Ensemble Le Castor de trois pence, pièce de monnaie, médaillon et timbre

Le motif du Castor de trois pence, le premier timbre-poste canadien, est inspiré d'une esquisse réalisée par sir Sandford Fleming en 1851. Cette vignette est aujourd'hui un symbole du transfert de l'administration des activités postales de la Grande-Bretagne au Canada. Pour rendre hommage à Postes Canada à l'occasion du 150^e anniversaire de l'émission de ce timbre, la Monnaie royale canadienne a créé un ensemble de collection consacré au Castor de trois pence, qui comprend :

- une pièce de trois cents en argent sterling (pur à 92,5%), plaquée or 24 carats et ornée d'une réplique du motif original du Castor de trois pence et de l'effigie de la reine Élisabeth II (pièce au fini éprouve numismatique : relief mat sur fond brillant);
- un médaillon commémoratif en forme de timbre et orné du motif du Castor de trois pence;
- le timbre-poste canadien émis en 2001 reproduisant le Castor de trois pence;
- un certificat d'authenticité numéroté;
- un joli écrin rigide.

★ Seulement 90 000 exemplaires !

The identification, naming, and categorization of printing errors and plate flaws on postage stamps have been an integral part of our hobby almost from its beginning. The study of "missing gold" varieties on modern-day issues continues this long-established tradition.

L'identification, la dénomination et la classification des erreurs d'impression et des défauts de planches sur les timbres-poste, font partie intégrante de notre passe-temps depuis presque ses débuts. L'étude de certains « trésors perdus » dans les émissions modernes perpétue cette tradition bien enracinée.

Missing Gold on the Year of the Snake stamp adds to the list of Major Errors

by Joseph Monteiro
with illustrations
by Dr. Gerald Robertson and Gary Lyon

Introduction

Stamps with the gold inscription or the gold design missing have attracted a considerable degree of attention as their absence is very conspicuous. This is hardly surprising as gold has been a precious metal and has attracted the attention of the human race for more than 5,000 years. It has been used as a medium of exchange, a store of wealth and a measure of value. Jewellery made from gold has been in existence for several centuries. Often in the past, the amount of gold possessed or worn has been considered as an indication of status or affluence. Even in our relationships with other people, blonde-haired women more than darker haired women are often singled out for one reason or another. It is not unusual that when the gold inscription or the gold design on a stamp is missing, philatelists pay particular attention. These errors, like other errors with a missing design or missing inscription, are classified as major errors.

This article will review a few Canadian stamp errors that have been printed with the gold missing and narrate the stories of how these errors were discovered. Then a brief explanation will be provided on how these errors occurred, followed by a short bibliography.

Stamps With The Missing Gold
The Christmas stamp: The first Canadian stamp discovered with the gold missing was the 35-cent Christmas stamp issued on October 17, 1979. This error with the missing gold inscription of the value and the country makes it an unusual and spectacular error. The Christmas stamp was issued in keeping with the usual Christmas tradition. The design of the stamp depicts the artistic work of Arnaud Maggo. It pictures a knitted doll presently stored in the Royal Ontario Museum in Toronto. The word 'Canada' printed on the top with the numeral '35' on the right is missing on the error. In addition, the tagging is also missing on all four sides of the stamp. The error is shown in Fig. 1.

Fig. 7 – Scott No. TBA

The discovery of the 35-cent Christmas stamp error was publicized in an article in the Toronto Sun. One pane with the error was found in British Columbia by an elderly couple. The newspaper indicated that the couple, who wished to remain anonymous, said that “they knew they had something when they bought the stamps two years ago (i.e. 1979) from a Western post office for $17.50, ...but did not know exactly what they were worth.”^[1] The article jokingly remarked “If an elderly couple from British Columbia happen to be seen with their tongues hanging out, you can bet it’s not because they intend to lick 50 special 1979 Christmas stamps which – through a printing error – are missing the gold ink spelling ‘Canada 35’.”^[1] It was not until they met John J. Talman, a stamp auctioneer in Toronto, that the couple realized they were sitting on a gold mine. The stamps missing the gold colour makes them valuable to error-craving collectors.

Another pane of 50 with the error had surfaced in Montreal, Québec. The Stamp Collector of February 1980 noted that an “unnamed collector purchased a part pane of Canada’s 35-cent Christmas stamp for 1979 from a local post office before the holiday and immediately franked and posted several cards addressed to Germany. It was only after arriving home that he realized the adhesives were missing the legend ‘Canada’ and the denomination.”^[2] Since the stamps were printed in panes of 50, or four panes to a sheet, 200 stamps should have been printed if the entire sheet was not sent through the printing press to receive the gold ink and tagging. Though only 100 errors have been reported, the allure of gold has driven men to commit crimes and a number of forgeries of these stamps have entered the market. Mr. Richard Gratton on this subject states: “I have seen a number of forgeries thanks to the committee of experts of the Fédération québécoise de philatélie. I can give you the number of forgeries versus the number of genuine stamps as follows:

Catalogue No.	Total Examined	Forgeries	Genuine
841i	12	10	2”

The Mandora stamp: The second stamp that was discovered with the missing gold was issued on January 19, 1981 to celebrate the ‘Look of Music’ exhibition held in Vancouver. This 17-cent stamp depicting an 18th century musical instrument, the Mandora, was designed by Clive Webster. It was printed by Ashton-Potter Limited Toronto. Part of the design on the stamp showing the gold text ‘CANADA 17’ with the gold description of the instrument ‘Antique Instruments/Instruments anciens' below it are missing. This striking error with the missing gold is accompanied by two additional errors: the vertical tagging on the stamp is missing and the design is printed on the gum side. An illustration of the error is shown in Fig. 2.

The discovery of this error was popularized by Gary J. Lyon (Philatelist) Ltd. based on a report from England that a 17-cent commemorative stamp with the gold missing had been found. It is reported that these errors were obtained by a dealer in London, England who sold them to a dealer in New York before they were obtained by Gary J. Lyon.

Four panes of 50 stamps with this error missing are believed to exist. According to Lyon, "of these 200 stamps, 84 have varying degrees of bends or creases from improper handling... that leaves only 116 perfect stamps. In addition, I have learned that one of the other two complete panes of the error has found its way into an investment holding and will not be broken up. It may not surface for at least a decade."

The Commonwealth Games Cycling stamp: The third error with the gold inscriptions missing is the 88-cent Commonwealth Games Cycling stamp issued on August 5, 1994. This stamp was issued to commemorate the 25th Commonwealth Games and was designed by Rod Roodenburg and David Coates in conjunction with Ion Design Inc. The stamp was printed in five colours, plus gold foil stamping. It is tagged vertically and horizontally along the white border of the stamp. This error turned up in only one location, Victoria, British Columbia, and can be described as the omission of the "the gold foil that prominently shows the text "CANADA" and the denomination "88" across the bottom of the stamp."

The article which reported this discovery stated: "One damaged and 23 sound copies of the error came from a single discovery pane of 25 that turned up in Victoria, British Columbia. No examples of this foil-omitted error have been reported to date. The example of the error shown here has been given certificate No. 2832 by the Fédération québécoise de philatélie. The error stamps are being sold on behalf of the anonymous owner by Saskatoon Stamp Co., of Saskatoon, Saskatchewan." So far only 24 of the 25 stamps found are known to exist. However, given the format in which the stamps were printed, namely four panes of 25 per sheet, it is estimated that at least one sheet of 100 stamps was printed with these errors.

Fig. 3 – Scott No. 1521i

The Commonwealth Games Diving stamp: Another stamp issued to commemorate the 25th Commonwealth Games was also found with the gold foil missing. This 50-cent stamp depicts a diver. Like the cycling stamp, it was designed by Rod Roodenburg and David Coates in conjunction with Ion Design Inc. The stamp was printed in five colours, plus gold foil stamping, and is tagged vertically and horizontally along the white border of the stamp. This error is also very similar to that described above. The text "CANADA" and the denomination "50" across the bottom of the stamp in gold foil are missing. This is shown in Fig. 3.

The error was reported in 1997 in the Saskatoon Stamp Centre, Catalogue #196. The catalogue offering this error for sale reports that it is "one of only 33 known. Copy of VGGPRF and BPA certs & Ortech report." In January 2000 R. Maresch & Son Auction catalogue also offered this error for sale. The catalogue described the error as "1994 Commonwealth Games: 50c Diving with Gold Canada 50 omitted, never hinged and very fine, with normal for comparison with copies of 1996 Vincent GravesGreene Philatelic Research Foundation and B.P.A. certificates for block of ten where this came from..."

The descriptions in the catalogues do not indicate if the tagging is also missing. From an examination of the photo provided in the catalogue it does not appear that there is any impression of the gold foil on the error stamps. Further, one cannot tell if the tagging is missing from the illustrated photograph. However, based on past experience with such errors, and its probable cause, it is likely that the tagging is missing.

The Commonwealth Marathon Wheelchair and High Jump stamps: In addition to the above Commonwealth Games commemoratives, two other stamps issued to celebrate this event had problems with the gold inscription. The two 43-cent stamps were the Marathon Wheelchair and High Jump commemoratives. Like the above Commonwealth Games stamps, the designers, colour details and tagging are the same though their designs are different. In addition, these errors are different from those described above. These stamps had their inscriptions in silver instead of gold. As a result, the text "CANADA" and the denomination "43" across the bottom of the stamp are in silver. This is shown in Fig. 4.

