JUNK BOX

The Boss has a box behind his desk marked junk box. Anyone who visits the store and sees this box usually buys it on the spot, and the price usually runs about $50.00 to $100.00. What's in it?—Well, nobody knows, not even the Boss. We do know though that there has never been a complaint and your money refunded if not satisfied. Usually there is an old collection or two, albums, catalogs, covers, on paper Bank mixture including high values, British Colonies, good Canadian and U.S., etc.

☐ Junk Box No. 1 - Price $ 50.00
 ☐ Junk Box No. 2 - Price $100.00

DO YOU LIKE TO GAMBLE?

We have a large chest containing the most unusual lot of stamps, covers, junk and good stuff, all in together — in other words, a real mixture. These are going to be sold in $5.00 lots until the box is empty — we are not sure of what's in the box, but one thing we do guarantee is that you get your moneys worth.

☐ Gamblers Lot — $5.00

CIGAR BOX COLLECTION

During the past few years we have accumulated many odds and ends of stamps from collections, job lots, broken-up approval selections, etc. You can imagine the tremendous amount of work that would be involved in sorting out such an accumulation. We have, therefore, been making up a cigar box full of really good stamps to sell for $10.00.

Do not confuse this lot with the ordinary "run of the mill" mixtures; it is much better.

☐ Price — $10.00

B.N.A. MIXTURES

These are really good mixtures from Canada and Newfoundland both used and unused, on and off paper and from 19th and 20th century. Commemoratives airmails, dollar values, etc. - over 500 stamps in each mixture - The $10.00 mixtures also has early Victoria issues, Jubilees, a Nova Scotia stamp cat. $4.00, covers etc.

□ $5.00 B.N.A. Mixture
 □ $10.00 B.N.A. Mixture

U.S. LIBERTY MIXTURE

From the various collections, job lots and accumulations that we buy, there are always some U.S. stamps. We have a box here in the office marked "U.S. LIBERTY" and all the odds and ends are thrown in here. Old issues, new issues, on paper, off paper, commemoratives, animals — well just about everything. Good value, we make sure of that. We advertise this mixture only once a year, so order early before the box is empty. Over 350 stamps.

□ Price — $6.00

☐ Also a Super Duper at $15.00 (If You Order Early)

HIDDEN TREASURE

Take one of our quality $10.00 Cigar Boxes, add a few hundred stamps to bulk it out, sprinkle a generous handful of high values British Colonial and foreign gems and what have you? A Hidden Treasure mixture. We're sure the treasure is there and you have the fun of sorting and soaking and the thrill of finding really worth while additions to your collection.

□ Price — $15.00

COVER COLLECTION

Over the past few years we have accumulated several thousand covers from all over the world. From this lot we offer First Day, and Regular Covers. These covers bear new issues as well as older issues. Added to this are unusual cancellations and the postal markings as well as post cards and postal stationery. A truly fascinating assortment from North and South America as well as Europe, Africa and Asia.

☐ Price — $10.00 ☐ and — $25.00

THOUGHTS & THINGS

WILL THEY EVER LEARN? Guest Editorial

During the past few months the story of yet another archival looting has been unfolding. Although, at the time of writing the extent of the loss has not been made public, there is an indication that these new thefts will rival those from the archives of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick that were reported several years ago.

No person should condone theft of any kind let alone the theft of material that belongs to the general public. Hence, all members of the philatelic community have a strong moral (if not legal) obligation to see that material related to their interest that has been committed to an institution for safe keeping, and for the benefit of all, does not end up in private collections.

However, is there not a mutual responsibility between the institution and the collector? Does not the official or custodian of these treasures carry an equal, if not greater, accountability for their safety?

Each new theft puts an unusual and possibly unjustified demand on the philatelic fraternity. These thefts remain undetected or undisclosed for many years permitting these items to change hands many times - always in good faith. Eventually, when the loss is uncovered, the postal historian is made the criminal and is asked, even ordered, to correct the situation or take the legal consequences.

No one seems to consider that the people responsible for the thefts were not the collectors. In fact, there is every indication that conditions within the institutions themselves permit, or even encourage a person, to take full advantage of lapses in security procedures. Indeed, in each case it has been the collector who has alerted the officials of the archives that their material has reached the marketplace. Ironically, when the situation becomes public, it is the philatelic community that is asked to "clean up its act" and to assume responsibility for the safe return of the stolen goods.

Although it is illegal to possess stolen property, one cannot help but sympathize with the collector who has bought an item in good faith, treasured it, and has suddenly been told that it does not belong to him and that he must give it up. One cannot really condemn him for remaining silent. After all, it has been much safer in his hands than it was in the archives.

If someone leaves the keys to his car in the ignition and the car is stolen, he has only himself to blame. If a collector is casual about the safety of his collection and it disappears, it is really his fault. If a collecting institution does not secure its holdings so that it encorages their theft, someone other than the collector must take the blame.

The time has come for the administrators of archives to realize that they alone have the power to minimize the loss of the material that they hold in trust.

PHILATELY BY CORRESPONDENCE

The American Philatelic Society and the Pennsylvania State University have announced the publication of their second course in philately, "Beginning Stamp Collecting". This course has the same title and contents as the first one; only the assignments differ. The assignments are more challenging and require some basic research.

An intermediate course is scheduled for 1981.

Further information and enrollment forms are available from: The Pennsylvania State University, Independent Study by Correspondence, 3 Shields Building, University Park, PA 16802, U.S.A.

There's only one way Apfelbaum's free evaluation could cost you.

When you sell your stamps without it.

Because our cash offers for stamps are among the highest in the business. We couldn't remain one of the world's oldest and largest stamp firms if they weren't.

Outright cash purchase

With the aid of one of the world's largest philatelic libraries and modern computer systems, our professional staff is prepared to offer the most generous immediate cash settlement for your collection. You can ship your property to us for a free evaluation, or just send a description and we'll contact you. We're prepared to travel anywhere for holdings of substantial value. And it's always been our policy to buy all that is offered, not just the "cream" of your collection.

Public auction or private treaty

Or, depending on which is more profitable for you, we can help you decide whether to consign your property for public auction or private sale. In this way, your holdings will be offered to thousands of interested collectors throughout the world. And all material is completely insured and guarded the moment it is in our possession.

So as long as your collection is for sale, don't take the chance that you could be getting more. Apfelbaum values stamps the way collectors do. Carefully.

That's why collectors trust Apfelbaum.

Some Illumination on the Eliza Anderson Incident

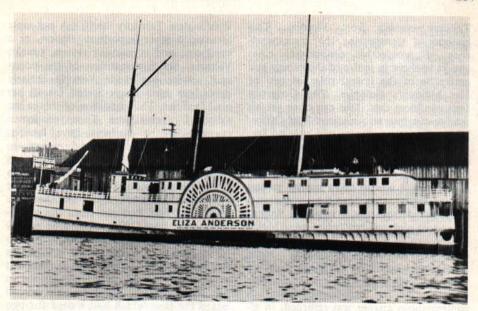

by Jacque Houser

Students of Victoria, Vancouver's Island postal history are no doubt familiar with Deaville's account of the breakdown of the mail delivery service to and from Puget Sound during the administration of Postmaster D'Ewes in 1861. This account credits the demand of the Purser of the Steamer Eliza Anderson to be paid for his services for the discontinuation of the service. Accounts in the contemporary press of the region, however, present a somewhat different account of the incident and, in this reader's opinion, justify the action taken by the steamship operators.

