELIST seem to indicate that our publication is one of the leading philatelic journals of the world and need not take a back seat to any other. The reason for this is obvious. THIS IS NOT A 'ONE PERSON' EFFORT.

Our success lies in the fact that interested and knowledgeable people provide a continuous supply of good, original articles. These are complimented by a wealth of varied and informative 'columns' supplied issue after issue by our group of talented feature writers. To this we add a dedicated business manager who, single-handedly, takes care of all the advertising which provides the extra funds that permit us to function without compromise. The final member of the team is our printer who happens to have the old-fashioned idea that anything worth doing is worth doing well.

By now many of you must be saying "When is that old man going to stop rambling and get to the point." Well, the point is that this will be my last issue as editor. The next issue of the C.P. will be edited by Peter Mann. Peter was introduced to the members of the R.P.S.C. (July-August, 1974) when he was chosen assistant editor a year ago. Since turnabout is fair play I will remain on staff as Peter's assistant. This arrangement will permit me to devote more time to my newly acquired appointment as curator of the philatelic department of the Royal Ontario Museum.

I ask that you continue to support Peter in the same way that you have supported me. No editor could ask for more.

A SOCIETY DEVOTED TO CANADIAN FLAG CANCELLATIONS IS FORMED

At a British North America Philatelic Society Convention held at Williamsburg, Va. in September, 1974 thirteen (lucky) people got together to form a society devoted to the study and promotion of the Flag Cancellations of Canada. Ed. Richardson of League City Texas, author (with Ted Killish of Detroit) of the now famous handbook on this subject was made member number one. Membership has more than doubled since that meeting.

So far three excellent Flag Cancel Bulletins have been prepared under the able editorship of Larry R. Paige. The one recently received was an interesting, informative 17 page effort. Those interested in membership should contact Larry at 1069 Shillelagh Road, Chesapeake, Virginia, 23323 U.S.A.

COMPEX '75

This year the emphasis at COMPEX '75, being held on May 23, 24 & 25 at the La Salle Hotel, Chicago, will be B.N.A. philately. The Royal Philatelic Society of Canada, the British North America Philatelic Society and the Canadian Philatelic Society of Great Britain have been asked to participate.

The R.P.S.C. will be contributing approximately 300 frames of Canadian exhibits for the Court of Honour and has also provided several articles for the COMPEX program and directory.

The philosophy of COMPEX is an interesting one. It was founded quite a few years ago as the result of an inspiration of several Chicago philatelists. At that time close to a dozen societies and clubs were functioning as individual entities in Chicago and the immediate area. It was decided that much more could be accomplished if each of these had a common purpose and still were able to maintain their individuality. This brought the establishment of the Combined Philatelic Exhibition of Chicagoland, Incorporated which operates COMPEX on an annual basis.

This exhibition functions for the benefit of the philatelic and stamp clubs of the Chicago area and to the benefit of philately everywhere. Support COMPEX and the R.P.S.C. by planning to attend. Information can be obtained from COMPEX '75, 216 La Salle Hotel, Chicago, Ill., 60602, U.S.A.

First attempts by the Post Office to promote Canadian stamps were quite unsophisticated. The early cards were overlooked by many collectors and are now becoming difficult to find. # Some Aspects Of Postal Contribution To Early American Life

FEATURE

By Graham J. Noble

(First of Three Parts)

Author's Note:

This series is intended to serve as an introduction to the role played by the postal service in the formative years of the American nation and its importance in facilitating greater communication of news and ideas to its far flung inhabitants. It will be interesting to contrast some of the themes presented here with the Canadian experience in a future series to see if they are of comparable significance. Appreciation is expressed to Dr. Elwood H. Jones, Assistant Professor of History, Trent University, Peterborough, Ontario who read and commented extensively on this paper and Mr. Gerald F. Tully, also of Peterborough, for his comments and providing the illustrations from his collection of early American postal rates.

It is regrettable that historians have tended to pay little attention to the role of the postal service in American life, ignoring its vital contribution to the social and economic development of the nation. Several works have skirted some of the many facets of the postal service without really attempting to come to grips with the far reaching network of postal operations that have, at one time or another, touched every sector of United States life from the government, to the business community, to the frontiersman and the farmer.

Even today the post office is easily ignored as it functions just beneath the mainstream of daily life. Taken for granted, its necessity is spoken of only in times of strikes or rate increases. Today there are numerous forms of communication with mass media, being a large part of our lives. Television, radio, a daily press, and telecommunications bring the world instantaneously to our doorstep. National news is no longer gleaned from letters, because their function is now relegated to the conveyance of private, local and family matters plus endless bills.

It is somewhat difficult then, to think of the post office as one of the major forces behind uniting a loosely connected young Republic. However an entirely different view was held from the Revolutionary period well into the middle of the nineteenth century. It is the intention of this article to demonstrate that the United States Post Office played a vital role in eliminating distances, both mentally and physically, between Americans. It did this, in the first place, by enabling government matters to reach the hands of the people quickly, thus into every village and town transforming local prejudices into a loose form of nationalist sentiment in a way not previously possible. The improved postal service "was both a sign, and in its own way a cause of the growing unity among the English colonies in America. The rapidly swelling number of Intercolonial marriages, Intercolonial business arrangements and Intercolonial education, so noticeable by this time (1760's), not only were reflected in the large flow of mail among the colonies, but were themselves in part made possible by it." 1

One of the tactics of the Sons of Liberty, a radical patriotic group, was to disrupt the administration of the colonial postal service. It diverted mail intended for post offices by forcing ship captains to deposit letters in taverns where postage due would not have to be paid, effectively cutting off revenue. Postriders, who collected their wages on a commission basis, began running their own private postal service, at reduced rates, from their own homes. Postmasters, many sympathetic to the cause but nonetheless desirous of their commissions hesitated raising objections to this practice fearing they might be branded agents of oppression.