The errors were reported in the 1997 Saskatoon Stamp Centre, Catalogue #187 and described as "43c Victoria Games SILVER INK variety in UL Imprint block of 6. 'CANADA 43' is Silver on right block & part of left pair. A 'repellex' type error. With FQP cert #2908." The description in the catalogue does not indicate whether the tagging is missing but given the nature of the error it is likely that the tagging is not missing.

The Floraison Painting stamp: The fifth stamp with the gold foil missing is the Floraison Painting stamp. This 88-cent stamp issued in 1995 in panes of 16 has gold foil along the vertical sides and horizontal sides outside the square frame in which the painting of the Floraion by Alfred Pellan is enclosed. The width of the gold foil along the horizontal sides is much broader than the gold foil along the vertical sides. This stamp is tagged on all four sides. The error can be described as the missing foil on the four sides of the stamp. It is shown in Fig. 5.

The error was recently reported in the April 2001 R. Maresch & Son Auction catalogue which offered it for sale. The catalogue described the error in this lot as “1995 88c FLORAISON with completely MISSING GOLD, a masterpiece of Canadian art by Alfred Pellan, hitherto UNRECORDED and just recently discovered, much rarer than the INVERTED SEAWAY, ...”

Fig. 5 – Scott No. 1545?

An examination of the photo given on the cover of the auction catalogue does not indicate any impression of the gold foil nor can one detect the presence of any tagging. This suggests that an entire sheet with the missing gold foil and missing tagging is likely to exist. Since this is a recent discovery no other information of this stamp is available.

Year of the Ox stamp: The 45-cent Year of the Ox stamp was also found with the missing gold error. The stamp was issued on Jan. 7, 1997 to celebrate the contribution of Chinese-Canadians to Canada since their arrival as immigrants in 1858. It depicts a design by Ivy Li with calligraphy by Liu Xiang-Ping and was printed by Ashton-Potter using six colour lithography. The discovery of the error with the missing gold was published in Scott's Stamp Monthly of May 1997.

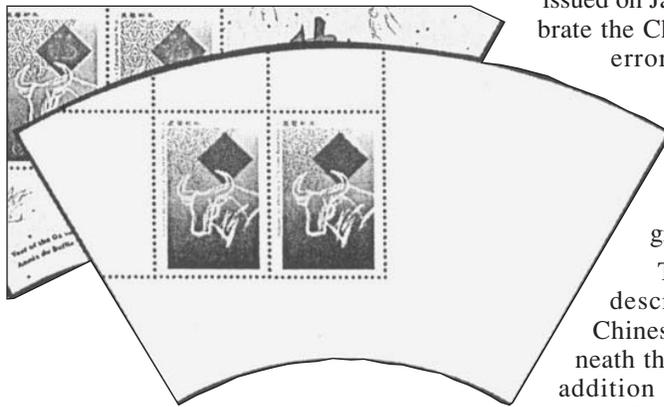

Fig. 6 – Scott No. 1630a

It was reported by John Jamieson in the Scott publication as follows: “Shortly after it was released I received a call from an individual in British Columbia who had discovered an error pair of these stamps in the stocks of their local post office. The stamps were completely missing their gold colour... The error pair came from one of the Year of the Ox souvenir sheets of two stamps. Unfortunately, the discovery was not made until the lucky individual had stripped off the margin of the souvenir sheet in preparation for putting the two stamps on envelopes.”

The error may be described as the missing gold inscription of the country and the value of the stamp; i.e., ‘Canada 45.’ In addition, the gold inscription in the red diamond shown at the right top of the Ox’s horn is missing. The gold inscription missing is the Chinese character ‘fu,’ depicted in the stamp in Chinese. All the other gold inscriptions on the souvenir sheet are presumably also missing. An illustration of this error is shown in Fig. 6.

So far only one souvenir sheet with the missing inscription has been reported. However, since the souvenir sheets are printed in the format of 12 per pane, at least another 11 should exist. It is not known whether the souvenir sheets with the missing error were all sold in British Columbia. This would largely depend on how the souvenir sheets that were cut from the pane were packaged and distributed. If they were packaged in several packages, it is possible that the packages could have been distributed to various parts of the country.

Year of the Snake stamp: The most recently printed stamp with the gold missing is the 47-cent snake stamp designed by Marlene Wou. The stamp was issued on January 5, 2001 to celebrate the Chinese New Year. The error came from stamps printed in sheet format of 25 to a pane that was printed by Ashton Potter using the lithographic process.

The stamp error can be described as the missing Chinese symbol in gold beneath the tail of the snake. In addition to the error on the stamp, the gold border and gold colour code are also missing together with the Chinese symbol and the English words ‘YEAR OF THE SNAKE’ and the French words ‘ANNÉE DU SERPENT’ in the marginal inscription. The missing gold is very prominent on the marginal inscriptions on the pane of stamps. An illustration of the error is shown in Fig. 7.

This major error was found in Western Canada. According to Gary J. Lyon, “About two weeks ago we were contacted concerning a totally new find. The Year of the Snake commemorative had been found missing the gold colour! Two sheets of twenty-five (stamps) were discovered in Western Canada... Close examination reveals absolutely no trace of the gold colour. The inscription blocks are especially nice as the gold colour control dot is, of course, missing as well. Like most modern missing colours, these stamps are also untagged. This is because the tagging bars are normally applied at the end of the printing process.”^[17]

To date only 50 stamps are known to exist as this commemorative was printed in a small format sheet of 25. When this article was written, no additional information was available about any additional discoveries. How many will eventually be found will depend on the number of panes of 25 printed per sheet and the number of sheets printed with the gold missing. If the number of panes printed is the same as the number of panes printed on the bird sheets, as many as six panes of 25 could exist, or multiples thereof.

The Cause of the Missing Gold

The Christmas stamp: The error occurred because the sheet did not receive the impression of the plate carrying the inscription. It is most likely that the sheet was either stuck to the back of another sheet after it received the impression of the first plate or it was not fed through the printing machine to receive the impression of the above inscription and the tagging. This partially printed sheet could have been placed with the fully printed and tagged sheets to be perforated, and unintentionally got distributed to the public.

The Mandora stamp: Explanations of how this error occurred are interesting as this is a triple error. First, the gold inscription and tagging are missing, and it is printed on the gum side. Second, the marginal inscriptions (or inscription on the selvedge) appear in the selvedge but not on the stamps. According to Gary Lyon, "a pane of 200 stamps (later cut into four sheets of fifty) was fed into the press upside down (gum side up!). As a result it stuck to the sheet above when the wet printing ink came into contact with the gum. The first press printed all of the colours of the stamp, except for the gold inscriptions. These sheets were then fed into a second printing press that applies the gold inscription and tagging bars. Both of these were missed as the error pane was still stuck to the one above. The reverse side of all the error stamps shows a light offset of both the printing and tagging inks from the freshly printed sheet below. This interesting offset would easily occur. Since the sheet was upside down during printing, the reverse of the stamp was actually the side of the paper intended to readily accept the printing ink."

The above explains the first aspect of this puzzle. But what of the second? Leopold Beaudet indicates that the marginal inscriptions were printed during the first pass or press (other than the gold inscription on the stamp and the tagging).

This explains why the marginal inscription appears in the selvedge. The two presses indicated by Gary Lyon or the two passes referred to by Leopold Beaudet were needed because Ashton Potter used a five colour lithography to print this stamp and the printing of this stamp needed six colours including the tagging and gold inscription.

The Commonwealth Games Cycling and Diving stamps and the Floraison Painting stamp: These errors occurred either because a sheet was taken for examination before the gold foil was stamped and accidentally got placed with the fully printed stamps and was distributed or because one sheet got stuck on top of the other at the time the sheet received the gold foil stamping, or there was no gold ink in the printing press. As a result, only the top sheet received the gold foil stamping or some stamps in the pane did not receive the gold ink. The second two explanations seem reasonable only if the impression of the embossing appears on it. It is also possible to distinguish between these two explanations by the absence or presence of tagging if done with the plate using the gold printing. However, since this impression does not appear on the error stamps, the first explanation is more likely in explaining the cause of these errors. Unlike the gold missing on the other stamps described above, after this paragraph the gold here refers to gold foil rather than gold metallic ink. If you examine the gold foil stamps, you will notice that the foil creates an effect that looks like embossing and leaves a clear impression of the inscription on the reverse of the stamp

The Commonwealth Marathon Wheelchair and High Jump stamps: The Marathon Wheelchair and High Jump errors have their inscriptions in silver rather than gold. These errors have been described as repellex errors. The reason for a repellex error can be described as follows: "One of the substances used in the lithographic printing process is a syrupy liquid called Repellex. It serves its purpose well but sometimes more than is needed gets into action. It spreads into an oval shape about 20 stamps wide and effectively prevents, in a two or more colour job, one of the colours from being applied. Result, a major error on part of the sheet, ..." [11] The error that results is non-constant: one or a few stamps could be printed with the colour completely missing and the rest of the pane could have as much as 10 per cent to 90 per cent of the colour missing. There is no scientific way of determining how many repellex errors can occur per sheet as it is a non-constant error. It can affect one or several rows in a pane. Before any prediction can be made on the possible number of such errors in existence, one must obtain an entire pane containing this error. It is also worthwhile noting that since it is a repellex error there is no reason why the tagging should be missing.