We present, first, an editorial taken from the "Daily British Colonist" for March 27, 1861, published in Victoria, Vancouver's Island:

"Under a long-standing arrangement with the United States' Government, which still exists, mail matter destined for this place was to be left at Port Townsend. The Postmaster there was instructed to deliver it to our mail carrier. Up to the Spring of 1858, nearly all the mail matter received came that way. Subsequently the Pacific mail steamers brought over the mail without any cost to the Colony. Occasional mails were also brought free of charge by steamers in the trade between this port and Puget Sound. Since the mails have been sent overland from Sacramento via Portland and Olympia, we have been chiefly indebted to the steamer Eliza Anderson for their due transmission. She has never received any mail subsidy from our government, and we are therefore placed under considerable obligation to her owners. They, however, like all other business men, dislike working for nothing; and from time to time have urged upon the government the necessity of making an appropriation for the service. The government, chiefly owing to the many other pressing demands on our small revenue, have found it impossible hitherto to make any provision for the service."

"The owners of the Eliza Anderson had offered sometime ago to carry the mail weekly, or four times a month, between here and Port Townsend, for $250 per month and a remission of port charges, $12.50 per trip or $50 per month. Thus the subsidy required would be equivalent to $300 per month. Except that proposition was accepted, Government was told that it would have to provide other means to carry the mail across the Straits. Our post office being a losing concern, and the subsidy demanded appearing too high for our small revenue, the proposition was not accepted. Yesterday, however, the matter was brought to an issue. The Harbor Master charged the Anderson full port charges, instead of half port charges to steamers carrying mails, according to the provisions of the "Harbor Dues Act, 1860". Acting strictly on his instructions, the Harbor Master was probably right in doing so, as no certificate was shown from the Post Master certifying that the Anderson was a mail steamer. Considering the service rendered to the colony by carrying our mail gratuitously, Captain Flemming deemed it a great hardship to be compelled to pay the dues-and we think so too. He consequently notified the Postmaster General, Mr. D'Ewes, that he would carry the mails no longer, except on the terms previously proposed. Government, we understand, offered $100 per month as their ultimatum; but that proposition has been rejected. As matters now stand we have no mail connection with Puget Sound."

"It is certainly a very unpleasant situation to be placed in. Our trade with Puget Sound and Portland is continually increasing; and a considerable portion of the English and foreign mail from California comes via Olympia. It is absolutely necessary, therefore, that some immediate provision be made for the conveyance of the mail between here and Port Townsend. An offer has been made to carry the mail across for $100 per month in a fast-sailing schooner; and we presume if no arrangement can be made with the steamer Eliza Anderson, some such proposition will have to be accepted. We certainly think it would be far more to our advantage to pay something more to a steamer; besides the past service of the Anderson deserves some consideration. Regularity in the transmission of mail matter would be more likely to occur via steamer than by a sailing vessel. If, however, our puny revenue will not enable us to pay the subsidy asked, the only thing that remains is to do the best we can under the circumstances. Regular mail facilities with Puget Sound is highly important to the trade of this place; it is necessary, therefore, to make some provision for its transmission at once. Even if we effect direct steam communication with San Francisco, and have the English and foreign mails from there brought by sea, yet we will require mail facilities with Puget Sound."

The editor of the Port Townsend, Washington Territory paper, "The North West", reprinted the above comments in his issue of April 4, 1861 and presented his own views on the editorial page of the April 11, 1861 edition. His editorial in support of the action of the steamer company follows:

"The Vancouver Island Mail arrived on the schooner Harriot, Capt. Coffin, on Tuesday evening from Victoria. This method of transporting the correspondence of prospective commercial cities speaks voulmes in praise of the energy and enterprise of the liberal ruler of two of Her Majesty's Colonies. The Governor feels confident that if he can once get his mail matter into an American Post Office, his small potatoe concern will have no further trouble and be at no more expense concerning it. Ever since the founders of the northern semi-civilized communities know what it was to be in regular receipt of mail matter, they have been gratuitously furnished from this side of the Sound. Some two and one-half years ago, Major Van Bokkelen wrote to the authorities at the hope that some Victoria. in arrangement could be effected to secure from the Home Government a reasonable compensation for mail transportation. A contemptuous answer was returned, in effect that they intended thereafter to have their mails direct from San Francisco, and desired no mail facilities with Puget Sound ports. So long as American coast steamers gave them a regular mail, they were comparatively independent of the Sound, although a portion of their mail matter still went from this side. In the hope of inducing some California mail boat to risk the trip up the harbor of Victoria regularly, it was ordained that one-half of the harbor dues-amounting to the magnificent sum of "two pun' ten" or about twelve dollars and fifty cents in federal cuurency-should be remitted, in consideration of their bringing the mail! Such comprehensive generosity overcoming the steamboat men, they never took the chance of losing their ships-not even for such a prize as a remission of half the harbor dues. Whether the law-making solons of the two colonies did expect an immediate visit from San Francisco, of all the steamers plying thereabouts, to the suspension of all their legitimate business, and each one pressing forward with a mail for the prize, we do not know; we certainly did not hear such anticipation expressed."

"But the onward march of events has somewhat changed the aspect of affairs.

Washington Territory itself has not only assumed a more important relation, as a producing and consuming region, toward Victoria, but a suspension of the ocean mail service has made Victoria entirely dependent upon Puget Sound for all her mail facilities. This condition of things has existed for some time. Those gentlemen engaged in the business have labored patiently, spending time and money, to gratuitously bestow upon the people of Vancouver Island and British Columbia the priceless boon of a regular and prompt mail. We have week after week seen the ponderous bags brought from the steamboat to the Post Office, sometimes requiring the services of three stout men, and after a patient distribution of newspapers from all parts of the world to the inhabited portions of Her Majesty's possessions in the North-West, they were shipped on board the boat which had waited for two hours to receive them. In vain has Capt. Flemming notified them of the necessity for an arrangement to compensate his steamer for the trouble and delays incident to such service. They were so indolent or so indifferent that sometimes he found it necessary to dispatch a man to their office for the return mail bags, which they would not even bring down to his boat. The final repudiation of his right to a remission of half harbor dues capped the climax, and Captain F. notified them that unless they agreed upon terms, he should no longer carry the mail. They declined. The mail was not admitted on board the Anderson. On his last trip they enquired if he were not entitled to the remission of half-dues as a Mail steamer, and offered the return. Capt. Flemming declined the acceptance. A mail was then sent down to him which he sent back. The Eliza Anderson did not carry British mails."

"The course pursued in this matter by the authorities at Victoria is unworthy the great and magnanimous government they claim to represent; and we believe that when such conduct is known in proper quarters, Captain F. will not only be rewarded as justice demands, but the parties to this picayunish business will have occasion to regret their participation in its groveling details."