A 'Constitutional Post' grew out of the fear that postmasters loyal to the King would undermine the growing revolutionary movement by opening letters and diverting newspapers carrying the rallying cry. William Goddard, proponent of this new postal service, advanced his scheme which included the General Post Office's dismissal of Benjamin Franklin in January of 1774. by the time the Second Continental Congress met in May 1775, Goddard's Constitutional Post was in operation from Maine to Williamsburg, Virginia. Realizing the importance of the post office in resisting British rule, the Congress took over the system in July. Once again placed in charge of operations was Benjamin Franklin. Goddard was awarded the post of chief surveyor.

So successful was this postal system in diverting mail away from the General Post Office's established network, that Hugh Finlay, Franklin's replacement as Deputy Postmaster General was forced to close G.P.O. headquarters in New York around Christmas 1775 and move northward to Montreal; all communication between the two centres ceasing a few months later. Throughout the Revolutionary War, the Constitutional post office was indispensable in conveying communications between the government and army as well as private correspondence between soldiers and their families. "One measure of its importance to the government was the vast sum of money - $163,000 in 1780 alone - Congress poured into it to keep it afloat." 2

Franking Privilege for the Militia — 1844

Free access to the mails was a privilege granted to members of the Continental Congress as well as officers and men of the Continental Army. Franking privileges then were viewed as a fringe benefit of service and these letters constituted the bulk of the mail. It is not difficult to understand then, that the post office in the Revolutionary era ran into considerable debt and required heavy subsidization.

Realizing the vital role the post office would play in peace-time, the Continental Congress established its own post office on 18 October 1782 regulating postal operations throughout the thirteen states. A New York publisher, Ebenezer Hazard, was appointed Postmaster General. The uncertain political jurisdiction of this post office together with a period of post-war depression hindered the effective operation of the postal service during the 1780's. Postmaster General Hazard insisted the post office accept only hard money in payment for postal services and this was seen as an affront to such states as Rhode Island and North Carolina where paper money was legal tender.

Numerous complaints of poor service and tampering with the mails were heard throughout this period, most vociferously by members of Congress who threatened to replace Hazard if the situation were not improved. Even Jefferson and Madison often corresponded in cypher for fear their letters would be intercepted.

Friction developed when individual states wanted to establish an efficient postal service within their own borders which would acknowledge only the Federal governments right to carry mail along interstate roads. If brought to fruition this issue would have sparked a major legal battle, an early test of Federal-State jurisdiction, but the shaky State finances at the time could not have supported the additional burden.

1. READY SOON
THE CANADA CATALOGUE 1953-1974

This covers very effectively the Elizabethan period and includes the fascinating Centenary issues, pioneer Winnipeg tagged, the booklets, errors and varieties including errors hitherto unknown to the philatelic public, etc., etc. All presented in an easy to follow manner. Took 7 years to put this catalogue together and the information is invaluable. It does make a difference whether a 6c. stamp issued 7 years ago is worth 6c. or $500.00 or something else $2.00 or $1,500.00. Plenty of surprises as postage section alone takes in about 500 varieties not counting the Winnipeg Tagged (128 more) or the officials, errors, postage dues, etc. All fully illustrated.

Price of the catalogue $10.00. Order promptly as printing is limited and if reprints are necessary, they will cost more.

2. THE CENTENARY OF THE U.P.U.
THE PRESENTATION BOOKLETS

To celebrate the 100 years of the U.P.U. most of the member nations put out special presentation booklets which were given to each of the delegates. Ordinarily such booklets are never sold to the public but their existence is well known and various stamp dealers do their best to buy whatever they can from the delegates once a Congress is over. The Centenary Congress was held naturally in Lausanne, Switzerland, and one of the foremost European dealers did an excellent job of buying up all possible. Of some he got as many as 20 booklets, of others only 3. Next he sold the entire lot to me and this has arrived from Paris France, via Air Canada in 26 packing cases weighing over half a ton.

So I have available 3 collections with over 100 different Presentation booklets in each lot. Price is $3,000.00 each collection. It would be an invaluable lot to any collector wanting to fill in issues of the past 5 years. There are thousands of mint stamps. My price is based on the face value of the stamps in each booklet but there is also the intrinsic value of the special presentation booklets to consider. Here are 3 examples: China, which I valued at only $2.00 in the collection - I don't see where anyone would ever sell this slim red silk clad beauty of a folder for under $30.00, provided one had one for sale! U.S.A. - I valued it at $3.50 but wait till you see this extraordinary presentation. What is it worth? Start at $100.00 perhaps. Canada lot I valued at $55.00 and again we have something worth at least $200.00. It is quite the handsomest and artistic presentation booklet Canada ever put out.

Others equal these, some are more pedestrian but all in all each nation did its best for this Centenary celebration. Besides the above 3 collections I have up to 17 each of some 90 U.P.U. member nations. These will be sold individually or in related groups, i.e. Scandinavia, British Commonwealth, etc. Name what you would like to see and I'll send it on approval. Prices for all such will be based on the face value, plus a reasonable markup for any special artistic presentation.

MACABRE STAMPS — PART 4

In the second, third, and fourth numbers of the 1974 Canadian Philatelist, this column featured a new topic, the macabre. "To qualify as macabre a stamp must, in my opinion, combine two features. First the subject depicted must be brutally tragic - and second, the design stark and undelialized; in short it must be a gruesome stamp" (CP, 25.2, p. 119).

This is a rather restrictive definition, as most stamps that mark a tragic and brutal event tend to play down the horrors of the situation. No doubt this is due to the healing tendency in man to forget the worst. At any rate, I have not found very many stamps that meet my definition. The purpose of this article is to list all those known to me and to describe a few of them not previously mentioned.