Year of the Ox stamp: The reason given for the error is due to the multi-printing process used in the production of the stamp. The uncut large panes containing the 12 souvenir sheets were first printed without the gold inscription. Later the sheets were sent through the printing press again to receive the gold inscriptions. During this process, one pane got stuck to another; as a result, the bottom pane did not receive the gold inscription.

Year of the Snake stamp: The cause of the error is very similar to the cause provided for some of the above errors. One sheet of stamps was not sent through the printing press to receive the impression of the second plate of the gold ink and the tagging of one sheet could have got stuck to another when receiving the inscription in gold. It is impossible to tell which of these reasons is correct when gold ink is applied, in contrast to the application of gold foil ink, unless one has additional information such as having two sheets and finding that one is stuck to the other.

Conclusion

The missing gold inscription errors are an important and attractive subset of the various stamp errors with their inscription missing. In the past, particularly with regard to perforating errors, I have emphasized adopting and following an educational approach to studying philately so that it is placed on a sound foundation. This also applies to printing errors.

One explanation for these errors is that the stamps did not receive the impression of another plate containing the gold ink. There may be other explanations why a stamp does not receive the inscription. For example, when it is stuck to another sheet when receiving the impression of the second plate; when there is no more ink in the printing press; or when a repellex error occurs. In all these instances, the nature of the error on the stamp is likely to be different. For instance, the impression of the second plate usually appears on the error stamp. In the Mandora error, the explanation was further complicated by the presence of inscriptions on the marginal plate block and the presence of yet another error, printing on the gum side. An understanding of how this stamp was printed and the plates needed clearly reveal how this error could have happened.

Following an educational approach is not only mentally rewarding but can also prevent costly mistakes. The glitter of gold, as in many crimes involving gold robberies, has attracted forgers. As indicated by Mr. Gratton, "The ease with which metallic inks can be removed makes it desirable to get these errors certified before purchasing them." It is therefore desirable to get these errors certified by expert bodies, such as the Vincent Graves Greene Philatelic Research Foundation, the Fédération québécoise de philatélie, or a similar organization. This should enable philatelists to avoid making costly errors. Often it may be difficult to avoid these costly errors, especially if you have to make a deal on the spot. Nevertheless, you should remember the explanations provided for these errors if circumstances dictate that you act immediately when deciding whether the stamp you are about to purchase could be a fake. ♣

O.A.T. Markings and the Canadian Connection

by Murray Heifetz

O.A.T. is a marking, almost always applied by a rubber stamp, which is generally accepted to mean "Onward Air Transmission." There are currently 25 different types of O.A.T. markings - 24 applied by handstamp and one by hand inscription. The marking was applied when a piece of mail from country A, destined to country C, was routed via an exchange office in country B in an unsealed mail bag. From country B, various letters in the bag would be forwarded to any of several destinations, including C. Under Universal Postal Union rules, the application was optional, and it seems that the rules for application were also arbitrary. It might be applied to the top letter of a bundle, to every letter in the bundle, or not applied at all.

The known period of application of O.A.T. markings is 1940 to 1971. Of the 2,700 plus markings in my database, more than 2,300 were applied in the period 1940 to 1945. The vast majority were applied at the Foreign Section (FS) of the London Post Office. A few were applied at Tangier, Prestwick, and Hong Kong. There is some speculation about Cairo, Calcutta, and Lagos. The marking types can be segregated by further noting that the earliest were oval shaped (six types known), applied throughout the war period. They were succeeded by a rectangular type (also six types known) which were in use from February 1945 to May 1946.

During the war period, airmail from Canada had various route options but, to date, only mail routed via London received the O.A.T. marking. It is interesting to note that because almost all Canadian airmail to Europe, the Middle East, Asia, and Africa was routed via London, Canada ranks third in the list of countries of origin (after Palestine and Switzerland). In contrast, the USA is close to the bottom of the list, as most of their airmail went on Pan American routes, usually via Lisbon. My database has 234 entries originating from Canada using 14 of the 25 known types (10 per cent of the total). Of these, the vast majority are the type I strike - an oval 50 mm by 30mm, the smallest of the ovals, usually in a shade of red, but also known in black, violet and blue. These latter colours are quite rare. Canada is also fourth in the list of destination countries (after USA, Switzerland, and Sweden).

THE 75TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE LE 75^E ANNIVERSAIRE DE LA Fédération Internationale de Philatélie

by / par Charles J.G. Verge, FRPSC, RPSC Historian / Historien de la SRPC

On the occasion of the FIP's 75th anniversary, I thought it appropriate to give you a very short history of this world body and how Canada fits within that history.

Although adhesive postage stamps appeared in 1840 and the collecting of these started shortly thereafter, organized philately did not get its start for another 25 years. Léon Putz in FIP: Origin and Evolution of the International Federation of Philately (Luxembourg, 1984) states in his Foreword (p. 3) that the first society which was devoted exclusively to stamp collecting was founded in 1866 in Canada. Mr. Putz was mistaken. The Excelsior Stamp Association of 1866 he references is not a stamp club, but an early postage stamp dealer's pricelist published in St. John, New Brunswick. He then goes on to say that local societies went on to form national federations and he gives credit to Belgium followed by Switzerland for creating the first national societies in 1890. However, both North American federations were started earlier on. The American Philatelic Society was founded in 1886 and the Canadian Philatelic Society in 1887.

The first exhibition to deal exclusively with stamps was held in Vienna in 1881. Prior philatelic exhibitions were incorporated into larger, multi-purpose exhibitions. For example, 117 collectors from 20 countries met together at the Paris Exhibition of 1878. The FIP recognizes 33 international exhibitions that were held prior to its founding. All were in Europe except those held in Buenos Aires in 1910 and in New York in 1913 and 1926.

International exhibitions gave philatelists the opportunity to meet and discuss their hobby. It was inevitable that the idea of forming an international body would be voiced. At the turn of the 20th century several mentions can be found of one or another national federation putting forth the idea. However, World War One (WW I) prevented any further steps being taken toward this goal. Luxembourg reinitiated the idea in 1922 and a congress of European philatelic associations was held during the August 27-31, 1922 exhibition held in Luxembourg. Although the principle of international philatelic cooperation was supported, memories of WW I were still too fresh in the mind of participants for anything to come out of this meeting except more meetings. Other organizational get-togethers were held in 1924 (The Hague) and in 1925 (Paris). The latter meet-

À l'occasion du 75^e anniversaire de la FIP, je crois qu'il est tout à fait approprié de faire un petit historique de cette organisation mondiale et de la place qu'y tient le Canada.

Bien que les timbres-poste adhésifs aient vu le jour en 1840, et que leur collection ait commencé peu après, il a fallu attendre près de vingt-cinq ans pour assister à une philatélie organisée. Léon Putz déclare dans l'introduction (p. 3) de son livre FIP : Origine et évolution de la Fédération Internationale de Philatélie (Luxembourg, 1984) que la première société exclusivement dévouée à la collection de timbres a été fondée au Canada en 1866. L'information de M. Putz est erronée. Il se réfère à la Excelsior Stamp Association de 1866. Elle n'est pas une société philatélique, mais une liste de prix d'un marchand de St-Jean, Nouveau-Brunswick. M. Putz ajoute que les sociétés locales formèrent éventuellement des fédérations nationales et que la Belgique fut le premier pays, suivi par la Suisse, à créer les premières sociétés nationales en 1890. Elles furent toutefois précédées par des sociétés nord-américaines: l'American Philatelic Society en 1886, et la Canadian Philatelic Society en 1887.

The FIP logo / Le logo de la FIP

La première exposition consacrée exclusivement aux timbres s'est tenue à Vienne en 1881. Auparavant, les expositions philatéliques faisaient partie d'autres expositions aux sujets divers. Ainsi, 117 collectionneurs de 20 pays étaient réunis à l'Exposition de Paris de 1878. La FIP signale qu'il y eut 33 expositions internationales tenues avant sa création. Toutes en Europe, sauf celles tenues à Buenos Aires, en 1910, et à New York, en 1913 et 1926.

Les expositions internationales donnèrent aux philatélistes l'occasion de se rencontrer et de discuter de leur passion. Il était inévitable que l'idée de former un groupe international soit mise de l'avant. Au début du XX^e siècle, on peut noter que l'une ou l'autre des fédérations nationales y avaient pensé. La guerre de 1914-18 empêcha la réalisation de cet objectif. La guerre de Luxembourg qui remit le projet à l'ordre du jour en 1922; cette année-là se tint un congrès des associations européennes de philatélie, dans le cadre de l'exposition qui se déroulait dans ce pays du 27 au 31 août. Bien que l'idée d'une coopération philatélique internationale fut bien acceptée, la guerre de 1914-18 hantait toujours les esprits des participants et cette rencontre ne fit qu'en entraîner d'autres. D'autres réunions organisation-ing resulted in a set of draft statutes that were circulated. Objections were then received and the statutes were re-drafted. It was during the founding Congress in Paris, June 18-19, 1926, that approval was given for the statutes, and documents were signed creating the FIP. At first the FIP was not truly international since invitations to the Paris Congress were sent only to European philatelic federations, of which seven attended and became founding nations of the FIP (Austria, Belgium, France, Germany, The Netherlands, Switzerland and Czechoslovakia). Willy Bigwood of Belgium was elected the FIP's first President.