It would appear, then, that failure to pay for services rendered was the basis for the disagreement but that the discontinuation of the service was precipitated by the unwise action taken by the Vancouver Island postal authorities.

The differences in moneys involved as shown in Deaville's and contemporary newspaper accounts is of academic interest only. Of greater importance is Deaville's erroneous statement about the resumption of mail service to Victoria by the Eliza Anderson. There is no evidence in the contemporary press to indicate that Capt. Flemming brought mail to Victoria again that year. On the other hand, numerous accounts in the "British Colonist" tell of the various small sailing vessels employed to carry the mail between Victoria and Port Townsend during the period between April 12 and November 13, 1861. The list of vessels participating includes, at least, the following:

Harriot Wild Duck
Carolina Flying Mist
Petrel Mystery

In September of 1861 the Puget Sound mail contract changed hands and about the first of October the responsibility for mail delivery service was assumed by the Str. Enterprise brought to the Sound from San Francisco especially for the service. The Str. Eliza Anderson remained on the Sound as the "opposition boat", but was not involved in carrying the mails until after the new contractor failed financially and the Enterprise was sold to the Hudson's Bay Co. in late March of 1862.²

The April 29, 1861 issue of the "British Colonist" reports that the owners of the schooner Petrel were given a contract to carry the mails between Victoria and Port Townsend for $25 per week. This contract appears to have been in force until July 24 when the Petrel left for the North West coast to carry a group of explorers engaged to investigate an overland route to the Cariboo from Butte Inlet. The sloop Wild Duck was then engaged and, although no details of the contract were found in the contemporary press, carried the mail between Victoria and Port Townsend until at least the end of September 1861. The first mention of mail being brought to Victoria by the new contract steamer, Enterprise, is in the November 13, 1861 issue of the Colonist. It is quite possible that Overland Mails were on every trip of the Enterprise following inauguration of service. The editor's selection of events to chronicle did not always take into consideration the needs of future history students.

The account is not offered to belittle the efforts of Mr. Deaville. Instead, it is offered to complete the story of an incident in the fabulous history of the posts in colonial Vancouver's Island. In this instance, the full story is even more fascinating than that presented by Deaville. As so often happens, later research has expanded our views and knowledge of a long ago event in history.

Notes

- A. S. Deaville, The Colonial Postal System and Postage Stamps of Vancouver Island and British Columbia, 1849-1871, page 73. Readers should note the typographical error in Deaville's account of the "Eliza Anderson Incident". The year is 1861, not 1871.
- 2. In Chapter VII Deaville states that the British Columbia and Victoria Steam Navigation Co. owned the Enterprise. It is quite possible that Deaville became confused with the many steamers bearing the name Enterprise and operating in northwest waters. Contemporary newspapers and standard references for northwest maritime history all report that this Enterprise was purchased off the Puget Sound mail route by the Hudson's Bay Co. and remained in its services until her destruction in 1885.

The Eliza Anderson experienced a long and generally illustrious life on Puget Sound and adjacent waters. She was launched at Portland, Oregon in November 1858 and was soon brought to Puget Sound. During the years between 1859 and 1870, she was the principal carrier on the Olympia-Victoria run enjoying the benefits of the mail contract during part of

China's Most famous philatelist

By Zhanh huan

Jiang Zhifang, (1907-1980) working on his reminiscences "Sixty Years of Stamp Collecting".

Chinese philatelist Jiang Zhifang travelled widely in Europe during the troubled years that preceded and followed the Second World War.

In 20 years he travelled, studied and worked in Belgium, England, France, Germany, Switzerland, Spain, Portugal and Poland in response to the shifting political imperatives of the time.

He also had a private ambition, one that seemed as elusive as the lofty goals pursued by the world's statesmen: he was looking for the reissued 9-cent stamp that would complete his collection of the first set of commemorative stamps issued in China.

The 9-fen (cents) stamp was to elude Jiang until 1953, after he returned to China and found one in the collection of a friend and fellow philatelist.

Jiang said later he was as happy on finding the stamp as Columbus was when he discovered the New World.

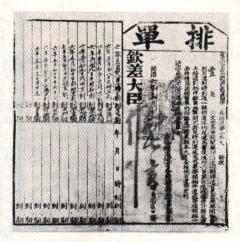

His single-minded pursuit of the ninefen stamp was typical of Jiang's dedication to his hobby, a characteristic that made him the most famous collector in China until his death in April this year at the age of 73.

His extensive collection is now owned by the Ministry of Posts and Telecommunications to whom he gave his stamps in 1966 for safe keeping.

His collection and his 100,000-word reminiscences "Sixty Years of Stamp Collecting," which he finished just before his death, provided valuable information on the development of China's postal system.

Among the rarities in his collection are: A letter delivered by a private concern known as the Civil Letter Bureau in 1859, when private letters were delivered by commercial firms.

A "paidan" (form) issued in 1867 and a general's "huopiao" (warrant) in 1906. Before public postal services were known in China civil and military bureaucrats used the "paidan" and "huopiao" to send official dispatches.

China's first "big dragon" postage stamps, issued in 1878.

China's first commemorative stamps issued in 1894 in celebration of the Empress Dowager's 60th birthday.

"Provisional neutrality" stamps issued in Nanjing (Nanking) during the 1911 revolution pending the downfall of the Manchu dynasty.

A postcard marked with China's first air mail postmark from Beijing (Peking) to Tianjin (Tientsin) on May 6, 1920.

China's first air mail stamps issued in 1921.

Stamps issued by the Workers' and Peasants' Democratic Government in the revolutionary base areas during the second Revolutionary War (1927-37).

An imperfection of the collection is the absence of stamps from Taiwan.

What makes his albums remarkable, however, is the fact that most of his Chinese stamps were acquired abroad.

Jiang Zhifang was born in Chansha, the capital of central China's Hunan province, in 1907 when China was still under the rule of the Manchu dynasty.

His father, a scholar and a high-ranking government official, used to receive letters from Hong Kong, Southeast Asia and France, and the stamps attracted Jiang and started the 12-year-old boy on a hobby that would last the rest of his life.

His interest was enhanced when his private tutor said that stamp collecting would help him learn foreign languages and something about other countries.

Like many other collectors, Jiang was most interested in foreign stamps at the beginning. He tried to get at least one from each country — the English penny black, the Liberian triangular stamp, the largest one from Jamaica, the smallest from Victoria.

In 1927, he went to Japan to study in Nagasaki, where he became acquainted with the noted Japanese philatelist Isamu Hayashi. Through Hayashi, he came to know the value of certain postmarked postcards and envelopes and by the time he graduated two years later, he had a collection of 2,000 stamps.

It was at this time that Jiang began to concentrate on Chinese stamps and during the 20 years he studied and worked in Europe, he visited many stamp shops and philatelists, seeking valuable items.

In the 30s, through a friend in Changsha, Jiang received many stamps and postmarked envelopes in Europe from the Chinese revolutionary base areas. They are now among the rarities in his collection.