—Philatelic Photographics, Toronto

The all time world's champion macabre stamp is the 1973 Austrian anti drug abuse stamp (figure 1), which I described erroneously as "steel engraved" on p. 151 of Volume 25, Number 3 of the Canadian Philatelist. It is, of course, printed by photogravure, superbly as normal for Austria. Monaco has also issued anti drug stamps in 1972, 1973, and 1974. Of these, only the 1972 set is definitely macabre; the others are close but somehow are not quite grotesque enough. Similarly the drug abuse stamp from the United States does not make the gruesome grade.

Monaco issued a macabre stamp in 1971 and another in 1972 as propaganda against pollution. Both of these graphically depict the ravages of industrial pollution. Charles Baudelaire published his greatest collection of poetry, Les Fleurs du mal, in 1857 and was honoured by a stamp from Monaco in 1972 (figure 2). The design evokes the spirit of les Fleurs du mal although it does not seem to be based on any particular poem.

The first few lines of "Le Crepuscule du soir" are in harmony with the feeling of the Baudelaire stamp:

Voici le soir charmant, ami du criminel;
 Il vient comme un complice, a pas de loup; le ciel
 Se ferme lentement comme une grande alcôve,
 Et l'homme impatient se change en bête fauve.

This is a most unusual stamp and indicative of the striking nature of so many modern commemoratives from Monaco.

The disasters of the Second World War have resulted in several macabre items. In 1947 Poland drew attention to the descent of Auschwitz with two postcards (figures 3 and 4). In 1944 Nazi occupied Albania brought out a set of seven semi-postals showing a woman and baby leaving a burning home with a crumpled body in front of its door for the aid of war victims (figure 5). Since most of the victims were victims of the Nazis, this issue should perhaps win an award for unparalleled hypocrisy. In 1948, Albania commemorated the death of partisan martyr Qemal Stafa with a set of three stamps and a souvenir sheet. The border of the sheet contains a macabre drawing of Stafa being gunned down by fascists.

South Vietnamese soldiers are given special airletters for writing home to their families. The one illustrated (figure 6) commemorates the Viet Cong Tet offensive of 1968 and shows in a crudely executed design civilian men, women, and children being hacked to death with a village burning in the background. I do not know when this airletter was issued, but I have North Vietnam has issued quite a few stamps treating the war, including a series marking each 500 American planes shot down. I suspect that some of these may be macabre but cannot say for sure until I see them. The cuts in the Yvert catalogue are not clear enough for a judgement. One of the problems in topical collecting is the generally poor quality of catalogue illustrations and the lamentable but necessary practice, given the large number of stamps issued, of illustrating only a few stamps of a set.

The United Nations in both the New York and Geneva offices, issued stamps showing a skull enclosed in a black poppy pod, an effective and macabre design. The first day covers of the Geneva issue (figure 7) also features a macabre cancel and cachet. Ghana's anti-nuclear bomb stamp of 1962 (figure 8) rather resembles the UN anti-drug designs.

Stock Market Weak, Stamp Prices Strong

Doesn't that say something to you? Perhaps fine stamps and covers are better than cash today. Or, on the contrary, perhaps now is the time to sell.

Whatever your judgment, Harmer is at your service.

We are not well informed on the securities market, but we know stamps. We have been active leaders in philately for three generations, in London, in New York, and in Sydney, Australia.

We would like to discuss your analysis of timing with you. We are always interested in buying as agents for our clients, or in selling their collections advantageously through our public auctions to meet world-wide demand.

Let us hear from you.

What Price Varieties?

By Frank Heeley

Yesterday I received a circular from a West Coast stamp dealer. The circular (was advertising in particular) "Errors and Varieties". Nothing unusual about that. Then I looked at some of the quoted prices: a 'Merritt' "superb" black colour shift for $15.00 single; a 'World Cycling' "truly superb black colour shift" for $15.00 single; the list went on and on to recount the 'wonderful' finds.

Curiosity got the better of me and I decided to check through my own collection with particular reference to errors and varieties as mentioned in the circular. If the circular's information and prices are genuine - and I'm sure the dealer believes them to be so - then all of a sudden I am worth much more money today than I believed myself to be worth yesterday. Here is what I found after a not-too-exhaustive 'search'.

Scott No. 655 - Merritt - Of forty-two stamps in my collection - collected at random - thirty of them have a colour shift, the black picture scene being moved to the right in varying lengths from 1 to 2 mm.

Scott No. 642 - World Cycling - The "truly superb black colour shift" is really not so. Rather, there is a shift of the silver spokes varying from 1 to 2 mm. of thirty stamps I examined only four were 'normal'. Yet the advertiser suggests such a colour shift as being "a rare item indeed".

To add spice to variety, so to speak, I found that stamp numbers 9, 47 and 49 have a red ink blotch on the bottom edge of the black tire. Stamp number 5 has a green dot on the outer end of the bottom spoke. Stamps number 41, 42 and 44 have a definite black-red ink mix on the figure '8'.

Having now discovered so many blobs and things in just thirty stamps my ever deepening curiosity led me farther on the road to 'discovery'.

Scott No. 569 - Algonkians - Out of twenty stamps I found the Indian dancer to be 'normal'; to have a blue left cheek; to have a black-eye. Meanwhile, his lady alternately did or did not wear a blue head-feather in varying positions.

Scott No. 572 - This Indian brother, not to be outdone by No. 569, sports a yellow colour shift of 1 mm to the right. But sometimes he's 'normal' too.

Scott No. 620 - Colour shades give us many choices between a 'pale' queen and a 'well-suntanned' queen.

Scott No. 621 - Presents us with a variety of colour shades from a 'pale' queen to a 'blushing' queen. In addition, several stamps have a definite black-red ink mix in "Canada 15". The advertiser mentioned gold colour shifts; yes, they are there, and in addition there are fine red lines in the centre of the tiara.