Early on the FIP saw itself as a much larger body. H. van der Schooren (The Netherlands) was elected President of the FIP in June 1929 and in his first address expressed "the hope that one day the FIP would include the same countries which already today are affiliated with the UPU." A goal still not reached by the FIP although it currently has more than 80 member countries. Non-European interest in the FIP started in 1934 with the Society of Philatelic Americans (SPA), who requested information with a view to joining and representing the United States. The SPA even sent a cheque to cover part of the membership fee. In fact, it was the American Philatelic Society which became the official United States representative in 1938 when it became a corresponding member along with The Netherlands Indies following Brazil and Egypt, whose corresponding membership had been approved in 1936. After a hiatus for World War Two, the FIP began to expand shortly after the war. Palestine was the first non-European state to obtain full membership in the FIP in 1946, followed by the USA and Brazil in 1947.

Canada did not become a member until 1967 when The Royal Philatelic Society of Canada applied for membership on behalf of Canadian collectors. Canada, compared to other countries, has not been a major player in the management and organization of the FIP. There are some exceptions, with Harry Sutherland, RDP, sitting on the FIP Board as a director from 1976 to 1978 and Michael Madesker, RDP, currently completing his third four-year term as President of the FIP's Commission for Youth Philately, having been first elected in 1992. On the exhibition front Canada has hosted six World Exhibitions, five of which have been under FIP patronage: CAPEX '51, '78, '87 and '96 and CANADA 1982 and 1992. CAPEX '51,

A series of stamps and labels issued for international exhibitions and the FIP in the 19th and early 20th centuries.

Une série de timbres et d'éti-quettes émises pour la FIP et pour des expositions internationales au XIXe siècle et au début du XXe.

nelles eurent lieu, en 1924 à La Haye et en 1925 à Paris. C'est à cette dernière réunion que des ébauches de statuts furent diffusées et réécrites après avoir pris note des critiques. Au congrès de Paris des 18 et 19 juin 1926, ces statuts furent approuvés et les documents créant la FIP furent signés. Au départ, la FIP n'était pas vraiment internationale, car seules les fédérations philatéliques européennes avaient été invitées au congrès de Paris. Les sept fédérations qui y étaient présentes représentèrent donc les nations fondatrices de la FIP, c'est à dire l'Autriche, la Belgique, la France, les Pays-Bas, la Suisse et la Tchécoslovaquie. Le Belge Willy Bigwood en devint le premier président.

Très tôt, la FIP se voyait déjà comme une très grande organisation. Juste après avoir été élu président de la FIP en juin 1929, H. van der Schooren, des Pays-Bas, déclarait, dans son premier discours, qu'il espérait qu'un jour, la FIP inclurait les mêmes pays qui aujourd'hui sont affiliés à l'UPU. Cet objectif n'a toujours pas été atteint par la FIP, malgré l'adhésion de 80 pays. C'est en 1934 que les pays hors d'Europe commencèrent à manifester leur intérêt envers la FIP; en effet, c'est cette année-là que la Society of Philatelic Americans (SPA) demanda des renseignements sur les conditions d'adhésion, dans le but de représenter les États-Unis. La SPA envoya même un chèque pour couvrir une partie de la cotisation. En fait, c'est à l'American Philatelic Society que revint le rôle de représentant officiel des États-Unis en 1938, en devenant membre correspondant aux côtés des Indes néerlandaises, précédés du did not receive FIP patronage since it was held prior to Canada joining the FIP. CANADA 1982 and 1992 were the only World Youth Philatelic Exhibitions held outside Europe until 1996. On the Grand Prix front the news is not any rosier. Only two Canadians have won Grand Prix: the summum of philatelic exhibiting. Each has won two. Gerald Wellburn won the Grand Prix de l'Exposition at CAPEX '51 and the Grand Prix National at CAPEX '87. Both these wins were with his British Columbia. Ron Brigham's The Province of Canada: The Pence and Cents, 1851-1868 won the Grand Prix International at AUSTRALIA '99 and the Grand Prix d'Honneur (World Stamp Champion) at BELGICA 2001.

What is the future for the FIP and for Canada's participation in it in the new millennium? The answers have yet to be formulated but I am sure that there is much ahead as both the FIP and The RPSC seek to adapt to change. Under its current President, Knud Mohr (Denmark), the FIP is seeking to open up international level exhibiting to more and more collectors. This approach is strongly supported by The RPSC. In fact, The RPSC, jointly with the APS, submitted a proposal to the FIP Board for a single frame class (one-framers) at the international level. I am sure that in the years to come cooperation between the FIP and The RPSC will continue to grow.

FIP is currently looking for a new logo that would express better the art of stamp collecting and the international character of the organization in the third millennium. Professionally designed proposals, in hard and soft formats, can be submitted to The President, RPSC, P.O. Box 929, Station 'Q', Toronto, ON, M4T 2P1, no later than Oct. 31, 2001. ♣

Brésil et de l'Égypte dont le statut de membre correspondant avait été approuvé en 1936. Après un hiatus dû à la Seconde Guerre mondiale, la FIP commença à se développer dès la fin des hostilités. La Palestine fut le premier pays hors d'Europe à devenir membre à part entière en 1946, suivie des États-Unis et du Brésil en 1947.

Ce n'est qu'en 1967 que le Canada devenait membre, après que La Société royale de philatélie du Canada eut fait sa demande d'adhésion au nom des collectionneurs canadiens. Comparé à d'autres pays, le Canada n'a pas joué un grand rôle dans l'organisation et la direction de la FIP. Il y a des exceptions, tels Harry Sutherland, RDP, membre du comité directeur de la FIP de 1976 à 1978 et Michael Madesker, RDP, qui termine son troisième mandat de quatre ans comme président de la Commission de la philatélie pour la jeunesse, depuis son élection en 1992. Quant aux expositions, le Canada a organisé six expositions universelles, dont cinq sous les auspices de la FIP : CAPEX en 1951, 1978, 1987 et 1996, et CANADA 1982 et 1992. L'exposition CAPEX 51 n'a pas reçu le parrainage de la FIP, car elle a eu lieu avant que le Canada n'y adhère. CANADA 1982 et 1992 furent les seules expositions philatéliques mondiales de la jeunesse tenues hors d'Europe jusqu'en 1996. Au niveau des grands prix, ce n'est guère plus brillant. Seulement deux Canadiens ont gagné le summum des expositions philatéliques, le Grand Prix. Tous deux ont gagné deux fois. Gerald Wellburn a obtenu le Grand Prix de l'exposition à CAPEX 51 et le Grand Prix national de CAPEX 87. Dans les deux cas, c'est sa collection de Colombie Britannique qui a remporté la palme. De son côté, c'est avec The Province of Canada : The Pence and Cents, 1851-1868, que Ron Brigham remportait le Grand Prix International à AUSTRALIA 99 et le Grand Prix d'Honneur (Champion du monde des timbres) à BELGICA 2001.

Qu'en est-il de l'avenir de la FIP et du rôle du Canada dans le nouveau millénaire? Les réponses manquent encore, mais je suis persuadé qu'on attend beaucoup de choses, alors que la FIP et La SRPC s'adaptent aux nouveaux défis. Sous la présidence actuelle de Knud Mohr du Danemark, la FIP veut permettre à plus de collectionneurs d'avoir accès aux expositions de niveau international. La SRPC appuie vivement cette décision. En fait, La SRPC et l'APS ont proposé au comité directeur de la FIP qu'il y ait une classe de cadre unique au niveau international. Je suis persuadé que la coopération entre la FIP et la SRPC ne cessera de s'accroître.

La FIP est à la recherche d'un nouveau logo qui puisse représenter avec plus de justesse la philatélie et l'aspect international de l'organisation en ce troisième millénaire. Les dessins professionnels, sur disquette ou sur papier, peuvent être présentés au président de La SRPC, B.P. 929, Succursale Q, Toronto, ON, M4T 2P1, au plus tard le 31 octobre 2001. ♣

WHAT SHOULD THIS LOGO MEAN TO YOU?

This logo is your assurance that a dealer has met the high standards of the Canadian Stamp Dealers' Association.

Our Members are bound by a strict Code of Ethics and, while we support and protect our members when they are in the right, we will do all that we can to assist collectors when our members are not.

Raoul Wallenberg:

Extraordinary Heroism

by John Peebles

Raoul Wallenberg was born in Stockholm, Sweden on August 4, 1912, just three months after his father's death. The Wallenberg family was comprised of prominent bankers, industrialists and diplomats. Raoul's grandfather, Gustav Wallenberg, assumed responsibility for Raoul's education.