In 1932, Jiang became a member of the Royal Philatelic Society of Brussels. An aged Belgian member gave him a postcard marked with China's first air mail postmark — Beijing to Tianjin, 1920. With this and other envelopes bearing early air mail stamps between Chinese cities from 1921 to '28, Jiang won a silver medal at the Aerophilatelic Exhibition in Brussels in 1933.

During the Second World War, he moved from Brussels to Lisbon and there, at the 1944 International Stamp Exhibition, he was awarded a golden medal for his 1,000 Chinese stamps with "big dragon" and "small dragon" designs,

In September, 1951, two years after the founding of the People's Republic of China, Jiang Zhifang finally returned to China. Among his items of luggage were two large suitcases of stamps.

Soon after his arrival in Beijing, he met two pedlars in a small secondhand goods market. Each was carrying a sheet of paper, a "paidan" and a "huopiao." Jiang immediately recognized their value and bought them.

At the 1957 International Stamp Exhibition held in Moscow, the two forms and ten envelopes with postmarks of China's revolutionary base areas from 1927-37 won him the first prize — a gold medal and a cup.

The long-delayed official thanks to Jiang for giving his collection to the state at the beginning of the turbulent Cultural Revolution, were finally conveyed to him in February 1979 in a ceremony at Hunan University in Changsha. Jiang received the credit due to him and a number of awards.

Earlier this year, he was invited to a Beijing exhibition of Chinese stamps, the largest of its kind in China, and was thrilled to find some important parts of his old collections on display.

The excitement proved too much for him, however, and a few days later he fell ill. On April 4th, 1980, he died in hospital of a heart attack.

A REGULAR FEATURE

At a recent show we noted a few copies of the 2c. brown 1930 issue in a very light brown shade. This Die II is not listed in any retail catalogue with this light brown shade. It must be uncommon shade. This issue has a few rather peculiar shades. The 1c. orange comes in a very deep or light orange. The 5c. blue is listed often in the pale blue shade and it can be found fairly regularly. The 10c. exists in a lighter olive shade.

The Diefenbaker stamp is printed on a very thin transparent type of paper. This kind of paper has not been noted on many stamps. Because of this thin paper difficulties must have been encountered with the perforation. Many perfs are missing or only indented but not cut.

It is catalogue time again and the major publishers are busy bringing out their new editions. One thing is obvious from all of them. Prices have begun to level off. The sharp increase in all stamps previously noted has stopped, especially in the more modern issues. Speculation has dropped and the actual stamp collectors control the market. This is a much healthier condition and one which we hope will last. Dealers at shows feel again like dealers, selling five, ten, twenty dollars worth of stamps to collectors rather than sheets and large stocks to investors. A few dealers continue to operate in this unhealthy mode and we wish them "Hals und Beinbruch" (We hope you understand). Into the same catagory fall dealers who continue to forse auction bids to higher levels, not because they want the item, but simply to prevent others from buying low or at normal prices.

Although we have written only recently about the possibility of photographing your stamps as a means of protection, it is obvious that the recovery of some material stolen from two dealers would not have been possible but for the excellent records which had been kept. Photos and records by a word processing system made this possible. Word processing systems are just more sophisticated typewriters with memories and verv fast capabilities. Inventories can be kept and updated immediately and records are available from small memory disks or printouts. Copies can be made in minutes. In addition, photos can be taken with specialy built high speed cameras for regular or microfilms. A number of inquiries around Ottawa have indicated that Mr. E. Odell can do this kind of photography for a very low price. These methods should seriously be considered by all dealers and collectors.

Zeppelins have always fascinated people. A group in England plans to build them again for transportation. It would not be surprising if special stamps will be issued to commemorate the flights. The German Zeppelins were very popular until the time when the Hindenburg ignited on landing in the U.S. Many countries issued special stamps. Dr. H. Eckner the pilot of many German Zeppelins tried in 1934 to convince the Federal Aviation Commission that commercial operation would be practical. The facts of his experiences and discussions are recorded in a new book called The Zeppelin Dream by J. F. Danner, a member of the Germany Philatelic Society. Another interesting book is The Postal History of Saxony with maps, postal rates.

The Stories Behind Overprints of British Honduras

by Geoffery F. Briginshaw

In the last four months of every year, hurricanes batter the West Indies and mainland countries located on the west side of the Caribbean Sea and the Gulf of Mexico. British Honduras (Belize since 1973) in particular has suffered considerably from them.

On the afternoon of Tuesday, September 10, 1931, most of the people of Belize City were in the streets celebrating Independence Day, the 133rd anniversary of the Battle of St. George's Cay (in which the British defeated the Spaniards and the 'British Settlement of Belize' achieved its independence). A hurricane, accompanied by an enormous tidal wave, swept over the city and caused the loss of almost 1,000 lives and damage to every building. Mail planes on regular flights were used to drop medical supplies and mail and to fly in doctors.

The regular 1c. - 5c. King George V definitives of 1922-29 (sc. 92, 94-7) were surcharged with an equivalent amount, which was to go towards the relief fund for the sufferers of the catastrophe, and were issued on May 2, 1932 (Sc. B1-B5). These stamps alone raised $23,700.

The next major devastation of Belize City, by a hurricane named Hattie, occurred just over 30 years later on October 31, 1961. By this time the custom of giving hurricanes feminine names (Because they are so tempermental?) in alphabetical order had become well established since its origin in the Second World War. Hurricane Hattie was, therefore, the eighth hurricane to be spawned that year.

Hurricane Hattie overprints, Ja. 15, 1962 (Sc. 163-4).

Again, a relief fund was set up and some of the then current (Queen Elizabeth II) definitives were overprinted 'HURRI-CANE HATTIE' by De La Rue in aid of the fund. The 1c., 10c., 25c., and 50c., of the 1953-57 issue (Sc. 144, 149, 151-2) became Sc. 163-6 when they were issued on January 15, 1962.

This last of a series of such incidents over the years convinced the authorities that the time had come to move the capital by creating a new city, named Belmopan, on a lush plain 50 miles inland.

After self-government had been achieved in 1964 (Sc. 182-6) the dedication of the site of the new capital on October 9. 1965 was recognized with yet another series of overprints issued on July 1, 1966 (Sc. 195-9). Both of these issues used the same basic stamps, the 1c., 3c., 4c., 10c., and 25c. stamps of the birds issue of April 2, 1962 (Sc. 167, 169, 170, 172, 174). This truly beautiful series was designed by the American ornithologist Don. R. Eckleberry. Harrison & Sons deserves great credit for the execution of the multicolour photogravure printing of the stamps.

Apart from the 1965 overprints, the move to Belmopan and the gradual development of the new capital city is well charted on stamps. The 50c. of July 15, 1968 (Sc. 213) ostensibly recorded International Human Rights Year but it depicted the monument on the new site which was dedicated by Arthur Greenwood, the then Colonial Secretary. The actual move to Belmopan was celebrated by a set of six stamps issued on January 31, 1971 (Sc. 269-74) which depict important landmarks and public buildings.