— Toronto International Stamp and Postal History Exhibition. Secretary — Kenneth Rowe, Apt. 403, 90 Warren Road, Toronto 7.

Scott No. 657 - Stamp number 11 shows blue ink 'spilled over' into the lettering of OLYMPIADE.

At this point of time my eyes became blobbed looking for 'blobs' and I asked myself, "Why, oh why, do we place great emphasis on blobs and colour shifts?"

So many of Canada stamps are printed in several colours and in many cases must be run through the presses several times. Is it not then expecting a little too much to expect that there should be no tolerance for paper positioning? Should we expect a 'perfect' stamp every time? I don't think that printing machinery has been developed to work with no allowance for paper shifting to some slight degree.

A careful inspection of stamps from other countries where the latest in machinery is used will indicate minute colour shifts. Personally I'm not at all sure that we should call these minute variations 'varieties' because they are not, really, and I do not agree that a 'colour-shift' of 1/2 mm or 1 mm deserves a price of $15.00. I feel that it is high time stamp collectors cease to be bombarded with 'blobs' and 'colour-shifts' at very questionable prices.

Through these columns others may wish to express their viewpoints about varieties, or some acknowledged specialist may wish to offer some insight into the subject. Personally, I'm all blobbed.

THE CONVENTION COORDINATOR -----

The scheduled locations for the RPSC annual conventions 1976 to 1978 inclusive are:

29 May to 6 June 1976;
- b) 1977: BC PEX '77; Vancouver,
British Columbia
21-23 April 1977;
- c) 1978: CAPEX '78; Toronto, Ontario

Any RPSC Chapters who are interested in hosting an RPSC Convention after 1978 are requested to contact R. K. Malott, 16 Harwick Crescent, Ottawa, Ontario, K2H 6R1 for further details.

The 1976 Convention will be held in conjunction with INTERPHIL '76, the Seventh USA International Philatelic Exhibition. Interphil '76 will commemorate the 200th anniversary of the birth of the United States of America, and 200 years of postal progress in the USA. It will be presented in the Exhibition Halls of the Philadelphia Civic Centre, where approximately 2,500 frames will be displayed. The RPSC will not hold a separate exhibition, but rather members wishing to exhibit material will submit entries in compliance with instructions in the INTERPHIL '76 Prospectus available from the Canadian Commissionaire, James N. Sissons, 37 King Street East, Toronto, Ontario, M5C 1E9.

RPSC members considering attending and/or exhibiting at INTERPHIL '76 are urged to write Jim Sissons for a prospectus, which contains the necessary details for exhibiting and accommodation. Specific RPSC activities at INTERPHIL '76 will be announced in The Philatelist when arrangements are completed.

Questions concerning this event may also be directed to Dick Malott, RPSC Convention Co-ordinator.

THE CANADIAN GOVERNMENT ANNOUNCES
A NEW SERIES OF PRECIOUS METAL STAMPS
TO HONOUR THE 1976 OLYMPIC GAMES.

The Olympic Stamp Sculptures — Series Two.

In 1976 Canada will host for the first time the prestigious Summer Olympic Games. There will be many ways to remember this important occasion in Canadian history, but none so lasting, none so unique, as the precious metal Olympic Stamp Sculptures struck for the Canada Post Office in 24 karat fine Gold, .999 fine Silver and richly burnished Bronze. The second series are exact replicas of the second series of Olympic Action Stamps.

For all collectors the importance of this series is obvious. By themselves, or as companion pieces to your Olympic collection, these precious metal sculptures will add a distinctiveness to your portfolio not found in any other offering.

To capture the spirit of this series, weeks of delicate engraving were expended in transforming the original designs into flawless 3-dimensional sculptures. A total of three experimental dies were developed before the perfect die was achieved. The individual pieces are hand-coined and meticulously checked to assure quality, depth and brilliance. This care is traditional in the minting of limited Proof editions.

To indicate that this series was officially commissioned by the Canada Post Office, each piece carries the Post Office seal, the mint's hallmark and its precious metal content stamped on the back. Each is also serially numbered and matched with the two remaining pieces in your set. No other set will have your number and the sooner you order, the lower the number you will receive.

The three denominations are available in your choice of precious metals: Gold, Silver, Bronze or in a combination set as pictured. The Silver sculptures can be ordered with shining Prooflike or matte Antique surfaces. All sets come handsomely packaged in superb presentation cases.

Order now! Reservations must be postmarked no later than June 3rd, 1975.

To protect the integrity and collectors' value of your sets, orders will only be accepted for a 60-day period commencing April 5th. Orders postmarked after the midnight June 3rd deadline will be, regrettably returned. The sets are available now. Delivery is guaranteed but will take 6-8 weeks due to the extraordinary care each set is given.

A purchase of Olympic Stamp Sculptures will help support the athletes that will represent you at the 1976 Games.

NEW STAMP HONOURING LOUIS HÉMON

Postmaster General Bryce Mackassey announced a further change in the 1975 stamp programme.

On May 15, two stamps will be issued to commemorate contributions to Canadian literature by Lucy Maud Montgomery and Louis Hémon. The stamps will feature "Anne of Green Gables" and "Maria Chapdelaine", two young heroines of Canadian literature through whose eyes early life in Canada was recorded for the

UN TIMBRE CONSACRÉ À LOUIS HÉMON

Le ministre des Postes, l'Honorable Bryce Mackasey, a annoncé une nouvelle modification au programme d'émission de timbres de 1975 et la parution, le 15 mai prochain d'un timbre consacré à l'écrivain Louis Hémon.

Ce timbre de Louis Hémon, qui sera émis en même temps que celui consacré à Lucy Maud Montgomery, remplace le timbre qui devait être consacré à Robert Service et dont l'émission a dû être retardée en raison de difficultés techniques dans la production.