The young Wallenberg was more interested in architecture and trade than in the family tradition of banking. After graduating from high school in 1930, army service followed. Then, in 1931, he went to the United States to study architecture at the University of Michigan. He graduated with honours in 1935. After his return to Sweden his grandfather sent him to South Africa where he worked for a Swedish firm that sold building materials. Six months later he moved to Haifa, in what is now Israel, for a new job at a Dutch bank office.

It was in Palestine that he met Jews that had escaped Nazi Germany. The Nazi persecutions affected Wallenberg deeply. Previously he had acquired an interest in the fate of the Jewish people at an early age from his mother. His mother was the great grandchild of a Jewish man by the name of Benedicks who arrived in Sweden at the end of the 18th century. He once served as a financial advisor to the kings of Sweden.

After his return to Sweden, Wallenberg began to work in an export-import firm run by Kalman Lauer, a Hungarian Jew. Wallenberg soon became a junior partner and foreign representative of the company. In June of 1944 Wallenberg, through Lauer, met Ivar Olsen from the War Refugee Board who noted that the only large group of European Jews still left alive in Europe was in Hungary. For it had not been until late in the war, on March 19, 1944, that Hitler invaded Hungary. Soon after that the deportation of Jews began. Someone was needed to go to Hungary to bargain for their lives. Wallenberg, worldly, educated, and fluent in several languages, was the obvious choice.

In July 1944 the Swedish Foreign Ministry sent Wallenberg on a rescue mission to Budapest as an attaché of the Swedish Embassy. After his arrival in Hungary, he gathered together a rescue staff at the Swedish Legation and declared 32 apartment buildings housing 20,000 Jews to be under the protection of the Swedish flag. In his capacity as a special Swedish diplomatic envoy, Wallenberg issued certificates of protection called a Schutz-Pass (dubbed the "Wallenberg passport") to tens of thousands of Jews to grant them some degree of immunity from the Nazis.

Through his fearless actions Wallenberg managed to save the lives of tens of thousands of Jews during the period from July 1944 to January 1945.

Then, what became of this selfless humanitarian?

HIS FATE

Raoul Wallenberg did not return to Sweden as a hero after the war. Rather he met an uncertain end.

On Jan. 17, 1945 the Russian Red Army reached the outskirts of Budapest. Wallenberg made a trip from the city by car in the company of a driver and two Russian officers to meet with Russian officials in the Russian controlled part of Budapest. Wallenberg never returned. He was believed to have been arrested on charges of espionage.

Finally, in 1957, in response to diplomatic pleas from various sources, the Soviet Union "officially" declared that Raoul Wallenberg "died of a heart attack in Moscow's Lubyanka prison on July 17, 1947 and his body was cremated."

However, Wallenberg's fate remains in doubt. A number of witnesses have claimed that Wallenberg was alive long after 1947. In fact, former Soviet prisoners have stated that Wallenberg was alive as late as the 1980s.

Many worldwide honours have been afforded Wallenberg. Numerous sculptures and monuments are found in world capitals. In Israel the Wallenberg Forest was planted in the Galilee. In Canada, as recently as March 15, 1998, a monument paying tribute to Wallenberg was officially unveiled in Montreal in Place de la Cathédrale.

POSTAL TRIBUTES

There have also been several postal tributes to Raoul Wallenberg. Although Wallenberg has never appeared on a Canadian stamp, a number of worldwide stamps have commemorated his humanitarianism. Israel was the first nation to honour Wallenberg postally. On June 7, 1983 that nation released a single commemorative (Figure 1, Scott #842) in his honour. The accompanying tab on the 14 shekel stamp makes use of a Proverb which reads: "BUT THE PATH OF THE JUST IS AS THE SHINING LIGHT..."

His native Sweden honoured him philatelically in 1987. On August 10 of that year Sweden released a booklet of six stamps on the theme "In the Service of Humanity." Portrayed on the stamps (Figure 2) were Wallenberg, Dag Hammarskjöld and Folke Bernadotte. The booklet pane contains two copies of each stamp. The official Bulletin from the Swedish Post Office described the stamp subjects as "three Swedes who risked their lives to help other people to survive."

The description of the Wallenberg stamp, Scott #1643, was given as follows: "Raoul Wallenberg is looking out from the stamp. Behind him on the left there are concentration camp internees marked for transport, and on the right people who have been saved. Wallenberg's work was tremendous in saving Jews at the end of the war. He himself disappeared in 1945 in the Russian zone in Budapest and met an uncertain fate."

Portrayed on the other two stamps are former UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and Folke Bernadotte, organizer of a Red Cross operation that saved thousands from Nazi death camps.

On the back of the stamp booklet are quotes (in Swedish) ascribed to each of the three humanitarians. A translation of the quote by Raoul Wallenberg, attributed to him in 1944, is as follows: "For me there was no other choice. I should never be able to return without knowing that I had done everything humanly possible in order to save as many unfortunate people as possible."

In 1988 several nations commemorated the 40th anniversary of the United Nations Declaration of Human Rights. Among these was the Caribbean island of Dominica which issued a single stamp and accompanying souvenir sheet. The $3 stamp (Figure 3, Scott #1134) featured the flag of Sweden and a portrait of Raoul Wallenberg in its design.

Not only is Wallenberg an honorary citizen of Canada but also of Israel (in 1986) and the United States. In 1981 President Ronald Reagan bestowed the honour on Wallenberg for his work with the War Refugee Board. Wallenberg thereby joined the likes of the Marquis de Lafayette (aide to General George Washington during the Revolutionary War) and Sir Winston Churchill, as honorary Americans.

The United States Postal Service (USPS) issued a 32-cent Wallenberg stamp (Figure 4, Scott #3135) on April 24, 1997. Congressman Tom Lantos (who along with his wife Annette were saved by Wallenberg in 1944) was largely responsible for the American commemorative. Said Lantos: "My wife and I owe our lives to Raoul Wallenberg – an authentic hero of the holocaust. In one of the tragic ironies of history, this man who saved tens of thousands disappeared into a Soviet Gulag. His deeds must never be forgotten. A commemorative stamp will help us remember." Lantos was born in Budapest and was 16 when Nazi Germany occupied Hungary.

A year later another postal tribute to Wallenberg, in the form of a rather large pictorial cancellation (Figure 5), was used in the U.S. The USPS cancel was sponsored by the Jewish Community Federation of Rochester, New York.

On the occasion of the 80th anniversary of his birth, Wallenberg appeared on an Hungarian stamp. The stamp (Figure 6, Scott #3352) was issued on July 30, 1992. An interesting inscription on the stamp reads "RAOUL WALLENBERG 1912-19__" acknowledging the ambiguity surrounding his death as the year of death is intentionally left incomplete.

In 1993 the South American nation of Guyana issued a sheetlet of nine stamps, listed as Scott #2680, on the theme "Humanitarians." Raoul Wallenberg appears on one of the stamps, in the company of such luminaries as Ghandi, Mother Teresa and Nelson Mandela.

The most recent Wallenberg stamp was issued late last year by Argentina. On November 21, 1998, the stamp shown in Figure 7 was released. The design features a drawing of Wallenberg on the right and the left side of the stamp is one of the famous Wallenberg passports (Schutz-Pass) – the document that saved so many lives.

The memory of Raoul Wallenberg lives on. As recently as 1996, a memorial to Raoul Wallenberg was unveiled in North York, Ontario. At the time, Canadian Foreign Affairs Minister Lloyd Axworthy said: "Canadians attach real importance to the extraordinary heroism of Mr. Wallenberg and the inspiration that it offers to champions of human rights who might despair over the huge obstacles they face."

Raoul Wallenberg – an honorary Canadian and a perfect symbol of what one person can do to make a difference in this world. ♣

Attending Exhibitions

by Simon de Burgh Codrington

Stamp collecting seems to be back in fashion, at least certainly with thieves. Over the last few months there have been a number of losses whilst attending shows both from collectors and from dealers. The saddest thing about some of the recent losses is not the money, but the fact that such rare material may have left the world of philately forever, or even have been destroyed.

Whilst collectors and dealers face slightly different problems there are a number of things you can do to prevent a possible loss.

As you leave home, just check that there is nothing on the outside of your bag(s) or on you that could provide a clue that you are carrying valuable stamps. Unless you have to go through customs, try not to tell anyone what you are carrying. If you have to check your baggage, especially nowadays that airlines are all becoming more difficult about hand baggage allowances, arrive with sufficient time to ensure that your baggage makes your flight and make sure that the bags are solid and locked.

When you are carrying your stock, or collection, take particular care when arriving and leaving the exhibition venue. This would mean not leaving your bags unattended at any time, preferably travel with a friend or partner so one of you can handle any paperwork and the other can just watch your material. If you need to take several trips to and from your vehicle, lock and alarm it between each trip unless one of you is with it.

If you are arriving or leaving on foot and have valuable material, it is worth organizing a limousine service, but if you need to catch a taxi or take public transport make sure that you keep your valuables with you at all times.

If you plan to drive to and from the show, try to plan your trip well so you don't get lost in an unknown town. Even if you can't remove all your material from the vehicle when you have to stop, always lock and alarm it, even if you are only stopping for a few seconds. Try and find a car parking space that is well lit and in a busy area, rather than by the shadows in the corner. If you are stopping for the night, try to remove whatever valuables you can from the vehicle even if it isn't everything.