The final overprinted issues of British Honduras came out in 1970 and 1971. To publicize the 1970 census, the 5c., 10c., 15c. and 25c. of the fishes issue of 1968 (Sc. 218-21) were overprinted "POPULA-TION/ CENSUS 1970" (Sc. 251-4). The International Year against Racial Discrimination was publicized in 1971 by overprinting the 10c. and 50c. stamps of the fishes issue of 1968 (Sc. 219, 222) "RACIAL EQUALITY/YEAR - 1971".

Top and bottom right, Jan. 31, 1971 issue marking move of the capital city to Balmopan.

In 1973 British Honduras changed its name to Belize (the original name of both the country and the city from 1705 to 1840) and, on June 1 of that year, issued another series of overprints. But that, and the continuing boundary disputes with neighbouring Guatemala, is another story.

It was difficult to believe that a gestation period fraught with so many problems could produce such a child. Despite the rapidly escalating costs, the threatened labour problems, the apparent disorganization during the formative stages as well as lapses of communication in the later stages, the exhibition emerged as a child of significant beauty.

As is expected from London, the exhibits were generally of high calibre. London has the reputation of receiving a large number of applications and is able to choose the ones of known excellence. Hence, for the minority who attend the international exhibitions to see the exhibits, LONDON, 1980 was a treat. This was enhanced by the frame arrangement which permitted the extensive use of auxiliary lighting and an exceptional view of each and every frame.

There was a large number of dealers and postal administrations from all over the world and, to the benefit of the 100,000 or more attendees, these were on the same floor at Earls Court Exhibition Hall as were the exhibits. As a matter of fact, the vastness of the exhibition also led to one of its greatest problems. Despite ubiquitous charts and direction signs, it was difficult to quickly find a specific place in the hall.

As usual, there were the line-ups for admission, for the souvenir trade sheets, for the first day of issue items and special cancellations of the British Post Office and for the Court of Honour display of part of The Queen's collection. As mentioned previously, the exhibits were far from being overcrowded and the majority of people were seen at the dealers. Her Majesty, The Queen paid a surprise visit to the exhibition on opening day.

There were approximately twenty Canadians who exhibited (including Literature) and, at the request of several exhibitors, the names will not be published. However they did quite well with one small gold, two vermeils, five large silvers and the rest with lesser awards. Few failed to receive a medal of some kind. Our National Postal Museum received a special award for its exhibit. A pleasant surprise was the large number of Canadians who attended the exhibition. A conservative guess would put the number at approximately one hundred and fifty.

Almost all parts of Canada were represented with the largest contingent from Ontario.

Although the weather was cooperative with brilliant sunshine and warm temperatures for almost the entire show, there were other factors that influenced attitudes and practices. For one thing, the cost of being in London for a ten day period was extremely high. On returning to Canada one was tempted to answer the question of the customs officer "Have you anything to declare?" with the one word "bankruptcy!". Also, a general strike in Britain was to take place the last day of the exhibition which led to an almost empty building on that day. This served to intensify the complaints of many dealers already affected by the apparent lack of spare money for major purchases.

Despite the trials and tribulations, London still maintains its position as the 'Premier' international exhibition. If one were to judge the exhibition itself as one would judge the exhibits, LONDON, 1980 would likely receive a small gold, probably with felicitations.

Report on the Judging of Postal History

by Kenneth Rowe,

Secretary International Federation of Postal History Societies

In the March-April issue of The Canadian Philatelist, we published a letter (p. 82) from Kenneth Rowe to Allan L. Steinhart, Pres. PHSC, in which he expressed his concern about the placing and judging of Postal History exhibits at London 1980. The following report presents Mr. Rowe's assessment of the conditions that actually existed.

As members will recall, a great deal of concern was expressed by postal historians (G.B. excepted), about the decision to group postal history with the geographic divisions of traditional philately.

Following my circular letter to member society representatives, I was invited to act as a replacement Literature Judge from the F.I.P. list when the original F.I.P. appointee was forced to withdraw. The fact that I was also a postal historian being fortuitous. It did, however, give me an opportunity to observe and participate in the judging of postal history exhibits at first hand.

At London 1980 Philatelic Literature was judged six weeks before the exhibition and this allowed the literature jurors to participate in the regular judging session in their specialty when the exhibition itself opened. This was advantageous in that it allowed for the more efficient use of a rather small jury (37 jurors + 6 observers = 43).

Under the chairmanship of R.A.G. Lee the jury was split into 11 groups as follows:- always was before there was a separate classification. It is on this point that I part company with the London decision.

There were several reasons why we all campaigned for a separate classification after PHILYMPIA 1970.

 It is obvious that a well balanced team of postal historians will do a better

Groups	Frames	Total Jurors	Postal Historians
1 National class	264	4	1
2 Commonwealth	825	8	2
3 Europe	1173	14	3
2 Rest of World	905	9	2
1 Air	344	3	Line of Table
1 Thematics	215	3	7
1 Youth	140	2	Tem.
11 oph paulink	3866	43	8

Each of the eight groups dealing with the first four classes had a postal historian as a member of the team. Therefore each postal history exhibit was judged by a group which consisted of an average of three philatelists and one postal historian.

When the results were discussed any postal history exhibit awards that were questioned were given a second evaluation by a five man team comprised of postal historians only (including myself). The changes suggested by this team were accepted by the balance of the jury.

I personally looked at every postal history exhibit when the awards were finalized. Obviously in some cases the awards were either higher or lower than I personally would have given but there were no gross iniquities. Certainly the Jury Chairman, R.A.G. Lee, made every effort to ensure that all exhibits were judged fairly and equitably.

In view of this I can make the following statement:-

"I am satisfied that the Postal History exhibits at London 1980 were judged as well as they could have been under the circumstances."

I think this result was only to be expected given the composition of the jury and the British sense of fair play. In other words, postal history was judged as it job than a philatelic team with only one postal historian. Postal history as a specialization rests on a different conceptual foundation than does philately and it can only be effectively evaluated by a team familiar with its basic requirements.

- 2. One of the most important factors in judging at an international exhibition is the ability to compare similar exhibits with one another. When postal history exhibits are judged geographically this type of comparison is difficult. It was, in fact, almost impossible at London, due to the configuration of the exhibit area.
- Postal history, like Airmails and Thematics, and unlike philately, includes many exhibits which cross geographic lines and cannot be judged in a geographic framework.

I will give London full marks for trying to be fair but it wasn't really necessary. There was really never a satisfactory answer given as to the reason for splitting up the classification. The layout was needlessly confused because of it and it would have been simpler for all concerned to have grouped postal history together in one area.

ARE YOU A PASSIONATE PHILATELIST?

Most of our customers are passionate about philately. Some are just beginning to collect, some are very advanced specialists. All seem to benefit from the relaxation and fun that comes with the hobby. Our staff at 43 Adelaide St. are avid collectors. They understand a philatelist's concerns and wish to help. Our shop has become a friendly haven for most of the serious collectors who live near Toronto. Many from far away make a point of dropping in to see us when they pass through the city. Most find something they need, and they keep coming back, so we must be doing something right.