Les deux timbres qui seront émis le 15 mai seront donc consacrés à Anne of Green Gables et à Maria Chapdelaine, deux jeunes héroïnes de la littérature canadienne qui font revivre, pour le plaisir de millions de lecteurs, jeunes et vieux, les premiers jours de la vie au Canada.

NOUVELLES ENVELOPPES ET CARTES POSTALES PRÉ- AFFRANCHIES

Ce nouvel ensemble se composera de quatre enveloppes et de deux cartes postales, affranchies à six et à huit cents. Les enveloppes seront offertes en deux formats, soit celle portant le numéro 10, pour la correspondance d'affaires et celle portant le numéro 8, pour la correspondance personnelle. Les cartes postales auront la dimension réglementaire de cinq pouces et demi sur trois pouces et demi. Les nouveaux motifs d'affranchissement en deux couleurs utilisés sur les enveloppes et les cartes postales, en plus d'être très jolis, découragent la contre-enjoyment of millions of readers, young and old.

The previously announced issue on that date to honour Robert Service has been deferred due to technical problems in production.

NEW PRE-STAMPED POSTAL STATIONERY

The new pre-stamped stationery will be in six and eight cent denominations and will consist of four envelopes and two postcards. The envelopes will be in two sizes, a number ten, business size and a number eight, personal stationery size.

The postage indicia used on the envelopes and cards are new attractive two-colour designs that are not only aesthetically appealing, but also inhibit counterfeiting. The continuation of the postage design around the edge of the envelopes provides added security. The eight cent envelopes use a higher quality of paper than formerly, to improve the opacity and to prevent see-through.

The envelopes and postcards in the eight cent denomination will continue to be available singly at prices of 11c. and 10c. each respectively. Both envelopes and postcards will be priced to provide customer savings for quantity purchases. A further five percent saving is available on purchases in carton lots. Purchases of the six cent envelopes will continue to be restricted to boxes of five hundred and six cent postcard sales will continue to be restricted to banded units of one hundred, although these items may be purchased singly from philatelic offices for collecting purposes at 8c. each.

The new issue is complementary to the high quality Canada Cards and the popular floral design aerogrammes and domestogrammes.

Both mint and First Day Cancelled envelopes and postcards will be available at philatelic counters across Canada and from the Philatelic Service, Canada Post, Ottawa Canada, K1A 0B5 at the single purchase prices quoted above.

These items are subject to provincial sales tax where applicable.

façon. On a utilisé un papier plus épais et de meilleure qualité pour l'enveloppe pré-affranchie à huit cents afin de la rendre plus opaque.

Il sera possible de se procurer à l'unité les enveloppes et cartes postales affranchies à huit cents. Un prix spécial sera consenti sur les quantités importantes. Quant aux enveloppes affranchies à six cents, elles ne seront disponibles qu'en boîtes d'au moins 500 alors que les cartes postales, également affranchies à six cents, seront vendues en paquets d'au moins 100. On pourra toutefois acheter ces articles à l'unité aux comptoirs philatéliques.

Ces nouvelles enveloppes et cartes postales viennent s'ajouter aux populaires aérogrammes et domestogrammes à motif floral et à la série de cartes postales du Canada.

Le prix, à l'unité, sera de 11 cents pour l'enveloppe affranchie à huit cents et de 10 cents pour la carte postale de huit cents également. L'enveloppe et la carte postale à six cents se vendront chacune huit cents.

On pourra se procurer ces articles à l'état neuf, ou couverts du pli premier jour aux comptoirs philatéliques partout au Canada ou en s'adressant par la poste au Service philatélique, Postes Canada, Ottawa, Canada K1A 0B5.

Ces achats sont assujettis à la taxe provinciale de vente.

From Andrew Brewin to Bryce Mackasey 29th Parliament, Second Session

By William Pekonen

PART II (Conclusion)

The purpose of this article is to show a code number for each session of parliament since Confederation. Opposite each code are the first and last dates on which free mailing privileges could be used by Members of Parliament. These dates do not necessarily coincide with the session dates.

The Post Office Act became effective on April 1, 1868. It is assumed, that prior to that date, anything goes for the 1st Session of the first parliament. The first session opened November 1, 1867 and prorogued May 22, 1868. We can assume, however, that the rules established by the "Canadian Postal Guide" (published Toronto January 1863) were generally followed. This rule allowed mail to be free ten days next before the meeting of Parliament.

A 1920 amendment to the Post Office Act allows free mailing of papers during a recess of parliament if these papers were issued by order of either House.

A 1951 amendment allows free mailing privileges to apply to the 10 day period following a session as well as 10 days before a session. This situation still applies as of to-day.

A correction is necessary to a statement made in the first article. Currently, we are experiencing the 30th Parliament not the 28th Parliament. Similarly the session which began on September 30th, 1974 is the 121st session and not the 115th session as previously noted.

The list below shows the dates of proper usage of FREE Mails by Members of Parliament. These dates apply to most general situations excepting:

1. Orders by the House
2. Cabinet Ministers
3. Partial terms served by an M.P.

These areas would be of concern to the specialist. The detailed information is available from the author, but considered beyond the scope of this particular article.

The identification by session is important because a member may be elected say for the 20th parliament, defeated for the 21st Parliament, and re-elected to the 22nd Parliament in a by-election for the 4th session. This would naturally affect the dates of proper useage for that particular member. Additionally, most sessions were NOT concurrent.

Consequently, this simple code has been developed to denote a session of Parliament during which a member was entitled to use Free Franking privileges.

Example: "12 - 6"

12 - Twelfth Parliament

6 - Sixth Session

Signifies: That the cover was mailed sometime between January 2, 1916 and May 18, 1916 which were the dates of proper useage.