Most shows provide good security, but this security is often only inside the actual halls the show is taking place in. This means that you can arrive and leave with no specific security watching out for you. Even when you are inside the show, don't let your guard down. At almost every show, in a major city, a dealer has something stolen. This is generally not the security's fault as they simply cannot check everyone coming in or out, but a simple result of the way many dealers display their stock and the trusting nature of our industry.

It seems that thieves are looking at our industry, because we make it easy for them.

It is time for all of us to be aware that there are people who want to steal what we have and we need to take much greater care going to or from a show. Finally, if you ever worried about security or think that you have special needs, talk to the show organizers. It is interesting that there have been more losses at U.S. domestic shows than at many of the major internationals, which often occur in countries with a far less secure atmosphere, as the international shows tend to focus not only on the show security but also arrival and departure security. ♣

RPSC member named World Champion

by Tony Shaman

Members of our Society will want to join in congratulating fellow member Ron Brigham on becoming the first Canadian to earn the Grand Prix d'Honneur at an international show. Mr. Brigham of Mississauga, Ontario, took the coveted award at BELGICA 2001. Venue for the FIP-sanctioned World Philatelic Exhibition was Brussels, Belgium, June 8-15, 2001.

"Ron's achievement is a great boost for Canadian philately," said President Charles Verge, FRPSC, who attended the awards banquet when the Brigham win was announced. "The win highlights, at the world level, the collecting of a fascinating country. I applaud the ability and tenacity of Mr. Brigham to put together a complex collection of the first stamps of a country not known recently to have a history of great classic stamp collections," he added.

To be eligible to compete in the Championship Class an exhibit must have earned a minimum of three Large Gold medals at international level competitions in three prior years.

The newest World Champion began to collect stamps at age nine when his parents gave him a stamp album. "That allowed me to spend some quality time with my father," says Brigham. It is now his intention to eventually form a comprehensive collection of Canadian material that will surpass any collection assembled in the last two decades.

Brigham's Pence and Cents exhibit that brought the first-ever Grand Prix d'Honneur to Canada is the first of a series of world-class exhibits that the award-winner has planned. "It contains virtually all the rarities of the Pence and Cents issues as well as outstanding postal history material that complement the off-cover items," says Verge.

In the 75-year history of the International Philatelic Federation (FIP) Ron is the only Canadian to have won the World Championship, and only the second Canadian to have qualified to compete in the prestigious event. The other outstanding philatelist to have achieved this level of competition is Richard K. Malott, of Ottawa.

The Brigham collection allows its owner to share Canada's philatelic heritage not only with collectors in Canada but with the collecting community worldwide.

"For me, making Canadian philately known throughout Canada and the world is a personal crusade," said Brigham. Ron is passionate about promoting our great hobby and, on behalf of the members of our Society, I want to extend congratulations on his singular achievement and best wishes for continued success at the pinnacle of competitive exhibiting. ♣

This column reports the results of philatelic and literature awards in national exhibitions in Canada and the awards won by Canadian owned exhibits and exhibits of Canadian material in international exhibitions. Results may be sent to: 309-540 Buckland Avenue, Kelowna, BC, V1Y 5Z4.

Cette chronique liste les résultats obtenus dans les expositions philatéliques et de littérature nationales ainsi que les résultats obtenus par les Canadiens ou les collections de matériel canadien dans les expositions internationales. Les résultats devraient être envoyés au 309-540 avenue Buckland, Kelowna, BC, V1Y 5Z4.

Jean Lapointe appointed to the Senate

Jean Lapointe nommé au Sénat by / par Tony Shaman

On June 13, 2001 Prime Minister Jean Chrétien announced that Her Excellency the Governor General summoned Jean Lapointe, OC, to the Senate. Mr. Lapointe is a life member of our Society.

A talented artist, the actor, singer, comedian, and raconteur, Jean Lapointe began his stage career as part of the duo Les Jérolas. The duo appeared on the famous Ed Sullivan Show and their act was also a smash hit at the Olympia in Paris, France.

In 1975, Lapointe launched his solo career that included stage performances, a record release, and appearances in two feature films. Since then, the innovative performer has created numerous characters in more than 15 new shows and an equal number of musical recordings.

Respected by theatre critics, and loved by his fans, Mr. Lapointe is an icon of Francophone culture. The tribute paid him at the 2000 Gala des Oliviers is an example of the esteem in which he is held by the public.

Concerned with social and community problems, the consummate entertainer is committed to the fight against alcoholism and other drug abuses across Quebec. The Jean Lapointe Foundation provides funds to more than 30 organizations working to rehabilitate drug addicts throughout the province.

In recognition of his many artistic achievements and his involvement in social causes, Mr. Lapointe was named an Officer of the Order of Canada in 1984. He has received the Commemorative Medal for the 125th Anniversary of the Confederation of Canada from the Governor General as well as honorary doctorates from two universities. Sadly, his second wife, Cécile passed away recently; his first wife died more than 10 years ago.

In addition to being a life member of our Society, the inveterate performer and social activist is also a member of the Stamp Advisory Committee of Canada Post Corporation.

Mr. Lapointe was born in 1935. ❁

Le 13 juin 2001, le premier ministre Jean Chrétien a annoncé la nomination, par Son Excellence la gouverneure générale, de Jean Lapointe, OC, au sénat. M. Lapointe est membre à vie de notre société.

Jean Lapointe, artiste de talent, acteur, chanteur, comique et raconteur a débuté sa carrière en tant que membre du duo Les Jérolas. Le duo s'est produit au célèbre Ed Sullivan Show et a fait un malheur à l'Olympia de Paris en France.

C'est en 1975, avec le lancement d'un disque, en se produisant sur scène et en jouant dans deux films que Lapointe a entrepris sa carrière solo. Cet artiste innovateur a depuis lors, créé plusieurs personnages pour plus d'une quinzaine de spectacles et a produit autant de disques.

Respecté des critiques et aimé de ses admirateurs, M. Lapointe est une figure marquante de la culture francophone. L'hommage qui lui a été rendu lors du Gala des Oliviers 2000, démontre l'estime que lui porte son public.

Préoccupé par les problèmes sociaux et communautaires, cet artiste accompli est engagé dans la lutte contre l'alcoolisme et l'usage de drogue au Québec. La fondation Jean Lapointe distribue des fonds, à travers toute la province, à plus de 30 organisations vouées à la réhabilitation des personnes souffrant de dépendance aux drogues.

En reconnaissance de ses nombreuses réalisations artistiques et de son implication dans des causes sociales, M. Lapointe a été nommé officier de l'Ordre du Canada en 1984. Il a reçu, du gouverneur général, la médaille commémorative du cent vingt-cinquième anniversaire de la commémoration de la confédération du Canada. Il a aussi reçu un doctorat honorifique de deux universités. Malheureusement, sa seconde femme, Cécile, est décédée dernièrement ; sa première femme est morte il y a plus de 10 ans.

En plus d'être membre à vie de la Société, cet infatigable artiste et activiste social est aussi membre du Comité consultatif de la Société canadienne des postes pour les timbres.

M. Lapointe est né en 1935. ❁

Pricing Stamps:

I get more questions about how to price stamps than anything else. Most collectors are aware that catalogues are in a variety of currencies- Scott in US$, Gibbons in pounds sterling. Unitrade or Darnell are Canadian catalogues. They quote prices in Canadian dollars. You can pick them up at any stamp store or public library.

A general rule is that good quality stamps sell, but to maximize your sales, pricing is important. Each stamp is different and will be priced differently, but some guidelines for those who have not done it before:

Very fine, never hinged (VFNH) Canada 75% Unitrade (or higher for scarce items)

Fine (F-VF) or hinged Canada 50% Unitrade cat. value (use modern hinged on mail)

Do not include damaged stamps

Nice foreign, either mint NH, or clean cancels- 75% of Scott pricing

Not so nice or hinged - 50% of Scott value.

WHAT'S HOT & WHAT'S NOT!

Top quality stamps - mint, never hinged (mnh) and well centred stamps - are very much in demand.

The page at right is an excellent example of stamps that sell.

It is nicely laid out and assembled, with clear notes. There are a variety of stamps and cancels. The date and location of cancels are visible. They are rated for quality (fine, very fine etc.). They are priced according to their catalogue value and condition, with features and defects noted.

Maximize your sales, by putting good quality material in the Circuit books. They take a lot of work to put together, so put make it worthwhile for those who are buying. Faulty and damaged stamps don't sell, unless they have high catalogue value and are priced based on condition (considering the faults)- for colour, or paper varieties, interesting cancels etc.

The Bulk Bags are part of the Circuits.

by/par Charles J.G. Verge

Last month's President's report was rather lengthy so this month's will be brief.

1 October is National Stamp Collecting Month and I encourage you to do something about it. Join your local club, speak at a school about your favourite hobby and/or convince a fellow collector to join The RPSC. There are many ways to celebrate this month. Just do it... and collect Canadian stamps.