The store contains a vast range of stamps and postal history material, especially British North America, but with a surprising range of out of the way items from all over the world. The stock of covers and cancellations is certainly the finest in Canada. Single stamps and sets are of course available. Our scope is wide, including postage stamps, postal history, stationery, revenues, essays and proofs. We sell over a million dollars worth a year and clearly this must be replaced. Our staff will pay top prices with immediate payment or we may be able to place your surplus material to best advantage using our private treaty facilities.

Whether buying, selling or just thinking about philately please look in when you are in Toronto. We fully understand that not everyone can come in person and we have made hundreds of friends through the mail. Please let us know your collecting interests.

NORWEX '80

by David Dixon, Canadian Commissioner

NORWEX 80 was held in Oslo, Norway, from June 13 to 22, 1980. There was a total of nine exhibits from Canada, eight of which were awarded medals.

The exhibition was held in a modern two storey building at Sjølyst. The building is similar, in some respects, to the Automotive Building at the C.N.E., the venue of CAPEX '78. The dealers and Post Offices were situated on the mezzanine which enabled visitors to look down at the exhibits on the ground floor. There were two additional exhibit halls with approximately 3200 frames in competition.

The National Postal Museum of Canada displayed its "Little Norway" exhibit in eight frames. This exhibit proved to be very popular with the Norwegians including His Majesty King Olav V who paid a special visit to the show to see it.

Oslo, with a population of 450,000, is a delightful city. It is situated at the head of the Oslo Fjord, has many beautiful parks and is surrounded on three sides by hills. There are numerous museums in the Oslo area including an excellent Postal Museum which is well worth a visit. Most Norwegians speak English so language was not a problem for the English-speaking visitors.

The Jury of Norwex 80 consisted of 35 jurors and five apprentices under the chairmanship of Leiv A. Brecke of Norway. Among those serving on the jury was Jacques Stibbe, President of the F.I.P.

Awards to Canadians are:

Gold - R. K. Malott - Canadian Pioneer Air Mail 1911-1934

Vermeil - F. G. Stulberg - Canada-U.S.A. Cross Border Mailings to 1837

- M. Rasic - Postal History and Postage Stamps of Serbia (1840-1921) - Literature Class (with Felicitations from the Jury)

Silver - J. DiCiommo - Canada - "Large Queens of 1868" (with special prize)

- D. Dixon - The War Tax Stamps of Canada

- C. Morin - "Canadian Philately Bibliography and Index, 1864-1973" - Literature Class

Bronze - A. Greblis - Latvia - Postal History

- J. LaFleur - Les Conquérants de la Méditerranée. □

The loophole in the F.I.P. regulations is that it does not specifically state that separate classifications have to be exhibited separately.

It is my understanding that an amendment to the regulations will be proposed at the F.I.P. meeting at Essen in November, which will prevent this happening again. I hope that all postal historians will write to their national F.I.P. representative and ask him to support this amendment.

Swiss Postal Services Special Stamps

Day of issue, September 5, 1980

On Sept. 5th, the Swiss PTT will issue four stamps depicting some services of the PTT. The 20c. stamp depicts sending money by "Girocheck" which obviates having to buy a money order. The 40c. stamp depicts a Postbus used for public transport as well as mail carrying. The 70c. stamp depicts the head of a transfer press with a relief roll impressing stamp designs on a printing cylinder. Ordinarily the transfer is to a flat plate which is later curved to fit the rotary presses. The Swiss transfer directly to cylinders, thereby eliminating distortion by stretching (and sometimes cracking) of the plate. The stamp commemorates the 50th anniversary of the PTT's Postage Stamp Printing Office. This anniversary will be the subject of an exhibit of its work at the Swiss Postal Museum on the Helvetia Platz, Bern. It will open Sept. 5 and close Dec. 31. The last stamp, 80c., commemorates the Centenary of the Telephone Service which began in Zurich on Oct. 2, 1880. The Swiss telephone service, with more than 2 million subscribers, is the third densest per capita, immediately behind those of the United States and Sweden.

THE 1967-78 POSTAGE DUE ISSUE OF CANADA: A DEFINITIVE STUDY by Andrew Chung. Published by the author, printed by Standard Forms, Box 223, Dundas, Ont. 17.6 cm x 21.6 cm, 2 + 46 pages, illus., tables, offset, saddle stitched paper covers, 1980. $5.00 from dealers or George Wegg, Ltd., 36 Victoria St., Toronto, Ont. M5C 2N8.

The 1967-78 postage due issues, which the author calls an 'issue', have provided a fair amount of interest to collectors because a common design has been issued four times, in two different sizes (21 mm x 27 mm, and 20 mm x 151/2 mm), two different gums (dextrine and PVA), two different perforations (12 x 12 line perf and 121/2 x 12 comb perf) and two pane layouts with three different settings of the marginal inscriptions. About the only common feature of all four sets (issues?) is the printer which was The Canadian Bank Note Company for all four.

Since the labels were issued only a required to replenish stocks, there are no issue dates, only the year in which they first appeared.

The author discusses the physical features of the labels and then goes on to discuss the fluorescence of the papers and provides a table of his findings for all of the values issued.

A useful feature of the handbook is a key that can be used to identify stamps of sets 2 and 3 if the gum has been removed. Printing freaks and a constant flaw are briefly mentioned.

By far the greatest portion of the text deals with the use of postage due labels. This is presented in a series of tables, derived from the Canada Postal Guide of the appropriate times, which set forth the regulations to be applied, how the postage due is determined for domestic, international to the U.S.A. and other countries, registered mail, etc. This section is followed by descriptions of the various usages of the labels and illustrations of many of the various uses of the labels, postage due handstamps, meter impressions, postage due notice cards, delivery notice cards and the like.

This is a very useful compilation of data which anyone with the smallest interest in the subject should read and study.

DE ROOY/HALI BOOKLET CATA-LOGUE CANADA 1980, by Walter de Rooy and John Hali. Published by De Rooy/Hali Publishing Co., Hollandsingel 35, 5144 CN Waalwijk. The Netherlands. 14.4 cm x 21.0 cm, 3 + 40 pages, illus., saddle stitched, full colour card covers, 1980. Approx. $7.00, available from the publisher or some dealers.

We thank member L. J. van Kampen, of The Netherlands, for making the catalogue available to us. It is one of a series of booklet catalogues by the authors/publishers.

Although the catalogue was compiled and published in The Netherlands, it is entirely in English and prices are given in U.S. dollars. Canadian booklet collectors will find it an essential part of their reference literature.

The authors, with the help of Peter Harris of Great Britain, have provided a complete priced list of unexploded booklets from the Queen Victoria 24c. booklet of June 11, 1900 (their number 1) to the $4.25 booklet of July 3, 1979 (their number 81).

Each entry includes the author's number, the number of the booklet in other catalogues (Canada Specialized, Scott, Gibbons, Yvert & Tellier, and Michel), layout of pane, description of cover, i.e. text(s), colours, binding, a list of varieties and number produced. All panes and covers are illustrated. The basic booklets and varieties are priced when possible.