Any Free covers mailed on dates other than those shown on the chart are either an "EXCEPTION" or are "SUSPECT".

TWO THOROUGHLY- RESEARCHED HANDBOOKS WRITTEN BY NOTED INTERNATIONAL PHILATELIC AUTHORITIES . . . . .

1. "Fundamentals of Philately"

By L. N. & M. Williams (of London)

This book was 15 years in the making. Five sections are now consolidated in one BIG unabridged edition.

The Williams Brothers today are regarded as the philatelic world's most prolific writing team. Their masterwork, covering 630 pages, plus a detailed index, "is intended primarily to be of assistance to adult 'beginners' seeking guidance, but we have reason to hope that the pages contain matters of record and some fundamental considerations which collectors and students with advanced knowledge will find helpful . . ." Expertly covered and profusely illustrated are such keystone subjects as Philatelic Trends ★ Aims of Collecting ★ Paper and Terms and Varieties ★ Watermarks ★ Stamp Design, including Features and Terms ★ Printing Problems and Characteristics ★ Intaglio Printing (Line-Engraving and Gravure) ★ Planographic Printing ★ Embossing (including Varieties and Terms) ★ Relief Printing ★ Inks and Color ★ Gum ★ Separation and Terms Relative to Separation.

THE COMPLETE 660-Page UNABRIDGED EDITION, Clothbound $20.00

2. "Canada's Registry System: 1827-1911"

By Horace W. Harrison (of Maryland)

(A Member of the Royal Philatelic Society of Canada)

Like all good monographs, this fascinating study starts at the very beginning — Money Letters: Forerunner of the Registry System. Other chapters cover Registry Letters Prior to the Issuance of Registered Letter Stamps (1855 to 1875), including domestic use, letters to the United Kingdom and United States, and then into the period of Registered Letter Stamps (1875-1893). Also of prime coverage, with illustrations, are the RPOs and their registry markings.

THE PROFUSELY-ILLUSTRATED HANDBOOK ..... $7.50

covers has also been developed. However, it has not been shown here because it is considered of interest only to specialists; and consequently beyond the scope of this particular article.

The next problem, of course, is the identification of the member who mailed the cover. This is determined by the initials which were often used as part of the franking. The author of this article is currently working on this problem and invites correspondence from interested collectors to determine the amount of interest by others. Should sufficient interest be shown, then consideration will be given to publishing a cross-reference. The above code, of course, will be an integral part of such a cross-reference for reasons stated earlier in this article. Correspondence should be addressed to this writer at:-

Whereas, up til now, Members of Parliament have been allowed free mailing privileges ten days prior to the session in Ottawa, they are now allowed the same consideration as before on the day that notice of his election to serve in the House of Commons is published in the Canada Gazette. Hence future lists will begin with the date of publication.

Rare Cover Sold at Auction

The recent auction sale by J. N. Sissons of Toronto of some of the property of V. G. Greene brought to light some items that had not been seen by collectors for a long time. Among these was a cover showing a 10 penny imperforate plus two s penny stamps sent from Hamilton, C.W. in 1855 via United States Mail through Boston. This was the emergency Crimean War rate. Also sold was an imperforate  $\frac{1}{2}$  penny on vertically ribbed paper on cover. This is a paper variety so scarce that many collectors of early stamps of Canada do not know of its existence. Stamp items that were sold included the only known unused block of six of the 17c. Cartier; a superb, never hinged block of 15 of the 20c. Numeral; gutter blocks of the 1, 2 and 3 cent Admirals, imperforate horizontally, first printing. Only ten such blocks could possibly exist.

Although the V.G. Greene postal history holdings are to be auctioned at a later date, several items were included in this sale. One of these was the famous Toronto cork PAID cancellation (see above). This is the only one on cover known to exist.

A few new definitive varieties can be reported. The 2c. Laurier has been found with nice vertical hairlines which appear to be the result of surface plate cracks. Also, the 8c. Q.E. is known on the same type of paper as the so called 'ribbed paper' of the Vancouver Dollar. The 6c. Pearson has been reported printed on the gum side; similar to the 6c. black of the previous issue. Not very many have come on the market. Perhaps, either fewer were printed or the inspectors were able to remove most of them before distribution.

The 1967 6c. definitive has been found with a very nice 'offset' on the front resulting in a doubling of much of the black design. A similar irregularity has already been reported in this column on the 3c. coil. Likely this happens when, through poor paper control in the press, the printed paper "kisses" the printing plate a second time.

Collectors of paper varieties should note that the new Olympic stamps exist on hibrite.

The Philatelic Agency in Washington has moved to larger and better housing with excellent displays of philatelic items. Automation in filling over-the-counter orders has been increased. An order for 48 different items, some in pairs, some in blocks, some tagged others untagged took exactly four minutes to complete. This system apparently keeps track of every sale and automatically adjusts inventory records.

This writer offered a suggestion to the Printing Bureau in Washington that received considerable interest. It was based on the optical scanning principle whereby machines could differentiate and sort according to the differences in stamp designs. This could prove to be much simpler and more economical than tagging and present day equipment could handle this task with ease.

I have had a query about the trimming of sheets of stamps after printing. Those delivered to the post offices for general use are trimmed so that the selvedge is minimal. Those for the Philatelic Section for sale to collectors are not trimmed as severely and the marginal imprint is left intact. This does not imply that those sheets for the Philatelic Agency are not trimmed at all after printing. The edges of the printing cylinders have inscribed on them additional information, some often that does not have direct bearing on the actual stamp printed. Experimental entries appear that have no relation to the stamp design on that particular plate. It is even possible to have different values, different stamps, and information changes on a cylinder after it has been formed. Although many philatelists cannot bring themselves about to believe this, I have been assured, and have assured others that this is being done. Someday a sheet of stamps that has been mis-trimmed will eventually be found that will display this interesting aspect of stamp manufacture.