2 We are now in the preparation cycle for our 74th Convention to be held March 22-24, 2002 in Edmonton, Alberta, at the Fantasyland Hotel of the West Edmonton Mall. It is not too early to think about making a reservation or filling out an entry form to exhibit. You will find the form elsewhere in The Canadian Philatelist. Have you thought of serving your Society? If so, it's time to submit a duly completed nomination form for Director of the Society. There are eight Directors to be elected in March.

3 Elsewhere in this issue is an article on Ron Brigham's World Stamp Champion win so I won't go in great detail here. Suffice it to say that as President, and on your behalf, I am pleased to congratulate him on this tremendous achievement. It is the first time a Canadian has managed to do it. Not only did he do it, he did it in the shortest time possible. The first time he qualified to compete.

4 If you hear rumours that another CAPEX is being discussed – believe them. There seems to be an interest to look into another World Philatelic Exhibition in Canada sometime in late 2004 or early 2005. All parties involved, The RPSC, Canada Post and the FIP have held preliminary discussions. It's not a fait-accompli and there is still a fair amount of work to be done before the idea becomes a reality.

5 I would like to congratulate President Peter McCann and the other members of the Board of the American Philatelic Society (APS) for their re-election or election to the APS Board. I would particularly like to convey The RPSC's best wishes for a successful two-year term to our own Director, Ann Triggler, and to RPSC members Janet Klug, and Nancy Zielinski-Clark. For many years now the APS and The RPSC have enjoyed an excellent relationship honed by many of Peter and my predecessors and other Board members of both organizations. In a few months, Peter and I will have the pleasure of announcing a joint project, in cooperation with Canada Post, to promote Canadian stamp collecting in the United States.

6 Another article in this issue celebrates the 75th Anniversary of the Fédération Internationale de Philatélie (FIP). The FIP is shedding its staid image and, amongst other things, is hard at work promoting collecting throughout the world, particularly in Africa and the Middle East. It has come a long way since its creation in 1926. Hopefully it will continue to grow and be relevant.

Le message du président dans le numéro précédent était assez long. Ce mois-ci je serai bref.

1 Le mois d'octobre est le Mois de la philatélie et je vous encourage à y participer activement. Devenez membre de votre club local, parlez à un groupe scolaire de votre hobby préféré et/ou convainquez un de vos collègues collectionneurs de se joindre à La SRPC. Il y a plusieurs façons de célébrer cet événement. Célébrez... et collectionnez les timbres canadiens.

2 Nous sommes dans la phase préparatoire de notre 74e Convention qui se tiendra au Fantasyland Hotel du West Edmonton Mall à Edmonton, Alberta, du 22 au 24 mars 2002. Il n'est jamais trop tôt pour faire votre réservation ou de compléter le formulaire d'inscription pour montrer votre collection en compétition. Le formulaire se retrouve ailleurs dans cette édition du Philatéliste canadien. Avez-vous pensé à être à la direction de votre Société. Il y a huit postes de directeurs à pourvoir en mars prochain. Complétez votre formulaire de nomination.

3 Dans les pages de cette revue on trouve un article sur le nouveau Champion du monde de philatélie, Ron Brigham. Comme Président, et en votre nom je lui présente nos plus sincères félicitations pour cette magnifique performance. C'est la première fois qu'un Canadien réussit le coup. Non seulement a-t-il gagné, mais il l'a fait dans le plus bref délai possible. La première fois qu'il était éligible.

4 Si vous avez entendu des rumeurs qu'il y a des discussions en cours pour un autre CAPEX. Il faut les croire. Il semble y avoir un intérêt pour une autre Exposition mondiale de philatélie au Canada tard en 2004 ou au début de 2005. Les groupes intéressés, La SRPC, Postes Canada et la FIP ont eu des discussions préliminaires sur le sujet. C'est loin d'être un fait-accompli et il y a encore beaucoup de travail à faire avant que l'idée devienne réalité.

5 J'aimerais offrir mes félicitations au Président Peter McCann et aux autres membres du Conseil de direction de l'American Philatelic Society (APS) pour leur réélection ou élection au Conseil de l'APS. J'aimerais particulièrement transmettre les meilleurs vœux de succès de La SRPC, pour leur terme d'office de deux ans, à notre Directeur, Ann Triggler et à nos membres Janet Klug et Nancy Zielinski-Clark. L'entente cordiale entre l'APS et La SRPC qui dure depuis plusieurs décennies a été conçue et maintenue par plusieurs de nos prédécesseurs comme Présidents et par les membres des Conseils de direction des deux organisations. Dans quelques mois, Peter et moi auront le plaisir d'annoncer un programme conjoint, en coopération avec Postes Canada, pour promouvoir la philatélie canadienne aux États-Unis.

6 Encore un autre article célèbre le 75e anniversaire de la Fédération Internationale de Philatélie (FIP). La FIP est en train de faire peau neuve. Elle travaille fort à développer l'idée de collectionner les timbres-poste particulièrement en Afrique et au Moyen-Orient. Elle a fait du chemin depuis sa fondation en 1926. Nous espérons qu'elle continuera à ce métamorphoser et à être un lien important dans la vie quotidienne de notre passe-temps.

7 Finally I would like to extend good luck on Vancouver's new National-level show, VANPEX, to be held October 27-28. Hopefully this will be the beginning of a long series of National shows in that city. After Ontario and Quebec, BC has the largest number of RPSC members. Many of them are great philatelists and I am sure that if you visit the show, there will be excellent exhibits on the floor to keep you entertained.

7 En dernier lieu, j'aimerais souhaiter bonne chance à la nouvelle exposition nationale de Vancouver, VANPEX, qui se tiendra les 27 et 28 octobre prochain. J'espère que cette exposition sera la première d'une longue série dans cette ville. Après l'Ontario et le Québec, la Colombie britannique compte le plus grand nombre de membres de La SRPC. Plusieurs d'entre eux sont de grands philatélistes et je suis assuré que si vous visitez l'exposition, vous y verrez d'excellentes collections en compétition.

Letters / Lettres

Dear Editor / Cher

Dear Editor:

Canadian Stamp News and similar papers and newsletters frequently contain excellent research on areas of interest to RPSC members. Unfortunately they have a short shelf life as newspapers do not store well, libraries keep the current year, and clippings are difficult to file. The work is gone and our hobby is the loser. I wish RPSC would revise its policy of not reprinting such material. It is a head in the sand problem. You want first dibs on the article but authors look at the relative audience and go for the largest. This turf war should cease. The hobby is the loser.

Ross Irwin
Guelph, Ontario

The RPSC policy on reprinting previously published material is flexible. See One Last Word on page 236 of this issue.

Dear Editor:

I am a collector, for the fun, joy, and useful leisure it gives me collecting Dead Postage Stamps, Old Bank Notes and Currency Coins. After an interval of some 16 years, I have resumed this hobby in full earnest.

When I went to the Canadian High Commission here in Accra, they gave me your address. I am therefore writing to ask you, very kindly, if you can send me some informative material about The Royal Canadian Philatelic Society of Canada.

Perhaps you can also link me up with some of your members who may be disposed to share ideas with me and even exchange stamps with me. Apart from Ghana, my present collection includes stamps from Switzerland, USA, Nigeria, Italy, Kenya, Denmark, Germany, Ethiopia, Malta, Britain, and one 37 cent stamp from Canada. I would like to have more from your country, of course.

Please kindly let me hear from you soon and I shall be profoundly grateful.

Yours faithfully,
Harry A. Marshall
Legon (Accra), Ghana

Dear Editor:

I want to let you know that the 150th anniversary copy is the finest and best I have ever seen and read – a great variety of articles, easy to read, and none too technical. I know that colour adds to the cost, but it makes for a fine copy. I am very proud of this, our publication.

Sincerely,
J. Don Wilson,
St. John's, Newfoundland

Dear Editor:

I write to thank you for your two wonderful articles, especially the Ingraham one in the May-June of The Canadian Philatelist. His story is a fascinating one and you have really captured the essence of what was one tough old guy.

I am a generation removed from his tenure, but always heard the Ingraham name when I worked "up north." It was really appropriate when Northern Transportation named a boat after him.

Jim, thanks for a couple of great articles. Thanks for some great memories rekindled!

Cheers,
Keith R. Spencer
Edmonton, Alberta

Dear Editor:

The article by James Kreamer on Vic Ingraham in The Canadian Philatelist, May/June 2001 issue was of great interest to me.

According to my notes, when I taught school at Port Radium, the mail was flown in during the 1950s from Edmonton on Eldorado planes. They had two DC-3s, (CF-DGJ and CF-GEI) and a Norseman (CF-BSB). In winter, the DC-3s could land on the ice on Labine Bay, coming in twice a week. In summer, they landed at Sawmill Bay on the south shore of the lake. Mail and passengers then boarded Eldorado's boat Great Bear.

The journey to Port Radium often took six hours, about the same time as the flight from Edmonton. The reason the mail came directly from Edmonton was because it would be addressed Port Radium, NWT, c/o P.O. Box 160, Edmonton, Alberta. This was the office address for Eldorado Mining and Refining Ltd. in Edmonton. Mail addressed to Port Radium, NWT and not to the box number was brought in about once a month by Canadian Pacific Airways.

During freeze-up and break-up, when there was too much ice for the boat and not thick enough for the planes to land, the Norseman would fly in from Yellowknife and air-drop a few bags of mail.