Most of the varieties described are those of the covers, i.e., stapled or stitched, sealing strips, texts, counting marks, etc., however, they do list and price tagging, paper and gum varieties.

The pricing seems reasonable. This is a useful handbook.

Publication of these two parts of the Gibbons catalogue makes eleven of the proposed twenty two parts available.

The listings for Czechoslovakia follow the regular pattern, starting with the issues of the Czechoslovak Republic (1918-1960) followed by those of the Czechoslovakian Socialist Republic (from 1960) and are completed up to the Oct. 1, 1979 issues. The Czechoslovakian Army in Siberia issues are listed separately as are those of Bohemia and Moravia (German Protectorate Mar. 1939 - May 1945), Slovakia (Mar. 1939 - 1945) and East Silesia (1920). There have been some editorial improvements, particularly to the lists of stamps of Bohemia and Moravia and Czechoslovakia between 1934 and 1949 with attached se tenant labels.

Poland's listings follow a similar pattern, i.e., the 1860 issue of Poland as a Russian Province, then as a Republic (1918-1939). The third section lists stamps issued under German Occupation 1939-45; section 4 lists the issues of the Polish Exiled Government in London 1941-44. Sections 5 and 6 treat the issues of the Republic (1944-52) and the Peoples' Republic (from July 1952) respectively, up to the issue of Oct. 9, 1979. Other lists include German Occupation (1915-18), Polish Military Post of 1918, 1942, and Polish Post Offices abroad. In all, this is a fairly comprehensive treatment of the stamps issued by the several Polish governments.

Prices have all been revised. The printing and binding is fine. All illustrations of the stamps are clear.

Part 20. South America, brings together the listings for the South American Republics in one volume for the first time. Attention has been paid to the clarification of the listings with improved layout, additional details and new information. Special detail has been given to the "Christopher Columbus" issues of early Chile, the 1887-88 lithographed 'Escuelas' issues of Venezuela, the postal-fiscals of Ecuador, the 1860 'Arms' types and current complex provisionals of Peru, and the new issues of Argentina, Brazil and Uruguay.

The revised prices, particularly those of the classics of Bolivia and Brazil show the greatest increases. Substantial advances are shown for Chile, Peru and Venezuela.

This volume is of the same quality as Part 5 above and the Canadian price is the same even though the English price is £1.50 more than Part 5! These are good but expensive catalogues.

SCOTT STANDARD POSTAGE STAMP CATALOGUE 1981. 137th ed. VOL. 1. UNITED STATES AND AFFILIATED TERRITORIES, UNITED NATIONS, BRITISH COMMONWEALTH OF NATIONS. Published by Scott Publishing Co., 3 East 57th St., New York, NY 10022, U.S.A. 19.2 cm x 23.5 cm, xviii + 761 + 34 pages, illus., advertising, soft covers, 1980. US $18.00 or equivalent from many dealers.

There is little changed in the 1981 edition of this commonly used catalogue. Computerization, greater use of colour abbreviations and the dropping of the cents from prices of $1000 and up are the most obvious changes. Odd spaces have appeared in the lists where the reset type is shorter than in previous editions.

The other new parts are the addition of listings for the U.N. offices in Vienna, the incorporation of Rhodesia UDI issues and the separate list of issues of the newly named country Kiribati, formerly the Gilbert Islands, which is listed separately.

Prices have been revised giving a record number of changes, Canada alone having 1,043. Although the Canada prices, for the most part, have increased, the trend is towards stabilization. There was even a drop in price, i.e., 1975 Coastal Ships declined 20c., a drop which was reflected in other catalogues.

The paper is good, text legible, but the illustrations tend to be a little too dark.

THE HARRIS POSTAGE STAMP PRICE INDEX FOR STAMPS OF THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA SINCE 1845. Published by H. E. Harris & Co., Inc., Dept. ODM-153, Boston, MA 02117, U.S.A. 13.3 cm x 21.0 cm, 192 pages, illus., soft covers. 1980. US $2.95 + 75c. postage from the publisher or an equivalent price from dealers.

If you are interested in knowing how a certain stamp or stamps have changed in value since 1950, this book will serve you well.

The book provides postage stamp retail prices taken from the "Harris US/BNA Catalog", stamp by stamp, mint, used and some plate blocks, decade by decade, from 1950 to 1980. It also provides the per cent increase in the market sell price from 1975 to January 1980.

The book is designed primarily for someone who is seeking market data for investment purposes but it is also of use to the collector who is interested in learning how much of an investment his hobby collection has become.

It also shows that the more recent commemorative stamps, those of both the U.S. and of Canada, will probably realize little more than face value for some years.

Letter to All Members

23 July, 1980

To My Fellow Members,

As most of you are now aware, at the commencement of Dr. Fred Stulberg's term of office as our President, he stipulated he would assume the office for a two year tenure, which expired this spring at our annual meeting in Calgary. During his term of office, the by-laws were amended to officially establish a two year term for succeeding presidents.

It has been my very great privilege to have been elected by our directors to fill the current two year term, during which I propose to carry on with a number of projects initiated by Fred, and hopefully, begin a few of my own.

At our recent directors' meeting, held in conjunction with Stampex in Toronto, we decided on a number of important matters, the highlights of which you should be made aware of are as follows:

- 1. We have officially concluded a reciprocity agreement between our Society and the American Philatelic Society, so that nationaly qualified judges can serve for either society in either country. Mike Millar, our Judging Committee chairman, is to be congratulated on negotiating this agreement, the details of which will be published in CP by Mike, An official acceptance ceremony will be held in September in Spokane, in conjunction with the APS annual Stampshow. Both Mike and I will be there.
- 2. A decision was made to revamp all business practices and arrangements of our society to update all matters of finance such that we are operating in a business manner consistant with currently accepted good business practice, and such that a system of budgeting control can be implemented. This is perhaps an administrative matter of no great concern to many members, however, I feel it is worth mentioning, as it should cut down on certain expenses, and allow significant sums of money to be made available to our society for general purpose or for specific projects.

It will definitely free your directors from the need to deal with all financial matters, as routine budget items will be dealt with by the appropriate departments. We should then be able to more properly concentrate on improving services offered to members.

- 3. A major decision was reached with respect to our Society involvement in youth programs. We have allocated a sizeable sum of money for the development of a youth program under the very capable guidance of Mike Madesker, our Youth Program Co-ordinator, on a one year experimental basis, with the understanding that if sufficient interest can be shown, and enough progress made, we will then, no doubt, proceed on a more permanent program.
- 4. A final matter is that of upcoming annual meeting/show locations and arrangements. Our convention manager, Major Dick Malott, will be immediately publishing a list of upcoming sites, and we are entertaining bids for the unallocated years.

As well, we have established a special show committee chaired by Keith Spencer, to investigate all matters concerning our annual meeting, e.g. bourse contracts, protocol to be observed at a show, selection of program and seminars, scheduling, etc. This should result in our being better able to assist the host club in presenting an improved show, of increased interest to our members and to the public.

52nd Annual Convention CALTAPEX '80

The first impression that one gets upon arriving at Calgary is the awareness of explosive expansion. This seems to kindle an extreme feeling of pride among the Calgarians which projects as warm hospitality to its visitors. It was in this environment that CALTAPEX took place.