Count them! The Canadian Olympic collectors are in for a wealth? of material. There will be a total of 35 different stamps; about 10 different stationery items; 50 different picture cancellations - one for each sport; booklets and even a small souvenir sheet. Can we expect a few imperforates?

Canada Error!

We have to offer ONE MNH MARGINAL BLOCK OF FOUR of the 1973 MOUNTIE completely IMPERFORATE. There are 250 of these stamps in existence! Perhaps the most interesting error of modern Canadian philately. 1975 retail listings at $1500.00+

BY KEN PUGH

This next series of articles will be presented largely in chart form. It is an attempt to present the data accumulated by myself during these past five years of research in this area, including as well the enthusiastic contributions of over 250 correspondents.

The data by no means is complete, nor will it be for some time. It requires your efforts, again, to report to our membership those items in your collections which are not listed here.

I would appreciate your using the headings given in the charts wherever possible.

Some of the topics I hope to cover in the future are: constant and semi-constant varieties; Freaks - plate flaws, colour shifts, perforation freaks and errors, perforation shifts, paper creases, folds, shading varieties, tagging, ultra-violet varieties, G varieties, papers, perforated initials, counterfeits, forgeries and fakes.

I am interested in expanding my reference collection of these items, thus if anyone has information as to where I can obtain this material please contact me at 134 - 20th St., Brandon, Man. R7B 1L4.

Terminology used in this article

COUNTERFEIT - Any fraudulent imitation of a genuine postage stamp intended to deceive and defraud the Post office of postal revenue.

FORGERY - Any fraudulent imitation of a genuine postage stamp intended to deceive and defraud the collector.

FAKE - Any fraudulent alteration of a genuine postage stamp to make it appear what it is not, for the purpose of deceiving collectors.

BOGUS - Any fraudulent production made only to deceive collectors, which has never existed in genuine form. They are also known as phantoms or fantasies.

Very often one may find combinations of the above terms. For example, a forged cancellation on a genuine stamp is properly termed a fake. A forged stamp once genuinely postally used is termed a counterfeit.

Other terms which may be found useful are:

REPRINT - Stamps printed from the original printing plates, after the official use of the issue has long since been discontinued. There is a common tendency to apply the name, in error, to fresh printings of current stamps from existing plates to renew postal or philatelic agency stocks.

SIMILITUDE - Reproductions of genuine postage stamps by reputable firms or groups for use as philatelic letterheads or greeting cards. Exhibition souvenir sheets may also be grouped into this category.

IN OLD CANADA

FEATURE*Philatelic Photographics, TorontoTWICE AS MUCH FOR YOUR MONEY

In this day of inflation we have come to accept the fact that one dollar will purchase fifty cents worth of goods. However, although it may seem hard to believe, the Post Office Department of Canada once sold one dollar's worth of current and useable stamps for fifty cents. Philatelists were to blame but they never received the benefit from this 'two for one' deal.

When the Jubilee Issue became available on June 19, 1897, there was a great demand for them by not only collectors but also speculators. Although the dollar values were the best investment potential, the outlay for these stamps would be significant in terms of dollars. However, people with an eye for making a fast dollar realized that an investment bargain existed with the purchase of the half cent and six cent denominations.

Only 150,000 of the half cent were printed and technically, one could purchase the total production for $750.00. Only 75,000 of the six cent value were printed. This started a run on these two denominations. On June 26, 1897, just one week after the Jubilee stamps went on sale, the Post Office Department issued the following directive to all postmasters.

With reference to numerous demands upon this office for the  $\frac{1}{2}$ c. and 6c. Jubilee stamps, I am directed to explain that the respective quantities of Jubilee stamps bear, relatively, the same proportions to the actual requirements of the Postal Service, but the tendency to exhaust the HALVES and SIXES has increased to such a degree, that it has become necessary to restrict their sale to purchasers of full sets.

The only group of people to suffer by this ruling were the companies, usually publishers, who used half cent stamps to mail periodicals (under certain conditions). In the larger urban centres the supplies of the previous half cent Small Queen Issue had been exhausted and it was not being reprinted. New stamps could only be obtained with the purchase of full sets.

Because it was illegal in Canada to bisect stamps to represent the value of the fractional portion, a new solution had to be found - and quickly. An official directive again went out to all postmasters advising them that they were to supply regular users with whole one cent stamps at one half cent each to be used in place of the unavailable proper value. Postmasters were to keep track of these special sales and were refunded the difference from the Post Office Department.

This, of course, would explain why examples of proper usage of single half cent stamps is known for all issues from the Large Queens of 1869 to the Numeral issue of 1898, and yet none are known for the Jubilee Issue of 1897. Certainly examples of half cent Jubilee stamps used singly on cover are known but no one has yet been able to come up with one that does not have all the earmarks of having been manufactured by favour for the sole purpose of ending up in someone's stamp collection.

QUALITY REPRINT REFERENCE BOOKS
FOR THE ADVANCED OR SPECIALIZED PHILATELIST

THE POSTAGE STAMPS AND POSTAL HISTORY OF CANADA

Winthrop S. Boggs

Since its original publication in 1945, Boggs' two-volume set has been to many the "Bible" of Canadian philately and has become a rare and expensive collector's item. This Quarterman reprint again makes available the extensively illustrated Volume I of the original in its entirety and those sections of Volume II dealing with the organization of the Canada Post Office and the design, paper and plate makeup of the stamps themselves. This 912-page hardbound volume also contains a section of corrections and additions which were compiled from the author's own annotated copy of the original edition. A foreword by John Alden has also been added.

The Postage Stamps and Postal History of Canada, one of the largest and most important philatelic works, is a necessity for all Canada collectors and also for those interested in philatelic scholarship, for which this book was awarded the Crawford Medal in 1947.