I trust this information may be of interest.

Yours Sincerely,
Unknown Author,
Canmore, Alberta

Dear Editor:

After reading the last issue of The Canadian Philatelist, I found your article "A Postmaster born for the North" very interesting.

I believe, that some of our German collectors of Canadian stamps would also be interested in reading this article.

I would like to ask you for permission to translate the article and to publish it in our "Canada-report."

The "Canada-report" is a report only for members of the "Arbeitsgemeinschaft (study group) USA/Canada" within the "Bund Deutscher Philatelisten" (German Philatelic Society). We have about 300 members in our group.

We would be very thankful if you can give us permission to reprint the article.

I hope to hear from your soon.

Sincerely yours,
Gerhard Stahl, Meensen, Germany

The RPSC is pleased to grant translations and reprint permission to Arbeitsgemeinschaft USA/Canada.

Exchanges Wanted / Demandes d'échange

Since The Royal Philatelic Society of Canada is the national society of philatelists in Canada, many requests for exchange partners are referred to us. As a service to our members, we are pleased to present these names, so that those who wish to do so can make overseas contacts. Please note that we have no way of checking the credentials of the individuals who write to us asking that their names be published; therefore, we urge that caution be taken when answering these requests.

La Société royale de philatélie du Canada ne s'occupe pas normalement des échanges entre philatélistes, mais comme elle est la société philatélique nationale du Canada, on lui transmet de nombreuses demandes de philatélistes désireux de trouver des correspondants pour échanger des timbres. Ainsi a-t-elle décidé, pour rendre service à ses membres, de publier les noms intéressés d'outrement, afin que ceux qui désirent établir des rapports avec eux puissent la faire. Je vous signale toutefois que nous ne savons rien des personnes qui nous demandent de publier leur nom, c'est pourquoi je vous conseille d'être prudent en répondant à ces demandes d'échange.

One Last Word / Un dernier mot

by / par Tony Shaman

To publish, or not to publish: that is the question. With apologies to Mr. Shakespeare, the question that needs to be asked is: should previously published articles be reprinted in The Canadian Philatelist?

The Society's current official position on magazine content states: "Only original articles will be considered." This policy has been in effect for many years. However, in looking over the editorial comments of some of our previous editors, one gets the impression that the stated policy is not cast in stone and exceptions to the rule could be permitted.

An editor's main responsibility is to edit copy and decide in which issue(s) to print a particular piece to provide the desired balance of articles. (It is also fair to say that cajoling readers to continue sending pieces for publication ranks right up there with editing copy.) The editor's job is not to formulate Society policy. That is the job of the Society's Board of Directors in consultation with its members.

Although the editor should have some input into Society policy dealing with editorial content, it is not his job to make policy. Interpret policy... yes. Make policy... no.

The Canadian Philatelist belongs to its members and they should be the ones to decide what they want to read in their magazine. For that reason, members must have the final say in what gets printed and if it is to include previously published material.

Professor Ross Irwin's letter, printed in the Letters to the Editor column in this issue, suggests that it is time for the Society to adopt a policy contrary to the one currently in effect. He lists some compelling reasons for making a change.

The old clichéd expression stating that there are two sides to every story certainly applies here. On the one hand, The Royal is a sufficiently large organization to generate enough new research material to fill the pages of our journal. On the other hand, the argument can be made that there are many other publications chock-full of first-rate philatelic information that would be useful to members of our society. But our readers may never see it unless it is reprinted in our journal. This is particularly true where the information appeared in some obscure or offshore publication to which members of our Society would not normally subscribe.

One compromise between the two extreme positions – that is, to have no restrictions whatsoever on the acceptance of previously published material, or absolute restrictions on anything that has been published elsewhere – would be to accept material that appeared in obscure journals. Another compromise might be to accept previously published material where, because of its philatelic merit, its refusal would constitute a clear disservice to our members.

These are merely suggestions. To give your Board of Directors some direction, I would solicit your opinions. I will gladly publish any letters on the topic in upcoming issues. Remember, it is your journal and you have some say in what should appear in print.

The year 2001 is noteworthy for several anniversaries. It is the United Nations' 50th birthday, an article commemorating Publier ou ne pas publier : voilà la question. Avec toutes les excuses dues à M. Shakespeare, la question qu'on doit se poser est celle-ci : devrait-on publier dans Le philatéliste canadien, des articles ayant déjà été publiés?

Présentement, la politique officielle de la Société sur le contenu de la revue est la suivante : " Seuls les articles originaux seront pris en considération ". Cette politique est en vigueur depuis nombre d'années. Toutefois en examinant les éditoriaux de certains de nos rédacteurs précédents on a l'impression que cette politique n'est pas coulée dans le roc et que des exceptions à la règle pourraient être permises.

La principale responsabilité du rédacteur est de réviser des manuscrits et de déterminer dans quel numéro paraîtra un article précis, afin qu'il y ait équilibre. Bien sûr, toucher une corde sensible chez nos lecteurs afin de les inciter à soumettre leurs écrits pour fin de publication va dans le droit fil de l'édition. Le travail du rédacteur n'est pas de concevoir les politiques de la Société. Cela revient au Comité de direction de la Société de concert avec ses membres.

Bien que le rédacteur doive apporter sa contribution à l'élaboration de la politique de la Société, quant au contenu éditorial, ce n'est pas à lui d'établir cette politique. L'interpréter, oui, l'établir, non.

Le philatéliste canadien appartient à ses membres, et c'est à eux de déterminer ce qu'ils veulent lire dans leur revue. C'est pourquoi les membres doivent avoir le dernier mot sur ce qui y sera publié, y compris sur les articles ayant déjà été publiés.

La lettre du professeur Ross Irwin, parue dans « Cher rédacteur » du présent numéro, suggère qu'il est temps que la Société adopte une politique différente de sa politique actuelle. Il énumère certaines raisons évidentes d'apporter ce changement.

Le vieux cliché selon lequel à toute histoire il y a deux versions, s'applique ici. D'un côté La Royale a assez d'envergure pour pouvoir produire suffisamment de nouveau matériel de recherche afin de combler les besoins de son journal ; d'un autre côté, il existe beaucoup de publications remplies à craquer d'informations philatéliques de premier ordre, qui seraient utiles aux membres de notre société. Mais nos lecteurs pourraient ne jamais en voir la couleur si ces articles n'étaient pas réédités. Cela est surtout vrai lorsque ces informations sont publiées dans une revue peu connue ou non conventionnelle, à laquelle les membres de notre société ne sont sans doute pas abonnés.

Un compromis entre deux positions extrêmes – n'avoir aucune restriction quant à l'acceptation de matériel ayant déjà été publié, ou une restriction absolue sur tout ce qui a été publié ailleurs – serait de publier des articles venant de journaux peu connus. Un autre compromis pourrait être d'accepter du matériel ayant déjà été publié quand, à cause de sa valeur philatélique, nous priverions nos membres, en refusant de les publier.

Ce ne sont que des suggestions. Afin de guider le comité de direction, j'aimerais connaître votre opinion. Je serai heureux de publier toute lettre sur ce sujet dans les numéros à venir. Rappelez-vous ; c'est votre journal et vous avez votre mot à dire sur ce qui y est publié !

Il y a plusieurs anniversaires à signaler en 2001. Le cinquantième anniversaire des Nations Unies sera souligné dans notre the occasion will appear in the next issue. The International Philatelic Federation, FIP, is also celebrating a milestone in 2001: its 75th anniversary. Our historian, Charles Verge, sheds some much needed light on an organization that so directly affects our hobby, yet many of us know so little about.

Murray Heifetz, a Fellow of the Society, clears up another little understood topic: O.A.T. markings. His piece is entitled O.A.T. Markings and the Canadian Connection.

Thematic collecting perhaps does not receive the coverage it deserves in our journal. However, John Peebles' treatment of the Raoul Wallenberg story will go some way toward remedying this previously neglected topic.

John Monteiro provides an update of the latest available information pertaining to major errors on modern Canadian issues.

If you would like to see greater coverage of a topic that has been long neglected, or one you would like to share with fellow readers, please drop me a line and more than likely we can work out the details. ♣ prochain numéro. La Fédération internationale de philatélie, la FIP, célèbre aussi un événement marquant : son soixante-quinzième anniversaire! Notre historien, Charles Verge nous éclaire sur cette organisation directement liée à notre passe-temps et que, cependant, beaucoup d'entre nous connaissent très peu.

Murray Heifetz, un membre de la Société, fait la lumière sur un autre sujet : les oblitérations OAT. Son document est intitulé "OAT markings and the Canadian Connection" (Les oblitérations OAT et leur lien avec le Canada).

Les collections thématiques n'ont peut-être pas la place qui leur revient dans notre journal. Toutefois, le récit de l'histoire de Raoul Wallenberg, par John Peebles palliera cette négligence passée. John Monteiro fait une mise à jour des dernières informations se rapportant aux principales erreurs trouvées dans les émissions canadiennes modernes.

Si vous désirez une plus grande couverture de certains sujets longtemps négligés, ou de sujets que vous aimeriez partager avec les lecteurs, glissez-m'en un mot et nous y veillerons. ♣