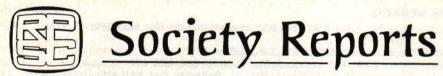

Following the official opening at which Dr. Fred Stulberg, President of the R.P.S.C. participated, there were three days crammed with meetings, seminars, receptions, tours and dinners. These ended with the Awards Banquet at which William Maresch of Toronto was the guest speaker.

The bourse was made up of over 50 dealers from across Canada and the United States. The exhibition itself contained over one hundred and sixty (Sixteen page) frames with exhibits from over forty collectors. There was an extensive Court of Honour section containing a display from our National Postal Museum and six other well known gold medal exhibits. All judges were from Western Canada and all had at least national accreditation with Charles Emery R.P.S.C. the Coquitlam, B.C. was chief of the jury. The exhibition has recognized R.P.S.C. national status.

To the members of the R.P.S.C. probably the most important meeting was the 52nd Annual Meeting which was held in conjunction with the show. The officers presented their reports and not one had a dischordant note about the future of the 'Royal'. The election of the Directors saw only one change. James E. Kraemer was elected in place of Andrew Hinrichs who resigned after over 25 years as a Director. The election of Officers that followed saw Charles O. Emery as President, Mrs. S. A. Clark as first Vice President, James E. Kraemer as second Vice President and Fred G. Stulberg as Executive Secretary. All other positions remain unchanged.

The Royal Philatelic Society of Canada is indebted to Ed. Harris, Chairman of CALTAPEX '80 and his committee; to Joe Werner, President of the Calgary Philatelic Society and his members. The job they have done was monumental and will long be remembered with fondness.

F.G.S.

JUDGING PROGRAMME COORDINATOR --

The major item of news in connection with the Judging Programme is that an agreement has been reached with the American Philatelic Society for reciprocal recognition of the Accredited Judges of each Society. The full text of the agreement will be published in a future issue of the "Canadian Philatelist". However, briefly stated, it provides for recognition of the Accredited International and National Judges of each Society -A.P.S. does not issue accreditations below the National Level - who are neither citizens nor permanent residents of the other country. In other words, A.P.S. will recognise our National and International Accreditation for persons other than U.S. Citizens or permanent residents of the United States and we will recognise A.P.S. Accreditation for persons other than Canadian Citizens or permanent residents of Canada. This means that a R.P.S.C. accredited National or International judge will be able to maintain his accreditation by serving on the jury at an A.P.S. approved exhibition and vice versa for A.P.S. accredited judges. This agreement will be signed by the Presidents of both Societies at the American Philatelic Society Convention in Spokane, Washington on the 27th September. A signal honour for our Society and our Judging Programme has been an invitation from Mr. Bernard Hennig, the Chairman of the A.P.S.

Judges Accreditation Committee and a member of the R.P.S.C., to present our Judging Seminar lecture and slide programme, commonly referred to as the "Mike and Fred Travelling Magic Lantern and Talk Show", to the A.P.S. Convention. Our President, Charles Emery, who will be serving on the jury in Spokane, and I will be giving the presentation.

The next item is to advise the Chapters and members of the Society in the Maritimes that Dr. Stulberg and I are proposing a Judging Seminar trip to the East Coast during April 1981. This will be similar to the very successful trip that we made to Western Canada in April 1979. Dates are not set as yet but the trip will be made to coincide with the bi-annual exhibition of La Société Philatélique de Ouébec. Tentative locations are Halifax, St. John and St. John's, but other locations would be considered if there was enough interest. I will be writing to the Chapter Representatives concerned very shortly to initiate arrangements.

The following people have successfully fulfilled the requirements of the local/Regional Level apprenticeship and are accordingly granted accreditation as Local/Regional Judges:-

Barber, D. H., Oakville, Ont. Chromecki, M., Toronto, Ont. Csucs, A., Sarnia, Ont. Cummings, T., Kitchener, Ont. Giles, I., Hamilton, Ont. Lyon, D., Gravenhurst, Ont. Lyon, T. E., Gravenhurst, Ont. Measures, D. J., Collingwood, Ont. Zeman, O., Mississauga, Ont.

With reference to the above list. Anyone who is currently on the Apprentice list and who feels that they have fulfilled the requirements for accreditation should advise me as soon as possible so that we can publish their names as being accredited.

Anyone who has any questions regarding the Society Judging Programme can direct them to me at - 192 Shanty Bay Road, BARRIE, Ontario. L4M 1E6

As a last comment, I hope that you can see that we, your directors and officers, have embarked on a major modernization and improvement program. It is therefore important that we hear from any of our members who may have suggestions or constructive criticisms. Any such letter received by us will be personally handled by either myself, or the person in charge of the department to which the suggestion applies.

We hope that you will write to us at this time in particular as we are anxious to have your input as part of the decision making process to improve our service to you. May we have the pleasure of hearing that time. By 1877 she was outclassed by most steamers on the Sound and entered a period of semi-retirement featured by a sinking at the dock and virtual abandonment in the Snohowick Slough bone yard near Seattle.

When the Klondile gold rush of 1897 showed the need for steamers, the owners resurrected her and sent her north with passengers and freight. Unfortunately, she was not capable of completing the trip and foundered off Unalaska without loss of life.

Apfelbaum Company has moved

You have read, in their ads, about the move that Earle F. P. Apfelbaum, Inc., made recently (C.P. pages 71, 162). You might be interested in seeing where they are now located and, at the same time, we can show you members of the firm.

Their new headquarters building, now known as the Apfelbaum Gallery, is a four storey former mansion which was built in 1855-56, redesigned and rebuilt some time after 1870 and again in 1980. The latest rebuilding has retained such features as marble steps to the double entrance doors, marble foyer with a domed decorated ceiling, ten feet high double hardwood sliding doors, 19th century coffered ceilings and many other of the architectural features of the earlier era.

Tired but happy group that successfully moved to their new headquarters in April. In the foreground the Apfelbaums (I to r) son John, Martin (President), his wife Diane (Exec. Vice-President), daughter Sissy and son Ken.

Inspecting the auction room of the newly 'opened' Gallery are (I to r) Charles G. Baugh of the Philadelphia Post Office, Martin and Diane Apfelbaum, Thacher Longstreth, Pres. Greater Phildelphia Chamber of Commerce, and the architect who worked on the restoration, Otto E. Reichert-Facilides.

CHINESE PHILATELIC MAGAZINE

A new philatelic periodical with this name began publication in March of this year. It is published by China Philatelic Magazine Press, 27 Dong Chang An Jie, Beijing, People's Republic of China.

It is stated to be "issued mainly for the purpose of introducing Chinese stamps and philatelic activities to stamp collectors both at home and abroad." However, it will be difficult to accomplish its aims abroad because the text is entirely in Chinese.

The first issue of 32 pages is well printed and illustrated with black and white photographs and drawings and, in addition to the full colour covers, it has a four page centre section also in full colour.

I suspect that the price is indicated but my inability to read Chinese keeps that information from me.