CANADIAN
POSTAGE STAMPS AND STATIONARY

Clifton A. Howes

Clifton A. Howes, in his Canada: Its Postage Stamps and Postal Stationery, brought a pioneering approach to philatelic research, especially in his use of documentation and presentation of the story behind the Canadian postal issues, which gave a new depth and direction to the field. More than 60 years after its original publication, in a now rare 1911 edition, Howes' information and approach retain their value.

This 312-page Quarterman edition is an unabridged reproduction of the original with the addition of a new foreword. The 14 illustrated plates, inserted loosely into the original edition, are included as a special signature at the back of this hardbound volume. Although Winthrop S. Boggs described this title as a "great work", he did not incorporate all of Howes' information into his Canadian volumes. Thus, Canadian Postage Stamps and Stationery remains a solid ground for continuing study and a necessity for all Canada collectors.

—COMING THIS YEAR: Quarterman's reprint of Fred Jarrett's 1929 Stamps of British North America, 624 pages, extensively illustrated.

POSTMARKED SARNIA

by H. F. Bardwell

This 58 page, soft cover book is a labour-of-love by the author. A good deal of its charm comes from the fact that it is both handset and handbound. This of course is in keeping with the general feeling of this work.

It deals in length with the historical aspect concentrating, in the first chapter, on the general area that was to become Sarnia. Of course, subsequent chapters continue with the history of the city with special emphasis on the post offices and their contribution to the development and growth through settlement, port, village, town and city.

One chapter deals completely with the Sarnia sub post office system. Another covers the post offices in Sarnia Township that used that city as a clearing post office for their mail with comprehensive historical information of each. This includes the area offices, the railway post offices and the rural routes.

The final chapters include events of interest in the area from 1830 to 1900 (in chronological order) and the origin of the street names. This excellent work should be of interest to philatelists as well as historians.

The first printing is a limited edition of 250 copies. Price is set at a modest (and value packed) $1.50 plus 20c. for first class postage. Orders will be filled as they are received to the extent of the existing stock only. Money will be returned if received after all books have been sold. Address all orders to H. F. Bardwell, P.O. Box 62, Sarnia, Ontario.

THE MAILBAG

J. F. WILSON of COLUMBUS, OHIO seeks information about HONG KONG WAR TIME MARKINGS:

Recently I purchased a small collection of stamps and covers. Among them was a page with a cover addressed to ENGLAND, VIA Airmail and having the postal marking (no stamps) on the upper right corner. There was the notation on the page that "the above received shortly after the relief of Hong Kong after Japan surrender and before stamps were in use."

I would like to have any information about this marking and would appreciate any help your readers could give me. My address is 19w. Royal Forest, Columbus, Ohio, 43214, U.S.A.

G. DAVIS PROWSE of CFB PETAWAWA clarifies the POSTAL CODE FOR ALERT, N.W.T.

Since my article on the postal markings currently in use at Alert NWT appeared in The Canadian Philatelist (volume 26, pages 37 & 39) I have received several letters questioning the correct postal code for Alert.

People from Yellowknife to West Germany tell me that our post office department lists the coding as "K0K 3S0" which would be logical, as all mail is cleared through Belleville, Ontario.

When I was in Alert in November 1974, the Postmaster listed the local code as "X0B0A0". This was also the designation in the information given out to new residents of CFS Alert.

To clear up the questions, I wrote the Postmaster in Alert. His answer of 15 March 1975 includes the front of a cover "On Postal Service" from the Eastern District, Ontario Postal Region, addressed by an addressograph machine as follows:

THE POSTMASTER AU MAITRE
DE POSTE
CANADIAN FORCES STATION ALERT
MPO 310
BELLEVILLE, ONT.
X0B 0A0

This would indicate that the POD in Ottawa, and CFS Alert are still using the NWT postal coding of "X0B 0A0".

ROBSON LOWE of LONDON, ENGLAND asks for help in TRACING A COVER.

When the Robson Lowe Encyclopaedia, Volume V was being compiled, the owner of a Canadian cover sent us a photostat of it showing the 1898 Map Stamp. From this we stated that the date of issue was December 6th, 1898 and that one cover exists showing this date of usage.

There now appears to be some doubt as to whether this is, in fact, the correct date. I would therefore be most anxious to have the owner of that cover send me another photostat, or better still, a clear photograph. Address is 50 Pall Mall, London, England, SW1Y 5JZ.

KEN PUGH of BRANDON, MANITOBA SHARES A FEW THOUGHTS

Please permit me the space to jot down a few reflections on my last five years of writing the 'Under the Looking Glass' column for the CANADIAN PHILATELIST.

The next series of articles under this byline will be the accumulative efforts of approximately two hundred and fifty contributors. I wish to express my sincere thanks to each correspondent. Without them little would be known of the Queen Elizabeth Era Varieties. It is their interest and efforts that makes a society like ours a reality, and, in my opinion, one of the most representative and progressive in B.N.A. philately.

Acknowledgements must also be directed to the editors of this journal through which this series has reached our membership. To Kenneth Rowe and Fred Stulberg my gratitude. Because of their open minded approach many collectors have become aware of the fact that Canadian philately does not stop at the LARGE Queens (although that era of philately is certainly equally as fascinating as the present).

The news that Fred was leaving us for yet another philatelic post saddened me. There is no doubt that his desire to improve the format of the Canadian Philatelist has met with tremendous enthusiasm. He has, as well, encouraged many new members of the Royal to share their thoughts by contributing new and interesting material to our journal.

After reflecting upon the tremendous job

Fred has done for us these past years I find myself no longer saddened, but deeply grateful.

We wish him well.

EDITORS NOTE: Thanks . . . . Sincerely
